Hart House, University of Toronto

To the Members of the Graduating Class :

HOSE who leave the University of Toronto at the close of the current academic year will face a world which is laboriously and painfully adjusting itself to the terrible confusion into which it was thrown by the practically universal war. In the past, wars have been more or less local. The recent war left no portion of the earth untouched, but undoubtedly there was a magnificent display of self-sacrifice much of which is imperishable in its results. We assumed too easily that a new spirit would be created by the war with permanent effects for good in the life of the world. We find, however, that evil also has been let loose. Parts of Europe are in a condition of indescribable suffering; hatred is ablaze. The nations seem to be each so aggressive on its own behalf that statesmen are warning the world that the situation cannot be remedied unless they cease to live to themselves alone and work for the common good.

What is true of reconstruction in the larger international field is true also in domestic affairs. Unfortunately at home men and women have forgotten that there was suffering in the past, and they ignore the present, going to shameless excesses. If wantonness continues to run riot, sections of the people will be goaded into fury. What can graduates of the University do for reconstruction? The primary essential is that they should adopt for themselves the principles laid down by the European statesmen for the nations, not to live solitary and apart but to devote themselves to the common good. Our social troubles will not be solved finally by legislation. Legislation must be directed and organized by wise, broad-minded and sympathetic men and women. What we most need for reconstruction is a widespread, intelligent and kindly interest in others. If this spirit can spread over the country the result will be as when a spring-wind sweeps over the dark ground of winter; the dull and soggy earth would be clad with verdure and flowers begin to smile.

If the academic person is to be successful in reconstruction he cannot approach the world with his pet theories and nostrums. He must have learned first to observe the facts faithfully. Moreover, the world does not believe too much in academic people. It is suspicious of "high-brows"—but it is never long suspicious of kindly wisdom. Now wisdom is acquired slowly. It is the fruit of experience, yet experience often does not bring it. But surely the university training has given suggestions as to the age-long methods by which wisdom comes. One function of education is to produce the understanding mind, and wisdom follows on understanding.

Those who hold an academic degree should have learned something of the necessity of weighing the facts before coming to a judgment, realising that there are two sides to a question, and should have some understanding of the obligation that rests upon members of society who have been benefited at the public expense to fulfil their duty in part by giving self-sacrificing service for the good of the community. If these principles and convictions take hold upon our graduates, they will soon become beneficent agents in Human Reconstruction.

My best wishes go with the graduating years for their highest and most enduring success.

Feb. 14th, 1920.

Valedictory

BY WOOLF COHEN

Years have passed since we dreamt of all that the University might mean to us. Now, at our leave-taking, we may attempt to compare our dreams with their realization. But only in the future shall we be able, with proper perspective, to realize and measure the moral and tangible benefits of our scholastic life.

We dreamt of whole-hearted intimates and generous emulation in lecture-room and playing-field and debating-chamber. Some of these friends-in-reality leave now with us. Others left but did not return. Their memory, however, shall remain to us imperishable. We dreamt, too, of high intellectual endeavour, and of pursuing truth for its own sake. Our reward has been ample only in those rare and beautiful moments when we have felt the thrill of mastering some difficulty. We dreamt, also, of being saturated with the spirit of free inquiry and of being guided throughout life by the lofty traditions and ideals of our University. Alma Mater! the predecessors of class '20 have evidenced too much worth for us to lack such guidance.

Our dreams and our education would be futile, however, were they not directed toward the great works that face us to-day.

Society, the nation, and the world, are confronted with formidable problems and epoch-making changes. It is our privilege and duty to labour in their solution and readjustment.

No thoughtful student can contemplate the tremendous sacrifices, spiritual and material, of the past five years, without examining anew the international bond which brought them about. Nor can she or he fail to be impressed with the diversity of language, religion and culture of our country without asking some heart-searching questions on Canadian nationality viewed as an internal problem. Finally, and not least important, the underlying strife in the economic sphere, regarded as promise by some and as menace by others, brings inevitably infinite reactions in the community whose welfare should be our first concern as coming citizens.

Can the efforts of this citizenship, of which we are a part, issue in a more merciful and still loftier standard of international ethics? Will there be a broader and more tolerant outlook on national affairs? Is there to prevail a finer and more delicate social sympathy?

Torontonensis, 1920

"After me cometh a Builder. Tell him I, too, have known."

—KIPLING

The twenty-second volume of TORONTONENSIS issues forth to take its place beside the records of the years that have passed, to stand for the members of the graduating class as a starting point for the achievements of the years to be, as a reminder of the successes of the years that have been. Within its pages in picture, biography and story is the history of Class '20. Underlying that history, interwoven in its structure, showing in bold relief at one point, hidden by many words at another, there appears somewhat of that spirit that actuated the members of 2T0. Too soon the individual graduates will part from their Alma Mater by many and varied routes; too soon the fleeting years will serve to dull the memories that each shall hold most dear. But for all there will remain one link that must serve as the bond between the Yesterday and the To-morrow—this, the twenty-second volume of TORONTONENSIS, the history of Class '20.

The theme of the present volume is fully expressed and yet concisely summarized in the word "Reconstruction" which occupies such prominent position in the frontispiece. It is developed and emphasized by the contributors to this edition of the year book and many excellent lessons are pointed. It is wholly unnecessary to dwell upon the need for the earnest consideration by University men and women of so vital a problem. The great task which presents itself to all is the outworking of character and ability along such lines as will enable the individual to make the best possible contribution to the work of rebuilding the social structure. The best is none too good, and though this may sound trite, it is, nevertheless, true. The tasks undertaken, the labour expended, the works accomplished, must form a positive contribution to the foundation of a stable order. Our energies must be so bent, our achievements must be so labelled, that those who follow may gather inspiration from our example and strength to persevere, secure in the knowledge that we, their predecessors, did not fail and that indeed, "we, too, have known."

The successful publication of TORONTONENSIS, 1920, was made possible by the united effort and untiring energy of a splendid board of workers. In any work where the name of one person is more or less publicly associated with the production, there is a very natural tendency in the minds of the majority to give more than a just meed of praise to that individual. The Editor deems it particularly desirable, therefore, that the labours of the members of the TORONTONENSIS Board should be appreciated by the graduates of '20, and wishes to take this opportunity of expressing his thanks to them for their loyal support and faithful service in making the year book so worthy a volume. A special word of praise is due to Miss Vera Crossley of St. Hilda's College and Mr. M. H. Mitchell of Applied Science for their combined efforts in producing the cover design. (The final drawing was prepared by Mr. Mitchell.)

The delay in printing and issue of TORONTONENSIS, 1920, was occasioned by circumstances over which those actually connected with publication had no control. The present shortage of paper is a matter of general knowledge. The fact that TORONTONENSIS is printed upon a paper of special quality added to the difficulties of those concerned. But, true to accepted standard, even though at increased expense and loss of time, the volume appears this year marked by the same fine quality in material and workmanship.

On behalf of the TORONTONENSIS Board, the Editor submits to the graduates this twenty-second volume of TORONTONENSIS, craving the usual indulgence for those minor errors which, however great the care be to avoid them, seem bound to occur. The labour expended has been great, but the pleasure in achievement shared by all members of the Board has been ample compensation. It is hoped that the members of 2T0 will gain a pleasure, similar in kind, in the perusal and contemplation of these pages.

Convocation Hall

To the Graduating Class of University College

BY

PRINCIPAL HUTTON

The class of 1920, will graduate, according at least to present appearances at the close of an academic year, which will have been the worst year experienced by the civilized world, but one of the best years of the University.

The class of 1919 saw the end of the Great War and the Victory of the Allies in its Autumn term and all the confusion which followed could not obliterate or efface that great triumph.

But the class of 1920 has seen in its closing year only confusion worse confounded in the world; confusion so great that even the final signature of the Treaty of Peace in January 1920 seems—wanting American signature—only half a Peace and the other half a mockery.

But conversely the class of 1920 has seen for this University and its students one of their greatest benefits, the opening of Hart House, as a Student Union.

No one who remembers old Moss Hall, and after it the old Gymnasium, and after it the Students' Union in the second house of the old Residence will dispute the enormous stride made by the University of Toronto and in the interests of its students, by means of the munificence of the Massey family and the building by them of Hart House.

The Oxford and Cambridge "Unions" used to seem palatial by the side of our provision for student reading rooms and debating rooms and a general purpose library, but Hart House outshines the Oxford and Cambridge Unions as much in its practical comforts, in its gymnasia, swimming pool, theatre, dining hall and other rooms, as it outshines them in its architectural beauty.

The class of 1920 will have nothing to regret if it lives up to these advantages, unless it be that it will not see the final and crowning addition to the attractions of Hart House in the bell tower and chimneys to be added in memory of the students who fought and the students who fell in the Great War. But even so it will have seen a better year for students than any class since the great year when University College, or the main building as it is often called, was first erected.

The effects of great architecture on the minds of those who live and move and have their being in its perpetual presence and benediction are debatable; since they vary with the individual's temperament and susceptibility; but no student, still less any large body of students, can be wholly unaffected by, unconscious of, indifferent to, improvements so manifest and so large in the outer or physical accompaniments of their University life.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

GRACE ADAMS.

"A sweet, attractive kind of grace."

Many a kind thought needs must be Felt for Grace at Varsity.
Four long years from Fall till May
She did work and she did play—
Not too much of work or fun,
And a smile for everyone.
What her future?—Who can guess?
But we wish her all success.

KATHLEEN MARY ASMAN.

"He that hath knowledge spareth his words"

Matriculated from Bishop Strachan School in 1906 with Governor-General's medal for General Proficiency, Edward Blake Scholarship in Modern Languages. 1917, George Brown Scholarship 1918, Vice-President Anglican Club 1918.

"A friend in all your friendships true,
What more can or need we say of you?"

ANAH M. BALDWIN.

Myself when young did eagerly frequent
Lecture and group, and heard great argument
About Pitt and Voltaire, but evermore
Came out by the same door as in I went.
And did with "Profs" the seed of wisdom sow.
While from my fingertips essays did flow,
And this was all the harvest that I reaped—
I came without and with a "B.A." go.

PETER M. BALLANTYNE.

"I mean to action, Let of social grace"

Bal. came to us from Chatham to enter '19
P. & B. Became vice-president in his second year, also won his colors at rugby. After returning from France, he was elected this year's president. He is one of the "Pillars" of Hart House, and as for a fusser—well, rather.

GERTRUDE A. BEASLEY.

"Our 'Mona Lisa'."

Quiet, placid, and contented, she draws the stranger with her mysterious candor, charms her friends with her gentle soul and noble heart, and captivates all with her lofty ideals and wilful mind. "Gertrude" belongs to Toronto.
She came from Riverdale to win more honours and popularity, soon revealed great fondness for Modern Languages and Literature, and her zeal for knowledge led her to many lectures not prescribed in the calendar.

JOHN K. BELL.

"Student, Athlete, Gentleman, Aye, every inch a man."

"Ken" has soft spots in his heart for Collingwood, London and Kamloops. Entered 119, P. & B. but lost a year learning a little "Fairy" vout. Returning to 218, he won his T at basketball and now is captain of the intercollegiate team. President of East House and Year Secretary. He loves the ladies!

GEORGE S. BERE.

"My wealth is health and perfect ease."

London, Ont., awoke Nov. 29, 1896, to acclaim George as a new citizen. London Collegiate prepared him for Varsity, where "commerce and finance" offered the least resistance to social activities. Frequently "stag," his chief stamping ground is Columbus Hall.

ERNEST C. BOGART.

"I earnest as ever a man could be."

In 1915, he secured his honour matric, and for two years was engaged as director of youthful minds in a rural school. Then he entered Varsity for one year as a fresh Soph.
and at the end of the year joined the O.T.C., whence he was sent on a trip to Scherra with a special draft. With best wishes to a true and able friend.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

MARY R. BREBNER.

You never had untidy hair, not a short-waist anything on I;
 Your gloves you never seemed to tear, and your hair was not spoiled;
 Your self-control was good to see, you upheld
 the family fame;
 In spite of these perfections, we loved you just the same

REUBEN H. BRESLIN.

"Rule" first met his parents in Toronto,
 P.M. Seven diplomas and nine schools testify to keen search for knowledge. Matriculated with honours, '16. Transferred activities to B & P Course. Sec. Treas. and Fourth Year
 Councillor Bud. Club. Now a firm believer of the old maxim, "If work interferes with pleasure, cut out work." Objective, Medicine.

HAROLD A. C. BREULS.

"Rule" is a great deal of duty,
 comes to you, and health, team,
 Born Holland Landing, July 8, 1894. Hal matriculated at Newmarket High School.
 Entered Arts IT8. Played rugby with Junior Arts and University O S Co. Mulock Cup champions. Coach Varsity III's, 1919. Saw service as Lieutenant, O.T.C., and in France as Lieutenant, R.G.A. Political Science Course.

JESSIE B. BRODIE.

Having passed through Pickering College and Newmarket High School, Jessie came to Varsity. Here she joined an enterprising band, who for four years now have been working out problems of bacteriology, biochemistry and dietetics. She has shown her interest in all college affairs by working on numerous committees, being especially interested in the work of the Y.W. Large capacity, combined with infinite common sense, will make her a forceful personality wherever she may be.

CLARENCE E. CALE.

"He has a heart and brains too."
 Collided with earth Sept. 29, 1894, at Toronto.
 Educated Jarvis C. L. Attended U. of T.
 '12-'15. Enlisted Varsity Battery; travelled on the Continent '16-'19. Species Homo Mathematicus; variety Bernardus Shavicus, Author of "Epsilon" and other poems. Arts
 U.C.

JEAN A. CARSWELL.

"A daughter of the south,
 Daintily tall and most daintily fun."
 Jean, a daughter of the Manse, was born in Carleton Place, Ont. She moved to Ontario in her youth and matriculated at Seaford Collegiate. While teaching, she obtained her Specialist in Physical Training, and also became a pioneer in the Teachers' Course in Arts. Her work is a proof of its worth.

VIVIEN E. CHALMERS.

"If I love you,
 What business is that of yours?"
 A smile contagious, a ready wit,
 The power to lead, and ne'er tired a bit;
 Ready for dancing, ready for fun,
 Ready for anything under the sun.

JEAN CHRISTIE.

"The things are few
 She would not do
 In friendship's name."
 "No. 4" Queen's Park surely misses fun-loving "Chris." This year, nevertheless, Queen's Hall considers her an authority on hockey and theatres (not to mention lectures). Her sentence on all executives was ever generous. Hamilton will gladly welcome again such a good sport and true friend.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

WOOLF COHEN.

*"How happy is he born or taught
That scoffeth not another's fall;
Whose armour is his honest thought,
And simple truth his highest skill."*

ROY R. CONNER.

"Smile and the world smiles with you."

In the year 1896 Roy arrived in Mount Forest, safe and sound. The High School of his native town declared him ready for Varsity in 1914. Philosophy, prairie mission-fields and volley-ball have occupied most of his time since then. "Jake" never missed a chance to laugh.

GLADYS CORLESS.

"You ask me, why, 'thou' art all at ease, Within this region I inhabit."

Thus says our "Alge," who came from Coniston to enter English and History '10. However, her preceding year in Household Science probably fortified her, for she has shown that an earnest seeker after knowledge may also be a musician and a devotee of the social arts.

KATHLEEN COSGROVE.

"Thou art too ethereal, faith, thou art too ethereal and too sweet."

Kay started to talk in Stratford and hasn't stopped yet. Early in life she migrated to Carolina, where she amassed much of the Southern sunshine, bringing it to Varsity with her in '16, and entering whole-heartedly into dramatics, dancing, and work.

Born in London, England, 1896, came to Canada in 1907. He has been an enthusiastic student in C. & F. since 1916, and in the quest of knowledge has also taken lectures in Pol. Sc. since 1919. President of the Intercollegiate Club 1919-20.

ETHEL G. COURTINAGE.

*"Faith, 'twas coal black hair she had
And dark brown eyes."*

Ere thou this maid hast learned to know,
Take care lest, judging, thou shouldst err.
Her ways are not thy ways; in her—
(Else have I erred)—for friends there grow
Like pearls, rare thought,—gems, deep below.

KATE CRAY.

"If woman's not to her friend which she never lets rust."

A true friend, a just enemy. Her administrative powers made her head of Queen's Hall. Her keen observation and shrewd judgment have made her a respected critic. Her animated notes, eloquent silences, and a certain raciness in speech keep her table popular and her friends near. But her own self makes her beloved.

JOHN CULHAM.

"Government of the people, for the people and by the people."

Born in Township of Vaughan, York County. Attended public school at Burlington, but left for farm and business. Later attended Varsity in Honour Philosophy. The Great War found him in his third year. Enlisted in 1915. France, February, 1916. Returned May, 1919.

RICHARD E. G. DAVIS.

"I tender heart, a will inflexible."

Like the Prince of Wales, Dick has been shaking hands and smiling his way through life since 1894. From Oakwood he entered U. C. with 116, spent the war years running the Y.M.C.A. at London, Ontario, and graduates from English and History, and the Vice-Presidency of the Historical Society. Dick appreciates beauty, particularly in its Western varieties, likes an evening now and then at bridge, and is strong for the community ideal of citizenship.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

HENRY DOWNER

Born at Labontaine, Ont., Jan. 14, 1891. Matriculated from Midland High School, '18. Entered Class '15, U. C., allying himself with those devotees of Science who grace the C. & M. course. Has had a chequered career, punctuated by a sojourn in France, where he became intimately acquainted with the cretaceous formation of that land.

NORAH ELLIOTT

Entering at Trinity full of "Moderns" and pep,
In athletics and dancing Norah kept step,
Won her "T", first-class honours, and head
Of her Year,

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

EDMUND A. FINES.

*"I'll tackle anything once,
If I like it, I'll try it again."*

It was on May 9th, 1898, that Edmund made his first appearance before the public. Matriculated at Sherburne. Went to Orangeville to complete honour work. His zeal to learn the "science of numbers" and the "order of things" brought him to Varsity, where he pursued the study of Math. and Phys. He modestly expects to eclipse the fame of Faraday—all in due time?

MARY I. J. FORD.

*"May wants but little love below,
But he wants that smile long."*

Four years ago Inez came meekly to our doors after spending some time at Oakville High School and Parkdale Collegiate Institute. She has since worked her way through the mysteries of Household Science and is now prepared to start housekeeping on "38 cents per day."

HELEN R. FRASER.

"Unapproachable by weak or base, Yet closer to weak, but not to base."

Childhood's mid-pies in New Glasgow, N.S., inspired Helen to enter Household Science, but stern realities and lack of time drove her into General Activities—Varied.

Interests—Many.

Friends—Innumerable.

GEORGE A. L. GIBSON.

*"There is no time for the gay,
For a student's time is not his own."*

In April, 1905, Alex. began life with a smile that soon became a habit. He entered U. C. from Harbord Collegiate with 176 and early developed a taste for dancing and an aversion to History essays. The war spoiled his dream of making the Rugby team and of graduating with his own class. It has also delayed somewhat his career as a successful business man; but Alex. never complains.

HELEN I. GLAISTER.

"The deep of night has crept upon our talk."

From Stratford and Riverdale Collegiates Helen strolled into U. of T. Spent three years wading knee-deep in Labs. of Household Science, then sought refuge in General. In the meantime she has kept up her proficiency as a disciple of terpsichore and—in studying the stars.

SAMUEL GOODMAN.

*"Lectures be damned!
I'll have my sleep."*

Wingham, Ontario, became aware of Sam's presence on August 19, 1899. Sam soon proved that Wingham was too small for him and he came to Toronto. He matriculated from Parkdale C. I. in 1916 and entered Varsity. In '19 cleaned up 115-pound boxing championship. His next conquest will be Osgoode Hall.

LILIAN GRAY.

"I may be young, but I have old ideas."

To add the finishing touch to her already versatile education acquired in Toronto, Lilian entered U. C. in the autumn of 1916 and still answers the roll call of '20. She was prominent on the executive in 1917-18, and during her course has made many warm and lasting friendships.

J. BRUCE GRIFFITH.

"Cheers!"

"Bud" made his debut in the "Ambitious City" in 1894; matriculated from Hamilton Collegiate and entered the Class of 177 at Vic. He left college to chauffeur a tank, and on his return came to the Class of 210 U. C. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi Fraternity.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

JOHN L. GROGAN.

*I tried to reform it in the name of mine,
Honest to good, I did.*
—SEWYER

1908 was the date of "Jack's" first appearance on this planet. After attending Humbly Grove C. I. he became a disciple of Mayor, second year, in 1917. He served the King in the Tank Corps from 1918; returned to lectures and Canadian girls, in time to graduate with 1920.

RICHARD C. GUEST.

*Leave it in a trough, I can't fit in a tree
Are lost on ladders that can't climb*

Born near London, April 7, 1897. Matriculated at London Collegiate, 1914. Two years at Western University. Scholarship in First Year Honour Mathematics. On return from overseas entered M. and P. at Varsity, February, 1919.

JEAN HAMILTON.

Fun loving, carefree and tough a head Flicker

She tumbled in Victoria, B.C., in 1898, and kept right on toddling through various schools, hesitating at St. Hilda's for two years. The adage, "A change is as good as a rest," again moved her, this time to U.C. Religious persuasion: "All praise to the man who invented sleep."

FRED C. HASTINGS.

That one who laugh and sing and to a dim

Nicknamed Sambo because of ability to entertain others, he has brought a combination of humour and persistent effort to bear on his studies at Varsity. A self-appointed woman-hater, Fred is a frequent visitor at "The Union" (Torontoensis meetings), and once got "in wrong" for throwing jam. A pal of the famous Mose, he is at home on the platform, in the pulpit, in the Varsity Office, or "by the light of the moon."

WILLIAM I. HESSON.

I want my friends to get me drunk more & more

Jack's winnings commenced in Stratford, Ont., but shortly after he came to the Sox, he matriculated in '23. Varsity first year in '25. Among other hobbies are musical comedies, dancing, and the old game. Each gets a parcel of "M's" four in a row. Future likely the line of great literary thought.

AUDREY A. HEWITT.

I mean, surely, and can't be half, but my sufficiency is

To Toronto is due the full credit of producing and educating Audrey. She came direct from Bradbourn Hall to University College and has been a very creditable member of the Class of '25. Talking in her second year the office of Vice-President.

HELEN D. HOWELL.

Not religious

Doris began her career of neatness in Welland, Ontario, continuing it through Public and High School there. A year at Bishop Strachan School served only to enhance this characteristic, which has remained with her (unfading) dirt throughout her four years in Physiology and Biochemistry witness, her notes, and her election to the Residence House Committee.

OSMAN A. HUTTON.

Education is the pathway to success

Began his eventful career in St. Mary's, Ont., Nov. 20th, 1897. Matriculated with honours from St. Mary's C. I., and entered the Chemistry course in '26. Obtained the First Year Scholarship in Science. Secretary East Residence, with which he has always been connected. Has a noticeable weakness for dancing, tennis, and labs? His keen interest in Chemistry predicts a very successful future.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

WILFRED J. IRWIN

"Shh! Keep it dark!"

Fred favoured P. and B., 1T9, with Honour Matriculation from Markham High School. He now graduates from Third Year, 2T1, by virtue of two years' service as Flight Lieutenant, R.N.A.S., where he was recommended for the D.S.C. He played Mulock Cup Final in 1916, and has twice served on Class Executives.

CLARE A. JONES.

"Had me discourse, I will enchant thee out."

Born in "God's West," Clare received his early education at Columbian College, arriving as a neophyte at Toronto in fourteen. After two years of burning genius, he left scholastic activities for those of the Flying Corps, returning to his Alma Mater in eighteen. High though he flew in ships of the air, his social and academic flights suffer not one whit in comparison.

MARGARET C. KELLAM.

"Serene and resourceful and still And calm and self-possessed"

Margaret came from Niagara Falls to enter Moderns, U. C. '21. In her sophomore year, her sane and legal mind found a more attractive diversion from the serious occupation of enjoying life, in the sciences political. Her future is in her own hands whose letter?

HELEN C. KIRKWOOD.

If I have shown a serious face
For any time, in any place,
If I have not seemed to do,
What busy people asked me to,
If I have ever failed to write
Three essays on the final night;
Or, even in crises elemental,
Descended to the sentimental;
Authorities, it's not too late—
Refuse me leave to graduate

EDITH M. LAMBERT.

Sing a song of Edith,
A heart that's full of mirth;
A mind for speculation
On everything on earth;
A love for northern woodlands;
Deep-rooted self-distrust;
A faculty for making friends—
What have the fates in trust?

MARGARET LAWRENCE.

"Of all those arts in which the wise excel, Nature's chief masterpiece is writing well."

Best characterized briefly by her keen devotion to three things: Ireland—her politics, poetry and prose; the progress of the Woman's Movement; and lastly, the "Lit." A practical idealist, who criticizes and aims at construction, and the possessor of a genius for friendship.

FRANCIS G. LIGHTBOURN.

*"Is it for this you gain those moose legs
And sacrifice your dinner to your body?"*

Born in Toronto, 1896, "Jim" attended St. Andrew's College. Entered Philosophy 1914. After three years in the "Gummers," he returns to complete his course. Propriety in all things, a sense of humour at all times, and the society of the fair when possible, round out Jim's philosophy of life.

GEORGE H. W. LUCAS.

*"Be upon this quiet life
I want work"*

Born at Parkhill, Ont., August 25, 1895. Matriculated at Melbourne C. S. 1914. Attended the London C. L. '14-'16, winning in '16 the Carter, Edward Blake, Sommerville and Burnside Scholarships, and in '17 an Alexander T. Fulton Scholarship. President of the Arts Chemical Society, '19.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

ROBERT D. MACAULAY.

"I know it pretty."

Born in Canada, appeared first in Belleville papers November 9th, 1898. A Dawson City publication announced his arrival there late. Toronto-dailies claimed U. F. C. harboured him for a time. Since matriculation the Varsity has borne evidence of his popularity, especially among the ladies. He deserves success at Osgoode. Let no editor blur his name. Class Executive '16, Class President '17, Executive '18, Arts Degree Committee '19.

He is a member of Beta Theta Pi Fraternity.

ELLIOT D. MACINNES.

"Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers."

Had from Southampton. Entered Honour Science '14. After learning how to put the screws in corking, returned to Eng. in Chemistry with 2D. Hobbes' Chess, bag pipes and yac'matin game.

To business strictly he attends,
The very best of all friends,
But college shines are his delight,
Where you will find him many a night.

ROBERT A. MACKAY.

"I know not what I shall do, but I will do it."

Jack commenced the struggle for existence back in 1894 on the farm near Woodville, Ont., where he acquired his industrious habits. Entered U. C. in 1913, but threw away his books in January, 1916, and successfully dodged shrapnel and the sergeant-major's mace with the 43rd Battery. Back in camp Bert may be depended on "to get there."

WINIFRED H. MACLELLAN.

"I know I can't do it, but I'll try to be the best I can."

Alighting at Victoria, B. C., Winifred wended her way to High School at Danbury, Conn., tasted of music at New York, and finally ended her flight at Varsity, a welcome member of Eng. and Hist. 2B. The college activities of this daughter of the muse have been the Musical Association, the Literary Executive and the forming of warm friendships.

JACOB MARKUS.

"I know I can't do it, but I'll try to be the best I can."

His stork brought "Jake" into the city at Bradford, England, on November 3th, 1897. He came to Canada in 1904. Attended Kent Public School and matriculated from Oakwood in 1910. He is far-famed as a treasurer or money-getter for clubs and societies. He is destined some day to be a financier if the "Law" does not claim him.

GILBERT S. MARTIN.

"The last is yet to come."

St. Mary's was the scene of Gil's first activities. He matriculated at London U. and came to Toronto in the hope of slaking his thirst for mathematics. Hobby: music. Ambition: usefulness.

IRENE McL. MAW.

"Intellect is perfected not by knowledge, but by action."

From Jarvis and Oakwood Collegiates Irene hurried to College. Through Political Science she sped, gathering impetus on the way by "army" and "Lit." executive positions. Capability, keen judgment and energy combined—to what goal will they lead?

HELEN M. MCCRIMMON.

*"She listened with a flitting blush,
With downcast eyes and modest grace."*

Matriculated from Whitby Ladies' College, then hied to foreign lands to study foreign tongues. Entered the class of 2D in Moderns. Favourite study—Anglo-Saxon.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

DOROTHY McLAGAN.

"The noblest mind the best contentment has."

Stratford, Margaret Eaton, Havergal, led Dorothy to Varsity, where she has made many friends and a Class Executive in her senior year. May her lovable qualities be appreciated wherever she goes.

MARY R. McLAREN.

*Her breast was filled with all perfection,
And yet it seemed a private whispering-room,
It made so little noise."*

Hilgiate, Kent, gave her early training to this "lass o' pairs." In College, English and History was her ready friend. A consistent student, a faithful friend, in her third and fourth years an efficient Councillor,—the future looks bright with promise.

WILSON C. McTAVISH.

"We like him for his modesty."

Born at Shakespeare, Ont., May, 1900, within a stone's throw of the Avon. Graduated at full speed from Public school and Stratford C. I. in time to enrol in 2nd C. and F. Hobby, skating.

MARION MILLS.

"Though vanquished, she's not alone."

She loves to dive from airy heights,
To waters cool and green,
She loves to ply her paddle,
And she loves ice smooth and keen.

She loves to "serve," she loves to dance,
Sometimes she'll even walk;
But how much more than even these,
Methinks she loves to talk!

WILFRIDA L. MITCHELL.

"Mistress of herself, though China fall."

RECIPES.

Ingredients—One pound of common sense, one cup (overflowing) of good humour, a dash of Scotch (determination), plenty of pep. Mix—in Household Science Course; spice with Dramatics, National Service and Conferences.

Bake—For four years, frosting with the Presidency of the Y.W.C.A.
Result—A career equal to that of her illustrious namesake.

WILLIAM E. MOONEY.

"Hurry is a waste of time."

"Bill" first commenced to smile serenely on the world at Paisley, Ontario. Since then, deep dives into the mysteries of M. and P., and three years "over there" have failed to dim that smile. "Bill's" chief asset is his sunny disposition; his favourite diversions: canoes and good tobacco.

GLADYS E. MORAN.

"Why should life all labouring be?"

This has been Gladys' motto since she arrived in Peterboro', and throughout her school-days there. She continued to live up to it at Varsity, where she took Moderns, an "unlaborious" course. As a variety, she became President of the Women's Athletic Association in her senior year, a fitting climax to her contradictory career.

NEIL F. MORRISON.

"I am a part of all that I have met."

Neil was born in Sarnia, 1906. Matriculated with honours at Port Arthur. Entered B. and P. with 1T9 and after a trip across the water returned to 2T0. He served on the third year executive and is now President of the Biological Club. Prominent in hockey.

Never missed a dance did he.
Or a College revelry.

Grant entered Varsity from Jarvis Street Collegiate Institute in 1912. He spent three years in '6 M. and P., and had his final year entered in 1916. He has returned to take the fourth year work in Mathematics.

LAWRENCE M. MURRAY.

It's the same old, old, and a good one

Matriculating from Jarvis Street Collegiate in 1913, Lawrence spent three years in '7 B. and P. After serving three years overseas with the 48th Highlanders, he has returned to finish his courses in Arts and Medicine. Lawrence found time this year to captain the Varsity H. rugby team, winners of the Intermediate Championship.

My heart is a garden, and it's a good one

Place of Origin—Hamilton
Species—Rare
Method of Cultivation—Four years in General, with various offices and activities.
Characteristics—A splendid disposition, a capability for making friends, and a laugh.

WILMA N. ORR.

It's a fact that, in spite of the fact, it's a fact

"Bill's" cheerful disposition has long been felt in "No. 42" and is, this year, its guiding influence. Her various activities included everything from discipline meetings to dances, all of which she entered with the same spirit. Stratford's Country Club will welcome her with outstretched arms.

STEWART U. PAGE.

With much to do, and more to think of Stewart first tipped the scales in 1899. Received his early education in U. T. S., then entered P. and B. He has so far negotiated his course with considerable success, aided by the stimulating influence of the latest chocolate novelties. His fellow-graduates predict for him a brilliant future in the medical field.

OLIVE PARKER.

It's June, O June, that we desired to*

Frances came from Owen Sound a seeker after knowledge. This she acquired through executive meetings, being head of No. 7, and incidentally lectures. Her conclusion is that while a little knowledge may be a dangerous thing, a lot of it is h—t.

L. PATRICK.

"On with the dance!"

"Pat" entered the University in one of those depressing war years, steadfastly refusing, however, himself to be depressed. From start to finish he has done his best to put "pep" into University social life. The "Lit," the Political Economy Club, the Arts Dance, class executives, etc., have not, however, encroached too much upon his academic duties.

PETER A. PETRIE.

"And the deep joy he drank seemed never, never draught!"

Born near the little burg of Leadbury, Huron County. Matriculated at Clinton Collegiate. In the fall of 1916 came down to Varsity with the class of 210 and entered in M. and P. We will hear of him later in the field of Science.

MARGARET D. PRINGLE.

*"They poured in Hope and Laughter

They stirred it all together,
And made an Optimist."*

Act I.—Sc. I.—Stratford.
Act II.—Hamilton.
Act II.—Sc. I.—Varsity.
Sc. II.—Ditto and Milwaukee
Act III.—Cheerio! Who knows?
Criticism.

Admirable production of practical side of life relieved by frivolity and snatches of humour.

ALAN R. RAMSEY.

"I stand in a more fortunate row Stricken in this great calamity."

Entered Varsity in 1908.
Captain Junior Arts-Rugby team, 1914.
Captain Varsity Intermediate Rugby team, 1910.
Played on Varsity Senior Rugby team, 1911.
One of the organizers of the U.C. Athletic Ass'n.

Left the University in 1911, but returned last autumn to complete his course.

HELEN M. RANKIN.

"A heart to resolve, a head to contrive and a hand to execute."

Helen could not resist the call of her native land, and after a sojourn at Rockford College, she reported at Toronto for a B.A. Varied college and social activities have found they needed her, and her friends will never be able to do without her.

MARY E. REID.

"The blood of the martyrs is the seed of the church."

She took professors seriously when they complained of late comers at lectures—and gave up lectures herself.

She took the Y.W.C.A. seriously in her first year—and moved that it be abolished in her fourth.

She took Mill seriously—and went to the dogs.

She was a Rebel.

JOHN B. RIDLEY.

"Some boys!"

Jack was first introduced to this planet at Toronto in 1898. He joined JTs with Honour Matriculation from U.T.S. A good sport and an able administrator as his College activities will show. Secretary 21—1916-18, and U.C. Lit. 1919-20. Arts Dance Committee, 1918. Football, U.C., '17 O.T.C., '18, Varsity H.C., '19. Secretary and Manager Varsity Gym Team, '19. Varsity Track Team, '19. He is a member of Chi Delta Psi Fraternity.

A. GORDON RINTOUL.

*"Home for the holidays—here we go!
Blaze met the train in exceedingly slow."*

Wingham, first welcomed his lusty prospects and later W.H.S. undertook his education in academic pursuits and sport. Varsity admitted him in 1915. Overseas service interrupted his course but didn't improve him much. He is "TINY" still. Soccer enthusiast.

Ambition—Fifteen hundred and a manse at "Anywhereville."

"The man with a whole is the man with the whole. When everything goes dead wrong."

1896 saw the arrival of our suburban member. Began his social career with ITR, but, taking a travelling scholarship to Europe he speedily became versed in Parisian dietetics and ————?

With his blithesome manner and his well-known fussy alibi he is an indispensable member of T.O. P. & B. "Play it again, Errol."

"She has met one king and queen. Mirth and sport and eloquence."

Phyl graduated from Shelbourne into St. Margaret's, thence into Varsity. She burned the midnight oil in Queen's Hall for two years, and then took to city life. A little work, beaucoup de fun and a B.A.

"With mirth and laughter let old troubles come."

"Frankie" first struck Earth plane, 1897. Entered Kenora Public and High School—Matric., 1915. His illustrious academic career includes such incidentals as 2nd year, Hockey Arts, Jenning Cup. Work on "Varsity," Menorah. Did his bit 1st Batt. C.T.C.—trips, light fantastic—charming personality. Objective, law.

DONALD J. SINCLAIR.

"Ah, why should life all labour be — TENNYSON."

"Sinc" first stirred the natives of Guelph on September 24th, 1898, was locally educated, entered P. & B. in '15, but thought better of it and, after a sojourn in the O.T.C. and R.C.N.A.S., graduates in "Pole-con." A bulwark of strength to U.C. teams in every branch of sport. President, U.C. Athletic Association; Athletic Directorate, 1919-20; half-back Intermediate Intercollegiate Football Champions.

JOSEPH A. SONLEY.

"When I have anything to say, I say it."

Uxbridge has much claim for renown for there Art. made his first natal cry on May 2nd, 1899. Solving the 'trick in matriculation, he entered Varsity in M. & P. Constant as the R in PV = Rt, he saw it through. He was also 3rd year representative and President of the M. & P. Society.

JEAN M. STEVENSON.

"Perhaps she may turn out a king. Perhaps she may be a queen."

At the age of sixteen, Jean turned her back on Jarvis Street Collegiate for the more attractive offerings of U.C. and Hvyse hold Science in general, and the Y.W.C.A. in particular. Such special training as she has since received fits her admirably for ———— well we'll let Jean decide for herself, but we have our own suspicions.

ARNOLD R. STINSON.

"I live to be a winner."

Minden's registrar gleefully added another to the village population in 1895. The red school house surrendered him to Harbord, who gave him to Varsity in 1913. The war called, "Stimie" enrolled with Mars, but finally "sailed the briny deep" with the R.N.V.R. A member of the Chi Delta Psi fraternity. Verdict—"A good scout."

History of Class 2T0

At the beginning of October, 1916, when, in France the battle of the Somme was being fought, in Canada the men and women who were to become the "1920 Class of University College in the University of Toronto," were leaning up against Mr. Brehner's counter. There were about a hundred and fifty of them, and they had come as thousands had come before them to study at what they believed to be the greatest of Canadian universities.

During the academic year of 1916-17 these students gazed with their "freshman" eyes on squads of scarlet-coated cadets drilling on the campus, and a little later saw the same cadets wearing black fur caps and black greatcoats, which made them look like policemen.

Late every afternoon the men of this year drilled in the C.O. T.C. with men of other years, on the university grounds and, in very bad weather, in one or other of the university buildings. Gradually, too, the men were dropping off and signing up for active service, and all the while the women knitted at socks for the men who had gone.

Just after the class had come back in the fall of 1917 for its second year it read anxiously in the daily papers of the terrific battle which many of its dearest friends and closest relatives were fighting "over there" in a sea of mud, in order to take Passchendaele. The Somme was bad, but this third Battle of Ypres was many times worse and more disheartening. That spring a class which had seen nothing but war in its history graduated from the university; and the class of 1920 considering the great German offensive in March did not put forward much hope that it either would see, during its undergraduate days, any world peace.

The autumn of 1918 saw the class of 1920 reduced to half its original size. Not for long, however, did it remain under the cloud. Who of its number has not "November the Eleventh" stamped on his memory in colours that can never fade?

Gradually the men came back. The class of 1920 received into its enrollment not only those who had enlisted from its own number, but many others who had originally been members of some other year. In the industrial and political worlds the year 1919 was a black and disappointing one; but in the history of this university, and particularly in the history of the class of 1920, it was a very bright one, indeed.

Now 1920 has come, and the men and women who four years ago leaned, for the first time, against Mr. Brehner's counter are on the point of graduation. Their duty is clear. It is to try and make 1920 and the following years less black than was the year 1919.

Here are sixty men and sixty women who for the greater part of four years have had the experience of, so to say, watching the world. A considerable number of the men have done a lot more than watch; they have fought; and others who might have been here have died. But in their capacity of students they have just watched and studied. Now, however, most, at least of the men, will have an opportunity to work. If their study has been profitable and stimulating then will their work be creative and cleansing.

Upon the opening day of the fall term we did sagaciously stand in the rotunda, and watching someone's terrified eyes searching for directions we chuckled one to another, and remarked, pointing rudely: "Look! Look! a Frosh!" And upon his interrogation for the registrar's office we did hold our heads high with disdain, and when he had passed into the gloomy office we sighed—for soon, we knew, he would lose his cherubic complexion and look haggard like the rest of us. And so we achieved "sophhood."

Then, when autumn came and the trees were a blaze of colour, there stirred within our souls a desire for the country and the open. At length, after many notices had forewarned the students as to the date of the assembly, a radial car was secured, and one late afternoon we sped to Long Branch summer pavilion. The scene was romantic. Two by two, we explored the grounds and beach and gathered together for games, until hunger and darkness came upon us. Tables within the pavilion were spread and emptied. After this process of satiation we began to dance. Later on in the evening a bonfire was built on the shore, and as the waves beat in upon the sands we sang songs and told stories, the mighty blaze flaring at the stars, until the appointed hour of departure.

Not many weeks later we saw a notice in the Rotunda and Halls announcing that we would hold a class party at U.T.S. The originality of 2T2 was again in evidence. Between certain dances we were entertained by professional soloists. Acquaintances of Long Branch were renewed with much hilarity and here one could see us in a more formal aspect.

Miserabile dictu—we are supposed to have an academic phase to our history. Many of us have descended from the high and aristocratic pinnacle of honour work to the great democratic course that includes all classes—the general. We continue to skip lectures and proclaim our disgust and hopelessness over our work. Many of our comrades have risen high in the ranks of executive officers and academic ability—and shine out as bright stars promising of a future, not only for third and fourth years, but, ay, for the future of the country.

It must also be added that 2T2 has captured a number of firsts in the athletic events of the year; has made up a good share of the U.C. Rugby team, and promises to show stellar qualities in hockey and basketball.

We are now in the second epoch of our college life. Only through history can we see the broadening effect of this education upon our character, also the thinning effect upon our ranks. 2T2 marches on—fulfilling grandly the hopes that were begun at her birth. We are wiser, and hope more diplomatic; and anticipate that if we progress during the coming two years as we have during the last, to have our names engraved upon the golden, social and academic scrolls of our Alma Mater.

History of Class 2T3

With October came the old familiar confusion which must have gladdened the hearts of those who, for five years, had mused wistfully on the pre-war days at Varsity. Only we freshmen ambled heedlessly along the revered halls of University College. We were as yet too pre-occupied with the trials of registration.

It was only when we began to realize that our year comprised almost half of the total attendance at U.C. and acted accordingly that we felt the stern hand of the higher years upon us. We underwent the usual rigours meted out to "ye olde tyme Froshie," and we appreciated the spirit displayed by our more learned brethren.

As of yore, the elections proved thrilling—in our youthful opinions. Those who saw the First year skit at Mock Parliament should agree with us. The turmoil resulted in the survival of the fittest and the frosh executive is endeavoring to appease the expectant throng who voted "progressive" and want to make sure that they have not been deceived.

The first class party was a surprising success. Owing to the large attendance expected the East and West Halls were engaged and proved a fitting background for this memorable occasion. The party took the form of a social evening at which everyone was most sociable. There was to be no dancing, but after the refreshments, following a sagacious suggestion, those interested in the terpsichorean art, withdrew to the rotunda where they tripped the light fantastic amidst those venerable surroundings.

The second class party was held at U.T.S. Dancing was the feature of the evening. Those who have experienced the first dance of the freshmen may be surprised to learn that the majority of us enjoyed ourselves immensely. The gentlemen acquitted themselves nobly. Perhaps their sojourn in France may account for it.

The New Year holds many joys for the freshmen. Early in the year 2T3 will make her debut at a formal dance in Columbus Hall. We shall also hold our annual reception in the due course of time, comforting ourselves meanwhile with the thought that the last may not necessarily be the least.

Twenty-three should have a great future before her. We cannot really be sure of this until we learn the results of the examinations. However, if we prove as successful in our studies as we have been in sports and in other branches of the University, we may sometime be proud to say that we belonged to "the illustrious year of 1923."

The Women's Undergraduate Association

The Women's Undergraduate Association of University College is the one organization to which every woman belongs, and it serves three main purposes. It affords opportunity for discussion of all issues affecting women students; it regulates and controls the other less comprehensive student societies, and it seeks to promote unity of feeling among University College women. The Women's Undergraduate Council, which is the executive organ of the association, is composed of a president from the senior year, secretary and treasurer from the junior year, and representatives from the first two years, along with the presidents of the Y.W.C.A., the Literary Society and the Athletic Association. Thus the association is kept in touch with the different years and college organizations.

This year, the first task undertaken by the association was the reception of freshmen. Arrangements were made to meet them at the train when necessary, and on registration days, an information bureau proved to be of great help in smoothing the path of the bewildered throng. In October, an autumn tea served the purpose of bringing all the women of the college together and helping the first year to make acquaintances and feel more at home in our midst.

The W.U.A. meetings are few in number, but important, and they are a manifestation of the fact that the women are learning to share more fully the responsibilities and privileges of this college.

The Women's Literary Society of University College

The activity of the Women's Literary Society in 1919-20 has grown directly out of the decision of a former executive to make contemporary English literature the basis of the year's programme. For two seasons the professors were kind enough to prepare the way by opening up possibilities and guiding undergraduate taste. This year, emboldened by the success of two courageous spirits of 1919, the executive entered upon a course based on the assumption that women undergraduates read and appreciate modern authors, and further, that they are sufficiently interested in their Literary Society to take an active part in the meetings. That this claim was well founded seems proven by the attendance at the meetings and by the quality of the contributions to the programme.

During the Christmas term papers were read on J. E. Flecker by Agatha Leonard, Walter De La Mare by Mary Needler, Bridges by Edith Atkinson, Francis Thompson by Elizabeth Chant, and Barrie by Alison Ewart. On December 13 Miss Lobb, Miss Muldrew and Miss Squair gave a delightful presentation of Dunsany's "Fame and the Poet."

In the Easter term papers were read on Grierson by Margaret Lawrence, Noyes by Adelaide Macdonald and Eleanor Harbert, Canadian poets by Dorothy Hardy, Nichols by Winifred McLellan, Drinkwater by Gladys Lewis, Walpole by Mary Reid, Hergesheimer by Shirley Saul.

In the course of the year Mrs. Wallace, Miss Wrong and Miss Waddington gave readings that presented some aspects of the author's work not touched on by the papers. An attempt was made to introduce "community singing" with college songs and later old English ballads as the medium. Musical selections contributed by members and friends of the Society added to the attractiveness of the meetings.

Following the usual custom the Alumnae provided a very enjoyable ending to the year's work.

Queen's Hall

BY

MISS LOUISE LIVINGSTONE, B.A.

MISS LIVINGSTONE

"Each day the thought of peace becomes more real and blessed. I can be on this green hill and praise Creation that I am alive in a world of beauty. I can go to sleep here with the covering of sunlight warm on my body and not wake to that old dull misery." Much of what Galsworthy felt must be felt by all those who are at college this year. Every place the reaction after the dark days of war is felt keenly. There is an intense and absorbing interest in college life, and it is probably the most inspiring year that students of our university have ever known.

Of course, all realize that they are living through one of the most critical times, and that the colleges understand the necessity of preparing the minds of their students to cope with the problems of a larger, freer world, and bring them in touch with the modern thoughts. The seniors who are going out from Queen's Hall, will be greatly missed. Their influence on the lower years has been so strong and good. They are thinking sadly of the days when college life will be over, but they will not lose the desire "to know the best that has been thought and done in the world." And so we wish them all great success in those future years and may it be said of them:

"Many daughters have done virtuously,
But thou excellest them all."

Queen's Hall, Our University College Women's Residence

If there are truly "sermons in stones," the old gray stones of Queen's Hall could unfold many a tale. They could tell of happy days spent within its walls, and of close friendships formed there.

In previous years when the war cast its shadow over all, the hum of ceaseless conversation at dinner did its best to muffle the click of knitting needles which were plied by busy fingers. "Nous avons changé tout cela." The only thing that muffles conversation this year is the tinkle of the Dean's little bell.

The year was satisfactorily started when the seniors, arrayed as assistants to his Satanic Majesty, gave the freshies a warm welcome to the Hall. There followed a Thanksgiving dance. This was a pleasing innovation arranged for those who were not able to go home. It proved such an attraction that many postponed their departure in order to enjoy it.

Perhaps our most successful social event was the Christmas dance. The old Dining Hall in its Yuletide decorations formed a setting for the merry girls and their partners, and bright coloured streamers added a festive note. When twelve o'clock sounded, the enthusiasm culminated in a hearty rendering of a recently adopted Queen's Hall yell. A few devoted Meds made a feeble attempt at answering, which ended a very happy evening with laughter.

But frivolities are soon forgotten; vaccination stayed with us for many a long day. First there were rumours of it, and then one day each of a long line-up waited for the fatal moment when it should be her turn to experience inoculation. Even now the mention of it calls forth feeling remarks.

But enough of this; we cherish the old Hall not only for the good times she has given us but for the standard she raises for us. Each freshie brings with her, ideals. There, as a sophomore and junior, her ideas are rounded by the intimacy of the midnight chat—not always frivolous, by the constant association with many girls from many cities and many homes. As a senior she goes out with the banner of excelsior raised, conscious that she holds in her keeping not only her own honour but that of Queen's Hall as well.

God bless the dear old Hall we say. May we ever be faithful to her tradition.

Che-hee, Che-haw, Che-haw-haw-haw,
 Queen's Hall, Queen's Hall, rah, rah, rah,
 Hear us yell, hear us call Queen's Hall, Queen's Hall, Queen's Hall.

The Modern Language Club of University College

The Modern Language Club has had another very successful year. The meetings have been well attended and the membership was large. With the return to college of so many men their attendance this year has been larger than ever, and they were given representation on the executive, there being three men on the committee, a state of affairs that has not existed for six years.

There were eight regular meetings held, four of them French, besides Italian, Spanish and German. The last meeting of the year was, as usual, English, and was an open meeting. All the meetings were held at the Women's Union, though at times it was too small to prevent overcrowding.

Professor Will addressed the first meeting; but at all the other meetings the papers were given by undergraduates. The plan worked very well, though it meant considerable trouble for the members who prepared the papers. Feeling the need of a wider knowledge of French, particularly in Canada, the club specialized in it more than usual this year. Half of the meetings were French and the papers given on those evenings were read in French.

Music of a suitable kind formed a part of every programme. This was all furnished by undergraduates, with the noteworthy exceptions of Miss Lenore Ivey and Professor Holt.

The annual play—this year short French, Italian and Spanish ones—was given on February 18. The club was able to have the use of the Hart House Theatre, with its splendid equipment, and this helped greatly to make the performance the success it was. We also wish to acknowledge Mr. Roy Mitchell's very kind assistance. The proceeds were used for the support of a war orphan, definite war work being practically over now; thus giving the club a permanent objective to work for.

University College Women's Dramatic Club

The University College Women's Dramatic Club is working again this year under the direction of Mrs. Scott Nasmith at the Margaret Eaton School. Until the Christmas vacation the time has been spent on voice work and the plays to be produced have not yet been chosen.

The fact that the club is to be allowed to use the Hart House theatre has stimulated the enthusiasm of the members to a great extent. The membership is much larger this year than formerly and there should be no difficulty in choosing a good cast for both plays. We are much indebted to Mr. Mitchell for consenting to co-operate with us to make our production worthy of the Hart House theatre.

University College Literary and Scientific Society

During the years 1916, 1917 and part of 1918 the activities of the Literary and Scientific Society of University College were completely suspended, for the excellent good reason that there were few men left in the college, especially in the upper years. The society was established in February, 1854, a few months after the opening of University College. For more than sixty years it had supplemented the academic work, and its members had a deep feeling of pride in its long record of continuous service as the oldest of our university societies. If a census could be taken of the opinion of graduates it would probably be found that the associations which cling to the memory of their membership in this society constitute the most intimate bond between them and their Alma Mater.

It would probably be accurate to say that throughout its long and varied history the prestige of the Literary Society has been greater than that of any similar institution in this province. At its best it has been an unsurpassed school of debating, in which men who were to become leaders in Parliament, at the bar, or in the church, first experienced the magical effect over men's minds of an orderly presentation of ideas, or, in the combat of wits, drank delight of battle with their peers. It has performed another function of even greater importance in a college whose beneficent influences have always been limited by the fundamental lack of residential accommodation. It has served as a common meeting ground for the students, where they learned to know one another, to exchange ideas, to take counsel together regarding their social, their athletic, their academic interests. In other words it has performed one of the primary functions of a college.

During the present session the society has resumed its work in an encouraging way. It suffers from the fact that few of the students know anything from first-hand experience of its work in the past, and as a result the attendance has been only fairly satisfactory. Nevertheless the enthusiasm of those who attend makes up for lack of numbers. The debating has been creditable as has also been the interest of the members in the parliamentary conduct of business. They have had a new edition printed of the constitution of the society, and song sheets containing some twenty of the best old English songs, which they are learning to sing with some gusto. An orchestra of ten pieces adds much to the interest of the meetings. They have already had one or two informal talks on literary subjects by members of the staff, and they are planning to invite prominent men in public life to take part in their debates—after the manner of the Oxford and Cambridge Unions. On the whole the society has resumed its work in a promising way, and we may look forward to its future record being at least equal to that which has already endeared it to so many hundreds of graduates.

Mock Parliament

On Thursday, December 11th, a little later than usual and therefore a little better than usual, the elite of the University assembled at Convocation Hall to witness the first after-war production of Mock Parliament. The line-up for tickets was reminiscent of Senior O.I.A. Finals, and many who were unable to secure tickets had to rely on the glowing accounts of the downtown papers and "The Varsity."

The fortunate ones were escorted to their seats by a very competent force of ushers under the able direction of the Registrar, while the Sororities were directed to their sections by Musher. In the interim while the elaborate scenic productions were being set on the stage "The Blast," the Jazz Orchestra, the Lantern and the Spotlight kept the expectant throng amused.

So huge was the audience that the first presentation was delayed until 8.30. The 2T0 skit opened with Mr. James Brehner, ably supported by A. Trout Laidlaw, fighting his way through the mob of Registrants, held in check by the forbidding mien of Stonewall Christie. A typical Registration scene then followed amid wild confusion. At its height, Bunco Bill, of the Woolly West, stampeded and shot the Registrar, thereby completing the Registration for the day.

Following sharp upon the heels of the untimely end of the Registrar, the audience was treated to something never before heard of or imagined, namely a secret session of the Students' Administrative Council. The chair was as usual occupied by the President, but the power behind the throne was much in evidence. After disposing of the most important part of the meeting, to wit, the Med fines, several resolutions as follows were introduced and passed amidst the wildest enthusiasm: Rehabilitation of the staff, brightening the buildings, improving the manners, morals, minds, meen and management of the menagerie.

2T2 presented "Beanery Beans," written by Alexander, the Prof, based on his observations from the seats of the gods which showed how:

"The leathern meat slides all around;
From plate to cloth doth lightly bound,
It's over here, it's over there,
And bounces off your neighbor's hair."

The skit was very well received by the male portion of the audience, it being a lifelike representation of the sumptuous repast served up in our Emporium of Culinary Art (mostly art).

The audience was now treated to a Frosh election scene with the verdant atmosphere so well-known on these occasions much in evidence. The plot was thickened by the difficulties of Mutt and Jeff in their endeavour to find the polling booth, which was later confiscated according to time-honoured tradition by the Sophs. Scotty's dramatic entrance with a broom brought the proceedings to a close.

The Prep. Class was represented very ably by Jonas, who performed several whales of tricks in sleight-of-hand and made the entire audience appear as "Poor Fish."

The tid-bit of the evening was the Mock Parliament proper, which showed the U.F.O. (U's For Ourselves) holding the reins of office, instead of the reins of the old gray mare. The successful Bolsheviks had been captured after great trouble and expense, and in coalition with the two Jazz Babies, Tootoo and Nellie, formed the opposition. To this day there still remains a doubt in the minds of many regarding the actual planks of the Government platform, so comprehensive was the melange of reforms instigated, although Prohibition, the Shimnee and conventional dress were well to the fore. After the Speech from the Throne, ably delivered by Mr. Fullah Bull, the session proceeded with unimaginable "pep" and vivacity, the only jarring note being the uncouth utterances of the Bolsheviks, alleviated by the gentle tones of the women members. At the time when the greatest reform of the evening was about to be passed the Bolsheviks heaved a bomb, the lights went out and the audience went home.

CHANCELLOR BOWLES

CHANCELLOR BOWLES

The modern message is always, and at all times, a social one, and thus whether it be given in the pulpit or elsewhere. In recent periods of history it would seem as if the social consciousness had existed to bless and prosper the individual. With scrupulous care it has guarded his rights and liberties, and with an open hand it has offered him all opportunities of self culture. To-day the call is to the individual man to bring back to the common treasury the gifts and graces so freely bestowed that the common social and national life may move forward. The social advance waits to-day, not on a few great personalities, but on the consecrated effort of the many, who as individuals have been privileged to draw heavily on the common resources. This is the sort of spiritual message all students of the University have been bearing during their college life. It has been the particular message of the Sunday morning services in Convocation Hall. So that it would seem impossible for any student to go out from College to-day with his thoughts on his own personal rights, liberties and prerogatives. He must surely feel that unselfish devotion to some great and good cause is essential to true living. Nothing else can keep his heart from becoming the rendezvous of vanity and pride and small ambitions. It is the duty, therefore, of every graduate to discover the cause, or causes, which he can best serve, and to give to these the full measure of consecrated effort.

VICTORIA COLLEGE

ROBERT GORDON AGNEW.
"A man for allness, famed And genius versatile."

Born—Sept., 1885.
 Dred—Carly Brown.
 "K. G." worried teachers at Humboldt C. I., and later Moderns Prof's in IT's. Imbibed knowledge spasmodically before changing to Dents. Enlisted C.F.A. Back to graduate with '20. Master of Fussology. Gifted in pleasing examiners and enjoying life. Member of Federal Cabinet Y.M.C.A., "Bob" Committee, Glee Club, etc. Success is sure.

ELMO LINFIELD ASHBORNE.
"In whom there is no guile."

Born in Twillingate, Newfoundland, 1897. Four years at The Methodist College, St. Johns. Entered ITS but answered the call of Empire in July, 1917. A skipper in the Navy, he sailed the Atlantic and Pacific, patrolling our coasts. A faithful worker, modest and cheerful. Safe journey and sunny skies, Elmo!

DALLAS WETMORE BATES.
"He who lives on things must sure do well."

Dallas first cheered for the Hamilton Tigers Feb., 1895. Preliminaries at Hamilton Collegiate. Joined IT7 Vic. and after serving with the A.E.F. returned and cast his lot with ZT.O. M. & P., basketball, and dancing were nuclei for his activities. A congenial personality assures him success in any path of life.

HARRY CLIFFORD BATES.

*"His the prime's station in show's might
 The secret of a success."*

Clifford's from Dundas, but graduated from Hamilton C. I. Never seen without his brother. Originally '17. Delves into the whys and wherefores of Physics with prisms "and things." Class Executive, 1919. Spare time pursuits automobiles and jazz.

ALICE M. BROWN.

"She came in like a lamb, but we fear she has changed."

When first she came to college,
 She was but a modest maid,
 In second year she changed her course
 And in M.H. she stayed.
 Her independence grew and grew.
 But she was loved at Vic.
 Of '21" she was the President,
 And also Senior Stick.

OLIVE BURTON.

*"Thought seems to come and go
 In thy large eyes."*

The irresistible call of dear old Vic. brought Olive to University. In Honour Household Science she has brought credit upon herself and college. Her many friends wish her true success when college days are past.

GRACE BURWASH.

"Harder to be understood than a piece of Egyptian antiquity or an Irish manuscript."

Grace's early years were spent in the North Country. Entering Victoria in the Household Science course she was most successful in her choice of study. Sometimes she skated, sometimes she played tennis, sometimes she danced, and sometimes—she studied.

J. N. D. BUSH.

"Not read, but honoured of them all."
 Neither Prince of Wales scholarship, nor Classics could encumber Doug. President of Boh Committee, 1915; Senior Stick, and Class Prophet. Somewhat afflicted with cacoethes scribendi. Has ambitions for wealth, but is heroically resigned to the prospect of instructing youth. In theory, a misogynist; in practice—well, coming along.

VICTORIA COLLEGE

RUTH BRISTOL DAVIDSON.

"Why should I be all taken up?"

Ruth is nothing if not practical but while at Vic has not allowed studies to interfere with the acquisition of a true education. Has two ambitions—to become a girl champion of Canada, and to coin a universal slang phrase. However, expects to graduate in Household Science—will probably do great damage in that direction.

C. RUTH DEAN.

"She is not as good I expect, But I'm the better pleaser."

After a brief sojourn in Toronto schools Ruth came to Victoria to join the class of '29. Entering Household Science her true element proved to be "Calories"; her pet aversion English and History; her greatest characteristic a delightful frankness; her greatest problem "what can we do with this?"

JEAN DEAS.

"She is little and she is a little bit of a devil."

"Are worth all you know, I think, some plenty."

From Bonny Scotland Jean came to the Old Ontario Strand. Jean Deas is a regretted her premature loss but Vic soon reclaimed her for graduation here. Her major subjects—Household Science and the Choral Club West more.

MARY HALL DEEVES.

"I am a little bit of a devil, I think."

Mary Deas, Mary came to Victoria and travelled by classes. In spite of the numerous demands on her General Course, she managed to finish her "C" in Terms, in December to receive the name of the "C" in Terms. To take an active interest in the development and advice to the other students.

LOUIS WILLIAM DIPPPELL.

"... and he is the heart of all."

In 1912 the quiet humor and genial friendliness of Louis first appeared at Varsity. He applied himself readily to learning and to the social arts, but early in 1913 left the college for more exciting pursuits. A Military Medal and bar are his army credentials, and may equal honors crown his graduation.

MARJORIE DOUGALL.

"I am a little bit of a devil, I think."

Marjorie began her university career at Western where she left a lasting impression of her scholarship and general good-sportsmanship. Entering Vic, in her Junior year, she soon became enthused with the college spirit, and, throwing herself heartily into Lit., Dramatics and Choral quickly made her influence felt, while her cheerful personality, energy, and independence have won her many friends.

EDNA V. EASTCOTT.

"I am a little bit of a devil, I think."

Edna came to Victoria with class year. Edna completed three years in Chemistry and Mineralogy, winning the David Wilson Scholarship. She spent a year in chemical analysis at Nobel with British Cordite Co., and later O.A.C. Geoph. In spite of this strange liking for chemistry there has been no "dissociation"—she still has her pre-College love of music.

MARION JEAN KATHLEEN EDGINGTON.

"I am a little bit of a devil, I think."

Having imbibed all that Woodstock, California afforded, Jean came to Victoria an enthusiastic supporter of Modern History. In spite of his being "one of the boys" after another, she reached the Athletic Stock via T. H. & B. Tennis, Hockey and Basketball. In Dramatics she proved she was even "worse" enough to play the lead.

VICTORIA COLLEGE

S. ROY GREER.

"Leave me here and when you want me sound the bugle."

The fall of 1912 brought to Varsity the sincerity, unconventionality, and "Joie de vivre" of the West, typified in "ROY." War! Scholastic ambitions shattered! Four years in khaki failed to destroy a jovial spirit. Well earned Military Cross the last thing ever mentioned.

JOHN FREDERICK GUENTHER.

"Dear Mabel—er is it Joanna?"

Johnny came from Hamilton with great learning, but has not sunk under either burden. Overseas with C.F.A., 1916-19; a term at Edinburgh University. President. Classical Association. Scholarship has not spoiled two gifts of the gods—a lambent wit and an interesting past. Basks forever in the light that lies and lies and lies.

FOREST HAMNER.

"It's hard to live all Latin days."

Forest began to take an interest in life Sept., 1895, at Burgessville, Ont. In 1911 at Woodstock Collegiate Institute he began to follow in the steps of Horace and Aristotle. In 1914 he entered Vic. '18. He enlisted 1916, returning the next year, and now hopes to close his academic career with class '21.

RALPH WILLARD HARDY, D.C.M., M.M.

"Get Ready to Go!"

Born at Oakwood, schooled at Lindsay, entered Vic. with ill-timings, 1772, at once made permanent Class Historian. Fathered the 12th Canadian Infantry Brigade Signals, Aug., 1916-Mar., 1919. Glee Club, Historical Society, and Reception Committee attest his gifts, while his many friends acclaim his brilliant wit and ebullient good humour. A devoted worker with, alas! a passion for absurdity.

MARION ISOBEL HARVEY.

*"Mark when she smiles with amiable cheer
And tell me whereto can ye lyken it."*

Home, Peterboro, Ont. Born Norwich, February, 1897, early training Norwich Continuation and Woodstock Collegiate, entered Victoria 1915, but early realized her mistake and waited a year for twenty. Household Science claimed her and prospects point to her piers rivaling "Mother's make" with "calories for ever."

MARION B. HIGGINS.

"Half the lies they tell about the Irish aren't true."

"She's taken her fun where she's found it. She's petitioned and sung in her time—She's had simply oodles of parties And never can wake up till nine. We love her for being in earnest. We love her for all of her wit—For her hair that will shine at any old time, But especially when speaking at Lit.

FOSTER HILLIARD.

"Oh, say!"

Passed years of indirection at Morrisburg, the town of his birth. Entered Vic., 1913. Enlisted Jan., '16, serving over two years in France. Twice decorated—His versatile talents were of service on the "Bd." Committee of '15—Pianist at "Lit." and Class Secretary same year. Representative to Des Moines 1919. Devoted to tennis, music and eyebrows. Will be heard from later.

FRANCES RUTH HILLIARD.

"I can get up with little white flowers."

Ruth's enthusiastic interest in all college activities, combined with her poignant personality, has made her a most valuable asset to her class. In spite of manifold duties in Athletics, Lit., and Y.W., and the acquirement of a musical education, Ruth obtains very creditable standing in "English and History."

VICTORIA COLLEGE

ELEDA FRANCES HORNING.

Not prone to impulse but sure that the fates will meet them.

Colburg, 1890. From Jarvis C. I. she studied and trod her way to Vic. Moderns, Class Historian, and active in Lit.
Enthusiasm for Life and a propensity to follow the little goal, impulse. Eleda will never be bored. Moods—32 varieties. Likes— sports, in everything gay. Dislikes—last year's model and short men.

RICHARD B. HORWOOD.

'Nihil feminae plerum'

Dick entered the classical course from U.T.S. with the Prince of Wales scholarship.
Holds high converse with the mighty dead through books rather than lectures. Has expressed a desire to be buried in the handball court. Fell in love with pedagogy in a Western paradise—read Judaea Apella
—and will remain faithful. A noted raconteur.

RICHARD SANDFIELD HOSKING.

True of heart of spirit gay

Glenallen Parsonage welcomed Dick in 1903.
Later Leamington Collegiate, Wheatley and Wymstoner Methodist Circuits, and the "Vic" claimed him; then for three years
"Heinie" received his attention; now Class
Secretary, Students' Council President, Hart
House Steward, and handball devotee.
We predict wedding bells (soon?) Parsonage later—and a renowned future!

RETA L. HOWARD.

Love has not always found her

Reta grasped preliminary ideas at Jarvis Collegiate, despised not the way of the wise and entered Vic with '20. Partially succeeded in eluding all class responsibilities until Senior year—President, Choral Club.
Her unvaried good humour and love of a joke have made her a general favourite.

ISABEL N. HOWARTH.

*'The Gods approve the death
And ban the tumult of the soul'*

Timons heard her first infant's cry.
Levis Collegiate knowledge did supply.
Then to Victoria destiny did take her.
She is a credit to her Alma Mater.
Her course is Household Science.
Her nature a successful one will be.

WILLIAM JOHN HUSTON.

*'There are no Indians in my mind
Whom I need rebuke and send resigned'*

Bill was born at Dunstons, Ont., 1893.
Forest High School prepared him for entrance to Vic in 1913. Enlisting in 1916 he served in the 4th Can. Div., Sig. Co., until gassed at Passchendaele, 1917. A member of the Student's Council and vitally interested in all college activities. A man worth knowing.

JEAN L. HUNT.

*'The things are few
She won't let do
In friendship's name'*

To Vic she brought a ready wit,
To which good sense was ever knit.
Modest composer of many a song,
She took no prizes from the throng.
V. W. work engaged her thought,
And for it quietly she wrought.
Household Science is her speciality,
But for a bubbly Biochemistry.

ROBERT J. IRWIN.

'It is a pity of how gentle the rest good nature'

Bob hit the plant at London, July 21st, 1891. Matriculated 1910; entered Vic 1914;
became famous on the "Boh" Committee.
Went overseas with the 27th Battalion; later became Chaplain of his unit. Now leader of Progressive Party and Literary Editor of Acta. We wonder if he will pun with Peter at the Gate.

VICTORIA COLLEGE

AGNES D. JENNER.

E. WILLIAM JEWITT.

WILLIAM VICTOR JOHNSTON.

JOHN EDDINGTON KERR.

"Thank God for tea—
I'm glad I was not born before tea."

Matriolated from Leamington High School. Despite interruptions has pursued her course in Household Science to the end. She played four years on the tennis team and won several trophies. Best known and remembered for her rare poise and personality.

"For, even though I suppose I could argue still."

Entered Vic. 1913. Enlisted 1918. Returned 1919. "Still waters run deep." In spite of Bill's modest and unassuming nature he became one of the leaders in Philosophy. Born in a parsonage, his qualities and abilities are certain to win him one of Methodism's best in the very near future.

"I'm 1780 tall."

The May breeze wafted gently on Lake Huron in 1871 filled Vic's lungs and started him on a bit of high ambitions. Matriulating at Wingham High School in 1916, he entered the B & F. course at Victoria where he has done honour to the college whose nick-name he bears. On the "Acta" board; active in "Lat."; a winner at soccer, his future lies in medicine.

"I study medicine."

First letter sent in September 1916.
Has sailing medals.

Arrived at Victoria on Jan. 21, 1917. Educated till 1917 at U. T. S. Honour Matric. Sch. Victoria College, 1917-20. Overseas with O.T.C. Interest: Boys' Work Y.M.C.A. Lawyer.

JOYCE ALIDA KERR.

"There are enough serious things in life without considering yourself one of them."

After the acquisition of unlimited (?) knowledge at European schools and Haver-gal, Joyce followed the footsteps of a long line of ancestors to Victoria. Here she danced through a joyous career of English and History, Swimming, Hockey, etc. to a future of irresponsible happiness.

CORA A. KILBORN.

"Here was the enthusiasm that burns long."

Cora, while pursuing the thorny path of "Moderns," has yet won her "T" three times over, been President of Athletics, Vice-President of Y, and an active member of every college organization. But she will be remembered by her college-mates more especially for her whole-hearted enthusiasm in everything she undertook.

HELEN TALBOT KIRK.

"Silent in action, language."

Her virtues are many, her faults hardly any. In modesty none can surpass her. Her manner delights us, her independence affrights us. But very few things can "fash" her. In tasks conscientious, in lectures attention, In Modems she does thoughtful work. From her head to her feet, she is dainty, petite. The truest of friends, "Helen Kirk."

HAROLD DEFOE LANG.

"I wish, who love 'mid men, and see
A banner with a strange device, Excelsior!"

Willowdale Farm witnessed the event, March 2, 1918. Graduating with honours from St. Mary's Collegiate, he entered Political Science with class '20, Treasurer of "Lat." '18. Winner of Alexander Mackenzie Scholarship '19. Secretary-Treasurer of Inter-College Debating Union '20. His university career foreshadows a brilliant future in his chosen profession—law.

VICTORIA COLLEGE

HOWARD D. LANGFORD.

Windsor, Ont. Parsonage at Mon. Road, 204, 1906. Attended school in the morning at Parsons' sons ending up at Markham High School. When in a poetic mood, figures as Jacques when he sometimes could break to join. Knows something about States' guns. Editor Memorial Acta, 1906. English and History, Moderns.

NORVILLE E. LUCK.

For school spent nine years when Varsity triumphed in the planet at Oshawa, Ont. He matriculated at Brantford, entering V. 1913. Collegians' Debating Club, C. L. S. Students' Council, "Bolt" Committee and Boys' Work have all claimed his attention. He served overseas as "V" officer, with 4th Can. Div. Varsity will hit the high spots in "V" work.

E. RUSSELL MAY.

*His college's name
He never changes*

Matriculation from Exeter High School. Probationary on Bervie circuit. Senior Matric from Albert. Vic in 1914. An outstanding member of the Philosophy class. Enlisted April 1916, served in France, decorated for bravery, returned May, 1919. Russell is also in Theology. His open, frank manner and his genuine sincerity will make him a useful member of his profession.

DANIEL MACLEAN.

He's a good fellow, miles

Born in the West. Carried nothing for Horace Greely came East, has that capital a sunny smile, which has won him many friends, relieved the tedium of Political Science and softened the work of managing a Varsity First English Team. His amiable personality augurs a continuance of his college successes. Law, life or matrimony, he will meet them all smiling.

MIRIAM LOUISE MARSHALL.

She's a good one, she's a good one

Who has? Her work and I will be happy. In class never too, but not too long. As a poet, she was not hard to find. Acta 1, 1914 and 1915. Every school her interest in the. Though appearing modest, were not at all. She's a good one, she's a good one.

MARION K. McCAMUS.

She's a good one, she's a good one

It was a long way from a Methodist parsonage to Chemistry and Mineralogy but Marion came and saw and conquered. Being Head of Amos Hall in her fourth year is significant of her executive ability. Would you know her likes? Music, flowers and a cup of tea.

EDWARD HARVEY McKINNEY.

He's a good one, he's a good one

Norval saw his advent Sept. 1896, where he learned to dance. Matric at Georgian Honours at Brantford. "Mack" tries anything once, football, track and hockey, dabbles in journalism and lives in South Residence.

LAUDA M. McLAREN.

She's a good one, she's a good one

After receiving her preliminary education at Port Elgin and Owen Sound Lauda entered Victoria in '06. Her love of good things made her join the Household Science course. Hobbies—The Kef and the rink. Aversions—Lulls and essays. Virtues—Kind-hearted and true.

VICTORIA COLLEGE

G. META MEREDITH.

*"This good in every case, you know.
To have two strings unto your bow."*

Meta left Peterboro for Victoria in '16. Although contented to let others hail the rising sun, lectures were attended—at intervals.

A warm heart, a care-free attitude and a quick sympathy combined with radical ideas regarding domestic felicity, win for her the admiration of mankind.

WALLACE HANLEY MOSS.

Truth prevails."

In 1886 "Wally" first entered on the stage near St. Mary's, appearing later at St. Mary's Collegiate, at Victoria, on Malahide circuit, in the army, at Vic. again taking as a senior the important roles of Business Manager of Glee Club and member of Bob Committee.

In all scenes he will ever play his part as champion of truth and right.

JOSEPH WILLIAM NOSEWORTHY.

"My life is one great lesson."
—Dickens

Joe first grinned in Newfoundland. Having a thirst for knowledge he came to the fountain at Victoria and imbibed freely of English and History, taking an occasional lecture. A great Greek enthusiast. Always jovial, genial and just.

BERYL EVELYN OATEN.

"I have been a student of life and death."

From Humberside Collegiate Beryl, pulled into the depths of Household Science. After exploring its mysteries for four years she now emerges with prospects for a clouded future. Her perseverance and even readiness to help others have proven her a good student and a true friend.

M. ANNETTE PEEVER.

"What care I how the world may deem of me?"

In various cities of Ontario Annette gathered together the education necessary to bring her to Vic. with '20. While at College she has had her share of popularity and good times. Official critic of "Lit," a keen student—at exam. time—what more need be said?

RUTH ELIZABETH RATZ.

"Her voice was low and sweet, an excellent thing in woman."

In the pretty little town of E'mira Ruth first opened her dark eyes upon the world. Three years at Moulton College furnished her with a prep. school education; and in 1916 she entered the University as a student of Household Science. Unassuming and sincere, Ruth soon found her niche in the class of 210, and carved for herself another in the hearts of her college friends.

ELTHA RAYMER.

"You look wise! Pray correct that when!"

Earliest habits: Cultivating a voice range. Natural result: Choral Club! In spite of the fact that she is addicted to spasms of studiousness, they have not terminated fatally. She has won friends by her constancy and quiet humour. "When she smiled then you could see. That she was all that she should be."

WILLIAM ORR ROBINSON.

I had not had his worth to me."

Bill's star appeared over Zumbia, Ont., where he got his primary education. He matriculated at Carlyle, Sask.; taught school for two years; entered Vic in '13; won Blewett Scholarship in Philosophy in '16. Bill made some staunch friends at college. Watch his star approach the meridian.

VICTORIA COLLEGE

RICHARD WORTHY RYAN.

1914-1915 N. Man. Post.

"Dick," known at Goldie's. He matriculated here in 1911. Entered "Vic" in 1914, served on Bob Committee. Joined R.F.C. January, '17, became Flying Officer overseas. Served in Russia, France and Italy. His flights will continue.

MARJORIE MARY SCHELL.

*Thankful you are I bet
Thankful that I met you!*

Her joys—Birth in Toronto, Java, C. I. (radioactive), movies.

Her sorrows—Classes, the duties of Senior Year treasurer.

Her aspirations—To avoid polychy in Latin class, to attain shaker proportions; to become wealthy by devious means.

Her overwhelming success—Making friends.

EDITH G. SHERIDAN.

*Thankful you are I bet
Thankful that I met you!*

Brockville sent Edith forth to vie with the best of them in English and History Classes. In spite of her course she found time for all College activities—and festivity—and attained deserved renown in Dramatic and Lit.

A nature merry yet serious, frank yet sympathetic, and "constant as the stars."

GORDON MERRITT SHRUM.

*Thankful you are I bet
Thankful that I met you!*

Gord was born at Smithville, back in '6. Received early education at Smithville and Hamilton, after which he joined the Vic class of 17. He saw much service in France and was decorated at Cambrai. Ever cheerful God is sure to have plenty of friends.

HAROLD M. SMITH.

Foolishness."*

Child Harold entered in 1911, dogged by scholastic fame. Prominent in the Bob, Class President 1916. Overseas with Divisional Signallers 1919-21. Senior Strick of 178, President of Historical Club 1919-21. No vices beyond an innocent passion for first-class, which has not damaged his popularity with either sex. Future—Osborne and the Bench.

LYLLA E. SMITH.

"I never find here but to find."

Lylla came as a graduate from Parkdale Collegiate to Victoria with the class of '20. Her specialties are Household Science and "gym," and in both she has been remarkably successful. While at College she has proved herself an earnest student and a sincere friend. Her future is a promising one.

FRANCES EVELYN SNIDER.

"Where's she met a stranger, there she left a friend!"

Coming from St. Jacobs, Ont., Frank (too short), but Frank was long started her collegiate career at Berlin but matriculated at Kitchener. Her brilliancy at college has shown itself in Household Science and Athletics. Basketball and Tennis in turn claimed her as Captain. Something about her has won the love and admiration of us all but—her modesty prevents us from telling what!

LUCILLE H. STANLEY.

She is neat and complete Loom her head to her feet."

Lucille left Lucan in the pursuit of knowledge in 1916. After undergoing slow torture at Faculty she enrolled with the sophomores of 270. Here she quickly made many friends and showed that the good fairies who watched over her cradle had endowed her with thrift, industry, and ambition.

VICTORIA COLLEGE

ELIZABETH STERLING.

"Much may be made of a Scotchman if he be caught young."

Elizabeth, captured by kind fate At the susceptible age of eight, From native heath transplanted to our shore, Grew and grew, then grew a little more. From Essex High School fared she forth to Vic; With her as "Pres.," Dramatics did the trick; In argument, hot, pointed shafts she hurled; We loved her—"Friend of all the world"

ROBERT EDWARD STEWART.

*"To do my best and let that stand,
The record of my 'how and how'."*

Bert was born on the farm at Baltimore, Ontario, 1891. Colbourn Collegiate and Albert College, Belleville, prepared him for Vic '17. Enlisted in '16. Corporal in the 84th Battalion C.E.F. Won the Military Medal at Canal du Nord. A genuine unselfish character, full of Irish humour.

BENSON SMITH SUMMERS.

*"A sl of fire,
No danger fright I am and—
No loss of fire."*

Morrisburg Collegiate well prepared and paid more creditable or welcome tribute to "Vic." With a wealth of music, optimism and energy "Ben" endowed '17. Adventurous, enthusiastic, worthy fighter, he still covets knightly deeds and honours in the front line of human progress.

WILLIAM ARTHUR WHALEY SWITZER.

*"Don't let it be the lamplight, he isn't there,
He plays that shape, a colder part."*

American by birth, Canadian by inclination. Medicine and Arts—says that terpsichorean too. Sec'y. Biological Club '17. Pres. 20 Vic '18.

"Switz was with us till Courcelette then he had to come home"

MARION E. THOMPSON.

"It's the things we see and the smiles we wear That's making the sunshine everywhere"

Chapter I—Born.
II—Harbord Collegiate Graduate.
III—Woes Begin in Household Science—e-c-e.
IV—How Sunny Ways Make Friends.
V—B.A.
VI—Westward Ho!
VII—Fate's Golden Web.

MURIEL H. THOMPSON.

*"They sell the game and know the limit,
And still gets all the fun there's in it."*

Muriel hails from Georgetown, but since 1916 Victoria College has claimed her a successful student of English and History. She has taken part in college activities and has won for herself many friends. The best wishes of 270 are hers for future success.

ROBERT GARNER THOMPSON.

*"So unattached, so composed a mind,
So firm, so soft, so strong, and yet so kind."*

"Bob" began life at Madoc, Ont. June 25 1895, matriculated from Stirling H. S. 1915, belonged to the class of '17, specialized in Philosophy; won Brewster scholarship. Served three years in Royal Warwickshire Regiment, was President, Glee Club and Y.M.C.A. editor Acta.
Objective—Missions in China.

EDITH MARIE THORNTON.

"Happily to meet from yonder to gay."

From Woodstock, Marie came to Victoria, where in spite of prolonged illness in her sophomore year she more than held her ground in English and History. College interests and as a leading figure in her year.

Her name upon the Intercollegiate Debating Shield, Associate Editorship of Varity, and Presidency of Lit. are minor evidences of promising literary abilities.

VICTORIA COLLEGE

ADELAIDE PEARL WESTON.

*Love makes the wilderness "the garden"
And makes even a thorn a rose.*

A former "and a Harvard girl" is at present coming to Victoria and joining with those seeking enjoyment in the General Course. Her pleasant smile and happy disposition have won her many friends who wish her the best of luck.

NORMAN WESLEY WHITMORE.

"I greatly would not I could be a university."

Receiving his early education in his town of his birth, St. Thomas, he enrolled in class at Victoria. After three and one half years overseas and a term at Edinburgh University he is back on "The Old Ontario Strand" absorbing sound learning and some Theology.

RACHEL ELSTRED WOOD.

There is a note in her that says "university."

Rachel played the first acts of her life in St. George. The allurement of Victoria attracted her hither, where with other well-thinking students she entered General Course. Throughout it she has set the example of punctuality and steadfastness.

Her future is shrouded in mystery, but her sterling qualities point to success.

HENRY MERVYN WRIGHT.

There is a promise in him that says "university."

It was a frosty day in March when he began his career, but his pleasant smile shows no trace of low temperature. Partially a Clapham product, Matric. C. C. L. 1915.

Entered public life on Malahide Circuit. Won fame as Pres. of U. L. S. '19. Theology next. Then what? Who knows?

History of Class 2T0

Kappa chi, lambda pi, sigma Beta mu,
Alpha Iota, alpha Iota, gamma delta nu,
Alpha Iota, alpha Iota, alpha Iota chi,
Victoria, Victoria 2T0.

1916 and again the hoary halls of Vic resounded with the tread of many feet. But this time not with the thud of number tens, for tripping feminine footsteps drowned them out three to one. War's red pages claimed the names that might have been written on the scrolls of 2T0. But it is quality not quantity that counts and we were there with the pep. Doomed to be a scrapless year we still had the "Bob" where the sophs were kindly cruel to our first president, Eastcott, and the rest. But the way our singing drowned out the songs of 1T9 was almost disrespectful to the lordly but helpless sophs. The scrap was replaced by a soccer match and tug-of-war. 2T0 was not yet used to working together as a team and so lost the soccer match, but our brawn was too much for the sophs in the tug-of-war. In the spring of the year we lost some of our members through the cruelty of the examiner's axe, others through enlistment, but in the fall we were joined by a number of fresh sophs from other colleges. The "Bob" that year was of course much above the average and 2T0 did wonders in bringing up the docile year of 2T1 in the way it should go. Great credit is due the fair sex for upholding the traditional 2T0 spirit in this the last year of the war, and our overseas members will testify that we did not forget them in their absence. 2T0 did her bit with true Canadian spirit; the girls were always willing helpers in the Red Cross tea-room and other patriotic work. We are leaving a Victory Bond to the college to commemorate this damntless wartime class. It was in this year that the name of George Parrish was added to Victoria's list of fallen, and 2T0 mourned a loved member. In our third year came the joyous day of the armistice. '20 was well represented in the noisy, happy throng that constituted the first public parade of Varsity women students. Soon we began to enjoy the effects of peace. Uniformed figures appeared daily in our ranks and feminine hearts fluttered at the sight of the bronzed warriors that 2T0 was now able to claim. The fourth year saw our numbers swelled still more by returned men, and the whole college assumed its pre-war habits and customs. The "Bob," the scrap, the receptions and other traditional activities flourished again, and now we tremble lest our lady of May be too cruel to those who have been too gay. In this year Amesley Hall and its annexes were so crowded that the seniors were hidden to seek other domiciles. They have missed many of the joys and privileges of residence life, but who has not heard that sigh of relief that it is no longer necessary to flee from the ball, Cinderella-like, at twelve o'clock?

"Sports and society," why is not there a college course by that name? 2T0 would surely have joined it in a body. The girls have carried off the inter-year hockey and basketball championships with unflinching regularity. We have boasted six players on the first tennis team and three on the basketball, and our swimmers are in the first rank. Does not this record prove that 2T0 "can't be beat?" As for the second part of that ideal course, well ask anyone who has attended our class parties and they will tell you of our ability to produce good times. And was there ever a dance around Varsity at which our year was not represented? Oh, frivolous, tradition-breaking 2T0 can Victoria ever forget you? Even the weight of senatorial dignity could not deprive you of your jazz. The professors may have held up their hands in horror at the work that was not done, but do not our two Prince of Wales Scholarship men, not to mention numerous lesser lights, testify that we have brains in abundance? And what better way of using those brains than studying how to get the maximum of joy out of four fleeting years?

We may have laughed too much and worked too little,

Delayed too long to burn the midnight oil,
But we have loved you dear old Vic, and striven

To gain those things that are not won by toil,
The heightening of the finest in our natures,

The learning that we all must play the game,
The friendships and the broadening you've given.

For these dear Vic, we'll always bless your name.

Victoria College Orchestra

At the beginning of the academic year 1919-20, Victoria College lacked just one unit to make its number of student organizations complete, namely, an orchestra, organized and holding regular practices. Accordingly, on Thursday afternoon, October 23, by the kind permission of Miss Addison, who unfortunately was unable to be present, a delightful tea was held in Amnesley Hall common room for the purpose of interesting prospective orchestra members and arranging a schedule for the season. The Director of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, Dr. Vogt, who was present, spoke a few words of encouragement, and in glowing terms introduced Mr. Frank Blachford, prominent violinist of the Conservatory, whose services as conductor the orchestra was fortunate in securing.

From that time regular practices have been held and have witnessed the assembling of a score or thereabouts of enthusiastic members. The selections are not too heavy nor yet too light, out are in that happy medium of good music.

The orchestra, although composed in the majority of Victoria College students, is representative of several other faculties, so that interest in its success is not limited to one faculty only. The outlook for the season is very promising.

An annual concert is being given at which music-lovers will have the opportunity of listening to a varied programme of orchestral music, and where it is hoped they will be able to appreciate the enterprise of a few farsighted students in commencing what undoubtedly will become an indispensable college institution. They who actively participate in making a success of the Victoria College orchestra find that it is not the least important and profitable diversion of the University career.

To the Graduating Class of Trinity College

BY

PROVOST MACKLEM

PROVOST MACKLEM

Sir William Osler, by whose death on 29th December last Trinity College lost one of her greatest alumni, used to urge every student to remember that the education upon which he is engaged is not a College course, but a life course, for which the work of the few years under teachers is but a preparation. The Graduating Class of 1920 might well carry away with them and apply these pregnant words of one of their fellow-graduates, who never ceased to be a student from his school-boy days in Trinity College School, till the illness which terminated fatally in his 71st year. So helpful is this theme of Dr. Osler that I could hardly do better than pursue it further, as my message to the Class of 1920. And in doing so I will try to speak as far as possible in his own words.

This famous teacher, who always encouraged his students to look for great results as the reward of faithful and persevering work, had a quaint way of expressing the value he set upon achievements of the mind. The value of a really great student to the country, he declared, is equal to half a dozen grain elevators or a new transcontinental railway. And there is no telling when or where he may arise. Even now, said Dr. Osler, some twentieth century Aristotle may be tugging at his bottle, as little dreaming as are his parents or his friends of a conquest of the mind, beside which the wonderful victories of the Stagirite will look pale.

Concerning the hard struggle which lies before most young men in those critical years after leaving College, when they are striving to establish themselves in business or in their profession, he counsels them not to be discouraged by the severity of their conditions. If a young man's life is hard and exacting; if he is underpaid and overworked; if he has but little time for study and less for recreation—these are the blows that may give finer temper to his steel, and bring out the nobler elements in his character.

Another subject upon which Dr. Osler loved to dwell was the important distinction between knowledge and wisdom. When he held his first class in clinical medicine at the Montreal General Hospital, he supplied his students with notebooks on which he had caused to be printed these words of Frönde:

"The knowledge which a man can use is the only real knowledge, the only knowledge which has life and growth in it, and converts itself into practical power. The rest hangs like dust about the brain, or dries like raindrops off the stones."

What we call sense or wisdom is knowledge ready for use, made effective, and bears the same relation to knowledge itself that bread does to wheat. It is a common error to think that the more a man reads and sees the more he knows. No one really knows anything except that knowledge which he makes his own, and this is wisdom. Get accustomed to test all sorts of book problems and statements for yourself, and take as little as possible on trust. Dr. Osler used to say; and he was never tired of repeating Cowper's lines:

"Knowledge and wisdom, far from being one,

"Have oft-times no connexion. Knowledge dwells

"In heads replete with thoughts of other men;

"Wisdom in minds attentive to their own,

"Knowledge is proud that he has learned so much;

"Wisdom is humble that he knows no more."

Is it too much to hope that amongst our Graduates of 1920 there will be some who, like Dr. Osler, will continue to be students all their lives, and will emulate his concentration of mind and energy upon the work in hand? And let them not forget the daily relaxation of the mind by the pursuit of some hobby or avocation, which in Dr. Osler's case was Literature. They should also cultivate another characteristic of that great physician, namely, an all-embracing humanity, which enters into the cares and the joys of other lives as if they were one's own. In the Class of 1920 there may be developing, even now, another "William Osler," who shall astonish the coming generation by great achievement in his chosen field of work, by the treasures of his mind, and the attractiveness of his personality.

TRINITY COLLEGE

M. AILEEN BOYD.

"Modest, kindly, all-accomplished, wise."

Attended Hill Croft School, Bobcaygeon, and matriculated from Bishop Strachan School. English and History. Played on hockey and basketball teams throughout her course, being captain of the latter 1918-9. In swimming contest each year, and head 1917-8. Is editor-in-chief of S. Hilda's "Chronicle," and a good all-round girl who is everyone's friend.

JOHN L. CHARLESWORTH.

"Simplicity and boy's innocence"

Enlisted in Guelph from April 4th, 1896 until 1914. Then discovered at Trinity reading "Locke" as the precocious head of year IT8. Only faults: chess, bridge, fussing and flirtations. Attached to Inniskilling Fusiliers. Wounded. Captured. Germans regret mistake. Returned to Trinity 1918, older, wiser, but no better. Wavers between law and the press.

ALBERT C. CLARK.

"A man ripe, perfect above history, able to manage his men and other men's affairs."

February 10, 1900, the stock paid a visit to Dunnville, Ont. Matric. at St. Clement's College, Toronto. Prominent in athletics. Treasurer of the Literary Society '18; Dramatic Society '19; Editor-in-Chief of "Review" '20. Law is his chosen profession.

MAY CLAYTON.

"Her ten eyes know the truth."

Was born in St. Mary's, Ontario, but spent her early years in Brooklyn, N.Y., and came from Warsaw High School to Toronto University, entering S. Hilda's. After her third year, worked as chemist in the Smokeless Powder Plant, Trenton, and subsequent to the explosion there, at Drummondville, P.Q. Belonged to IT9, and to the Household Science Department.

F. GORDON COOK.

"How much more elder art thou than thy looks."

A native of Toronto. Matriculated from University Schools to enter Classics at Trinity with Class IT6. Volunteered for Overseas service in 1918. Long distance running and tennis par excellence. A merry laugh and a kindly nature won a host of friends. The law entices; may the law reward.

VERA CROSSLEY.

"In fellowship she wel cometh she laughs and carps."

Was born in Duffield, Derbyshire, and educated in the Old Country, entering the General Course in Toronto University. Has played tennis for the college four times, and been University champion twice. Is President of the U.W.D.U., Secretary of S. Hilda's "Lit.," and uses her artistic gifts to good purpose for the college.

PHILIP W. DAWSON.

"A warm heart, an experienced host, an eternal friend, and without the least reserve."

The accident happened at Rosthern, Sask., on July 31, 1903. Matric. at Melfort High School. From Saskatchewan University to Trinity University, Toronto. Assistant Treasurer Athletic Society and Librarian of Literary Society 1919. He will continue his studies for the next few years.

THEODORE F. W. DE PENCIER.

"I'm must take and add me eyes."

He P. first saw the light of day in Toronto not more than twenty-three years ago. He came to us from McGill, Vancouver, and belongs to year '17. He was for three years a lieutenant with the R.F.A. Is Secretary of the Athletic, a member of the Glee Club, and a fusser.

TRINITY COLLEGE

PERCIVAL S. WARREN.

*"I tower of strength which stood four square
In all the winds that blow."*

Began life at Brechin, April 15, 1880. Entered Trinity in G. and M. class '16 from Orilla Collegiate, 26th Battery, France; hospital, England, home, and Trinity again. A stalwart in sports and college life, football team, running, President Science Club, Editor "Review," Secretary "Lit.", he may look with confidence to the future.

JOHN B. WEST

"Grant I have mastered learning's rubbed text, Still there's the coming."

Johnnie came to Wyolffe from St. Catharines Collegiate, enrolling in Classics '19. Transferred his allegiance to Trinity in second year. Has taken an active part in college functions, the "Lit." especially. The allotment of the Classics has proved irresistible. He is doomed to end his days over musty MSS.

VIEWS OF TRINITY COLLEGE

History of Class 2T0

In the beginning was the electron, and the electron was in the atom, and the atom was the ion. The same was in the beginning in the molecule. All things were made of molecules, and without molecules was not anything made that was made. And towards the end of the nineteenth century certain particular molecules were called together, endowed with peculiar virtues, and shaped into some nineteen human forms. These forms grew and developed, and as they began to leave youth for manhood, lo, they suddenly found themselves gathered together in one place. And the place was Trinity, and the year was 1916. Such was the origin of 2T0.

Under the leadership of J. J. Martin the freshman year was very successfully completed. Finding the college much depleted through war ravages, '20 carried off most of the athletic honours, including the '13 cup for most men in athletics and the Inter-year Basketball Cup. Otherwise the year was filled with the usual freshman troubles and pleasures, including the bestowal of a small number of Orders of the Bath. Towards the end of the year the call to travel became too strong, however, and by the end of the examinations four men were preparing to go to Europe, soon to be followed by three others.

These losses, together with that of four more who for divers reasons did not return, although partly offset by two new arrivals starting at their second year, left the sophomore year rather small. Being too few to make good teams they turned their attention to literary matters, and both in this year and the next carried off the inter-year debating shield. It should be mentioned that the year was now under the leadership of A. N. Hoath, commonly called "Hubbub," through the departure of the aforementioned lead to more dangerous heights in the R.A.F. It was about this time that the members began to receive certain appellations which, while distinctive, can hardly be called complimentary. Thus there were "Baboon Booth," "Crazy Clark," "Critical Colgate," "Garrulous Graham," "Lazy Lowe," "Premature Patterson," "Ritual Robbins," "Stupid Stout," and sundry other alliterative, if not quite flattering, descriptions.

Thus the year continued its way through good fortune and ill, those at home lamenting that they could not be at the front, those at the front wishing nothing better than to be at home again, but each carrying on to the best of his ability. Then the armistice came and back came our former members. H. R. Lawrence and K. W. Hill, J. Lowe and J. A. Johnson, J. J. Martin and D. A. Martin returned to the fold until the senior year again numbered thirteen members. But owing to this untimely interruption of the war, which '20 unanimously thinks might have chosen a fitter time, only four are graduating and these include but two originals of the year.

However, if '20 cannot supply many graduates this year, there are nevertheless a goodly number to shake the tiger's paw. Due to the same old war some ten other men formerly with years '19, '18, '17 and backward, who also left the college to take care of itself, have returned and are completing their course this year. So if this graduating year has had many vicissitudes there is at least variety in it, and "Variety is the spice of life."

RUTH M. AGNEW.

"Constant, pouring all that weight of learning lightly like a flower."

In the dawn of a joyful morn Ruth first saw sunrise in Montreal, and has basked in its ray ever since. For scholarships warranted "The First of Firsts." Her success in Music and Moderns has been staged at St. Joseph's College, which she represented on "Varsity," "The Lilies" and "Torontonensis."

RAYMOND B. CONLOGUE.

"Disseminator of the spoken word, Enthusiast in the deed."

Raymond first heard of in Palms, Michigan. Came, some years later, to Toronto, where he attended St. Paul's School and De La Salle C.J. successively. Bobby, linguistic gymnast; hence, Moderns at U. of T.

His genuine disposition won for him many friends, who join in wishing him a successful future.

KATHLEEN J. COSTELLO.

"There is no joy but calm."

A Harbord graduate, "Kath" came to L.A.C. in 1916. In first and second years she developed an extraordinary weakness for Latin, but in third year this faded away before the visions of heaped up wealth which Economics presented.

Although calmness is her motto, her sparkling wit has done much to promote "esprit de corps."

CHARLOTTE D. CRONIN.

"I rock sedate, I tremble, I am a woman."

Born in Toronto, and educated at the Ursuline Convent, Quebec City, until 1914, when she spent a year at Loretto's Abbey, winning a scholarship in Arts. She won a reputation at argument that obtained for her the representation of St. Michael's College in the Women's Debating Union, Torontonensis Board, Arts.

WM. M. FLANNERY.

"Th' applause of list'ning senates to command, The threats of pain and failure to despise."

A product of North Bay, and proud of it. Member of champion debating team 1918-19. Bill combines a rare wit with a winning smile, and is everybody's friend. Never worries, but gets there just the same.

G. EARL FRASER.

"If those around us is his honest thought And simple truth his mind's cell."

Earl is another of the Capital City's illustrious sons. An ex-pupil of Ottawa College and Collegiate. Polemicist, chess player, and the philosopher "par excellence" of the Irish Flat. Indulges in hockey, Rugby, swimming, boxing and surreptitious feeds. Unassuming, but persistent. An original thinker and an all-around character but rather retiring.

J. BERNARD GILLIES.

"It matters not how long you live but how well."

Heaven sent him to Cornwall, 1886; matriculated from Cornwall High School '13, and has some recollections of a French college. Truited up Clover Hill to be a respected graduate of 210. War, sport and philosophy have all claimed him as a devotee. The man from Glengarry will be heard from later.

JOHN J. GLAVIN.

"I mean it, nothing is free."

Mount Carmel, Ontario, the native home of John. There he received his elementary schooling. Later he attended Assumption College and St. Michael's. His temperament is sanguine; his physique is strong, so strong that he has decided to use his persuasive right arm in wielding the teacher's sceptre.

ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE

LEONARD J. HODGINS.

"He makes friends wherever he goes."

Coming from MacLellan, Toronto, where after a three course at De La Salle he joined the University of Toronto. Plays hockey and is a good swimmer. His motto is, "When is the next race?" To be fair, we wish him the very best of luck.

JOHN C. JORDAN.

"Keeps his counsel, stays his own."

From St. North Collegiate he journeyed to Faculty of Education. Taught for two years. Joined class IT9 as a soph., member of staff. Spent last year teaching in Ottawa, returned to graduate with class. IT1. Besides arguing out, Hodgins, morning paper and billiards. We wish him a successful future.

ARTHUR J. KELLY.

"Even though I suggested, I would I argue still."

From his freshman year Art has made his presence felt in educational and athletic circles. Business Manager, Year Book '28; representative to Students' Council '28-'29. Chose Philosophy, and when not working on Varsity and dancing he manages to imbibe sufficient learning to make the grade on high.

L. GABRIEL KEOGH.

"The student who is not a student, is not a student."

Born in Pembroke, but cosmopolitan, Gabe is really a product of Ottawa. Prepared at Ottawa College and Collegiate he has achieved Philosophy, Holder Gough Debating Trophy '28-'29, President I.C.D.E. '29-'30, Editor Year Book '29-'30, Vice-President Students' Council S.M.C. '29-'30. Believes in medals, scholarships, chess and athletics. A true friend.

ANNA MACKERROW.

"If I could have life, I'd have it."

Anna was born in Toronto, and lived it so well decided to stay. She trusted her education to S.M.C., and as a post-graduate joined Arts '29. In her final year she was Class President and Assistant Editor of "The Ladies". Quietly and wisely she bears herself in all things to success.

JAMES P. MANLEY.

"He makes friends wherever he goes."

Hockey, debating, classes, executive and dancing in the past four years have managed to keep Jim fairly well occupied. Still he has kept up the social whirl and never carried a star. With such a past we commend him to the care and guidance of Osgoode Hall.

JAMES A. O'BRIEN.

"His life is a game, it has no end."

"Art" hails from Hamilton with Honour Matriculation as credentials. In the field of learning Philosophy proved his choice. President of his year, the Students' Council and the Athletic Association, Rugby and "Art" are synonymous terms. One of the best players St. Mike's ever produced. Future—bright.

FRANCES L. REDMOND.

"Let that I will I will."

"John" made her first appearance as the very youthful possessor of a scholarship, but think ye not that her time has been devoted to the mere study of books. Her portrayal of Thelma has placed her in the Hall of Fame. Now she lends dignity to the office of treasurer on the Students' Council.

ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE

JAMES B. RYAN.

"I yawn to start the day with, and a smile to see it through."

Hamilton had the honour of first seeing Jimmie's smile. Matriculated from St. Mary's H.S. 1915. Hobbies are philosophy, dancing and athletics. Especially prominent in the latter, being a member of S.M.C.'s first Rugby and hockey teams. An all-round darn good fellow with lots of pep.

MICHAEL W. RYAN.

"I speak of one from many singled out."

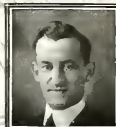

Bill's cradle was rocked in Peterboro. Seeking relief from slow suffering at school there, he joined the class of 17th Discharged soldier. Consistent worker. "Inside dope" on all questions. S.M.C. representative on the Students' Council. Occasional mysterious absences from the Irish Flat. Successful business career in store.

JOHN R. SHEA.

"His books, his cigarettes, his love, his money. These are his passions."

From Wellsville, N.Y., John came to St. Mike's to join the class of 20th. Quiet and dependable, he seeks after the worth while things in life. His motto is "slow but sure," and thus he goes forth with the best wishes of every member of his class.

WILLIAM J. STOREY.

"Loving, calm, gentle, firm."

The subject was born in Stratford, Ont., 1885. He received his primary education at the Separate School; his High School training at Assumption College, and his college training at St. Michael's. Having discovered the activity of pedagogic germs, he has decided to give them an opportunity to develop.

JOSEPH E. TALLON

"He has a loving disposition but says he doesn't dance."

Cornwall claimed Eddie as a citizen on February 17, 1897. Four years in the local school induced a thirst for further knowledge, and St. Michael's claimed another genial son. Graduated with class 1919, by military service.

GERTRUDE M. WALSH.

"These flashes, with a dash, are not a lie. She has a dash (and a temperance)!"

President of the Student's Council of L.A.C. and a St. Michael's representative on the Women's Administrative Council, U. of T. "These flashes," together with "the solid base of temperance," enable Gertrude to preach a sermon or execute an Indian war dance with equal facility.

St. Michael's College

To the Graduating Class in Medicine

BY

This class goes out with a glory never before achieved by its predecessors. Practically all of you "did your bit" in the great war, and graduate with a knowledge of the fact that you have already shown your capacity to suffer and to earn the gratitude and respect of your associates. The lessons learned on the other side of the Atlantic will not be without value, and you have, before this, realized that the spirit of sacrifice is essential to everyone who devotes his life to the altruistic profession of medicine. Things are changing, and while it is true that you graduate at the beginning of a new era, when the old order of things is passing away to be replaced by different ideals, yet the traditions with which you have been inspired are honourable ones, and will serve you well in your coming adventure in life if you live up to them.

My association with the students of the last twelve years has been intimate, and now that I am handing over the burdens of the Deanship to a successor, I am in a position to say that it has been an inspiration to know the hundreds of graduates of my regime. This has possibly been the most delightful part of an experience that was at times full of difficulty and anxiety. The graduates have been my friends, and as I pass through the different Provinces of Canada on my Mental Hygiene tours it is an almost every day experience to meet some of the University of Toronto graduates. They are upholding the honourable name of their Alma Mater with a dignity and success that proves, no matter what critics may say, that in the University there is an esprit de corps of which we should feel proud.

I wish you all the success to which you are entitled, and hope to keep in touch with many of you as the years steal by.

MEDICINE

JOHN PERCY ANDERSON.

HAROLD G. ARMSTRONG.

MRS. ISABEL AYER.

HAROLD E. BAKER.

John was born in North Norfolk in 1900. He was educated in the public schools of his native town. He entered the University of Toronto in 1918. Entered Medicine in 1923. A good student, a good fencer, and a real good scout. He will surely follow him in his chosen profession.

One of Harold's hardly ever. Born, 1905. Knows the joys of village school boy and fourth assistant on the farm. His "Brussels sprout" matriculated in 1911. At Stratford Collegiate won Hart's Scholarship, also First Edward Blake in Science. Wielded the birch for six years. Saw active service in the North Sea.

Mrs. Isabel Ayer began the study of Medicine at Alberta University. Came to Toronto in 1908. She has taken an active part in all activities. Her smile has won many friends.

Began his remarkable career at Elmville, Ont., February 20th, 1896. Attended Public School and Continuation School there, later matriculating from the Orillia High School. Graduated from the Ontario Medical College in 1915, finishing class 21.

KATHLEEN MCBRIEN BARTLEY.

WILLIAM FRANCIS BEAMISH.

GORDON L. BELL.

NATHAN JOHNSTON BICKNELL.

Kathleen Bartley, born in Toronto. A Methodist minister's daughter, has been a nominal free Irish girl, a diligent, generous and stable character, has a few but a few close friends, and a few medical studies.

"Beam" was born in Palmerston, Ont., but got most of his sterling qualities from the fresh air of the prairie. Edited a newspaper, taught school, took three years' Medicine in University of Alberta, and came to U. of T. in 1915. After which "West again" Vice and "Beam."

July 4th, 1896, heralded the arrival at Oro, Ont. Matriculated at Barrie Collegiate. Served as Surgeon Sub. Lieut. R.N.V.R. in England and Far East. Joined the Benefactors in his fourth year. At home on water as on land.

On July 24th, 1895, the town of Byng, Ont., welcomed Mike. Matric. Dunville High School, Medicine, 1915. Went overseas 1915 as a late private, and rose to the rank of lieutenant, 1916. Wounded July 24th, 1916. Resumed Medicine, 1917, and has been increasing in wisdom and avocations ever since. Still looking for a little bluebird in vain.

MEDICINE

BORIS BLACK.

"Much study is a warning to the flesh."

Born June 29th, 1891. Chose Medicine because at one time was suspected of pulmonary tuberculosis. Matriculated in 1914 at the St. John's College, Winnipeg, Man. Has been connected with the Manitoba Medical College.

MICHAEL JOSEPH BROWN.

"Tend to eat."

M. J. Brown, commonly known as "Mike" and worse, entered this world of joy and sorrow August 14th, 1883. His fond parents noticed precocious signs of his becoming medically bent, and it is now a matter of history that thinking it just a dementia, let him follow his whim. His hobbies, when he can snatch a few moments from his books, are ivory and green felt. His habits—I'm only allowed a limited space.

BEVERLEY B. R. BURNS.

*"He's little but he's wise."
"He's a terror for his own."*

The stork alighted in Orillia, 1895. Enjoyed two years' tuition at Lake Lodge, where he just won fame as a Rugby player. As a youth was attracted by the white lights, and entered Jarvis C.L. matriculating from there. The thought which always traversed the neurons of his encephalic tract was, "I've a right to know the secrets of the medical profession," and prompted by this, he enrolled with Meds '18. Overseas.

GORDON CAMPBELL CAMERON.

"My mom's my top model."

Born in Woodlilly, educated Woodstock Public School, Harbord and Brampton C.L. legates. Entered Medicine 1912. Overseas three years, army and navy. Varsity heavyweight champion 1914; Mulock Cup player '12 and '14. President Honor Fraternity 1914. A clear thinker, ready speaker, good raconteur, true friend. One of the best all-round men at Varsity.

EARL B. CLOUSE.

*"More might be and hereof to make a point.
Yet sure to say, more more than is enough."*

Born Toronto, 1892. Attended Provincial Model School, Harbord Collegiate. Matriculated from St. Andrew's College, 1910. Entered Medicine same year with 1915 class. During fourth year, 1914, reverted to other pastures. Returned to graduate with 1920 class.

WILLIAM DAVID STANLEY CROSS.

"Send letters on over."

First spanked in Stewart Town, 1892. Matriculated at Gravenhurst. After four years pounding pills, was attracted by buck-saws and splints, so entered Medicine, Queen's '13. Overseas Egypt and France Medical Corps two years. Entered Varsity '17. Participated Daffydil Night. Treasurer of final year.

AGNES ANN CURTIN.

"Each two at, one on her own."

Springing from the conventionalities of the Ottawa Valley, we find Agnes Curtin enjoying life teaching among the foreigners of Alberta. As President of the Students' Medical Society in Alberta, 1917, and of the Women's Medical Society in Toronto, 1919, she has shown her executive ability, iron will, and ever helping hand.

WILLIAM ALLAN DAFOE.

"He's a good one, but a little rough."

Born Madoc, August 14th, 1893. Followed paternal and fraternal footsteps into Medicine in 1915, after pursuing matriculation studies at Madoc, Woodstock College, Seaforth and Harbord. Spent almost three years in army and navy. A consistent student and brilliant "all-round" athlete. Wore "colors" as a sophomore, now Vice-President of Athletic Directorate. Ambitious, energetic, considerate, genial. Success awaits him.

MEDICINE

CHARLES SCOTT DICKSON.

*'The East is East and the West is West
But never the two shall meet'*

After wondering for years how alike they are, he then wonders how two so like can be so different. Their early history may be found in Torontonian, 1916. Their peripatetic lives since then could never be contained in such a short history. Sufficient to say, they followed the sea for a goodly time, and just when the navy was beginning to differentiate between them they hoisted anchor, and turned up as irrepressible, indefatigable and radiant as ever. May their success in after life be commensurate with their honours won in athletic and academic circles at the University.

WILLIAM BEATTY DICKSON.

JOHN FRANK DOCHERTY.

*'The things are few
The words are many
In friendship's name'*

Birthplace—Griswold, Man.
Fast History—Entered P. and B. 1176 with Carter Scholarships. Won his V. M. and T. at Sever. A lacrosse and hockey enthusiast. Served with R.N.V.R. in Mediterranean and North Sea.

Diagnosis—Internal medicosis.
Prognosis—Very good with Toronto practice.

GEORGE HARDEY EAGLES.

'Others are likely to live, or to love, but no one will feel what I feel.'

George happened in Owen Sound and began the cycle of another microcosm of infinitude. Played a distinguished part in freshman initiation. Played a little, sang a little and studied hard a little, but escaped stellar contributions from the Faculty. Honour matriculation Meaford High School '15. Also an up-to-date Baedeker of Muskoka—naughty George!

THOMAS ARTHUR ELLIS.

*'I shall be on a stage before I find out
I am a man'*

HAROLD FERGUSON.

'I'll hold you as I see'

Fergie began life in Uxbridge. Exhausted the knowledge of the local High School and Peterborough Normal, taught the home school, shook the mud from his feet, and drifted into Medicine. A man of few words but many friends. South House reports him no fussier, but we understand there's a woman in the case.

C. P. FITZPATRICK.

*'Long was the last and never the day,
But all shall be as it was on May.'*

From the day he first attracted attention by emitting a lusty dinner call, he has been a marked man. Now after the usual periods of probation and study he is prepared to demonstrate that "Old Man Much Medicine" made no mistake in claiming him for the profession. He will continue to be a marked man—for we are confident that success will place the seal upon his labours.

WILLIAM FULTON GILLESPIE.

'I have seen a pronounced septuagenarian about as looking as I do.'

Winked at the nurse first in '01 in Manila. Been doing it ever since. Public School, Lindsay; High School, Edmonton; Normal, Calgary; Arts degree, University of Alberta. Mashed to Yukon for nuggets; then Medicine. Conducted Med Orchestra in first appearance (and last?) in Massey Hall last Daffydil Night. Music? Effervescent!!!

MEDICINE

AARON GLASSBERG-VOLPE.

*"If ever I get out of here:
I'll specialize in pimples,
In liver, stomach, toes and ear,
And making ladies' dimples."*

Biography—uncertain. They tell me I was born in 1895 and Lord knows when I'll die.

OMER G. HAGUE.

"Ah, God! the petty foals of rhyme, Can't do me justice at such a time."

Natu Toronto, 1895. Mounted to our Alma Mater from Toronto preparatory schools and Oakwood C.I. Overseas, 196th C.E.F., 1916. Legislated wisely as Vice-President Students' Administrative Council, 1918-19-20. Steward Hart House, and member of Hart House House Committee, 1919-20. Chief mourner at all jazz funerals, contemporaneously.

ROBERT CARR HALL, B.A.

"A prairie-dog."

For lineage and birthplace consult Torontonensis, 1916. In addition to Varsity, it took thirteen trips across the prairie and one across the sea to make Bob what he is, which, apart from a scrap of learning imbibed and a couple of degrees affixed, is just what he was when he came to us. We want no better. Good luck to him.

H. WILLIAM HENDRY.

"I tap, tap, tap and perspire with magic Bellicious in the daytime, drums at night."

Born June 16th, 1893. Graced payroll G.T.R. at 12. Jumped to rubber and leather industries. Elevated to window-dressing and furs, leaving business life at 20 to start school. Matric. Jarvis C.I. Through musical profession attained medical profession.

WILLIAM ERNEST HENRY.

"Teni vidi vici"

Bill looked the proposition over, then enrolled at Victoria in B. and P., graduating there in '17. By this time he had a well-established reputation as a whirlwind to work when he works. His proven judgment and determination promises well for the future.

WALTER PIPER HOGARTH.

"Resolute, dumb, uncomplaining, a man in a world of men."

Winnipeg, June 14th, 1892, a son, Walter Piper. A Western protege. Matriculated Fort William. Wearying of a business career, entered Medicine with class '18. Overseas 1915. Egypt and Salonica, followed by Royal Navy. "M." for Rugby and wrestling, '14-15. Secretary-Treasurer Varsity Track Club, and Chairman Medical At-Home Committee final year. Member A.K.K.

ARCHIBALD LESLIE HUETHER.

"A merry heart doeth good like medicine."

For previous history see Torontonensis, 1915. His course, like many others, was interrupted, and although not of a flighty nature, he took to the air and did excellent work in Italy, where he received the Italian medal of bronze. On his return he helped to boost Varsity to victory in intercollegiate Soccer.

PERCY LYLE IRVINE.

*"A man he seems a cheerful soldier,
And content to march."*

Born at a very early age in Hulbert; then church, school, collegiate, commerce, love, courtship, marriage, music, medicine—thus temporarily ends his carnival of crime. Helped Frosh class win Daiford. Vice-President of second year. President of the fourth year. Fat, good-natured, a good mixer, a consistent worker, a fine fellow and a true friend, "that's Perce all over, Mabel."

MEDICINE

GEORGE STANLEY JEFFREY.

WILLIAM EALING JOHNSTONE.

GEORGE RUSSELL JONES.

GRAHAM ALBERY JORDAN.

He is a friendly, quiet, and thoughtful man. Born in London, Ont., was responsible for "Jett" during 1911, which the hickory two years. He entered Medicine. Always in a hurry, works hard, but enjoys life. Was thought to possess absolute immunity against the fair sex but fell at last. A member of the Alpha Omega Alpha Fraternity.

MEDICINE

WILLIAM DANIEL LANSPÉARY.

"Small in stature but full of pep and ambition."
W. D. Lanspeary first met his parents in Windsor, Ont., in 1895. Played quarterback for W.C.I., and matriculated there in 1915. Early ambition, medicine and matrimony; so far he has succeeded in both. Bill sang a little, and was among the winners of the envied "Daffodil Cup," '17-18. Loved by his friends; respected by his enemies.

HAROLD SMITH LITTLE.

"A sunny disposition is the very soul of success."—Malthus.
Ridgetown, Ont., cradled his youth and gave him his primary and collegiate education. Entered Medicine '14. Enlisted as Surgeon Sub-Lieut. R.N.V.R. spring '17. Returned to Medicine fall '18. Capacity for work and geniality of manner augur well for abundant success in his chosen profession.

WILLIAM CARUTHERS LITTLE.

*"The ambition is here
Was nothing much better
And rather less than art."*
Born at Churchill September 14th, 1895. Barrie since '95. Entered Meds as the infant of the year '17. Overseas from August, 1915, to October, 1918. Was promoted gradually and surely from rank of gunner to lieutenant, C.F.A. Military Medal, November, 1916, at Moequet Farm. Rejoined Meds '20 in the 4th year. Member of A.K.K. Fraternity.

FRANK PERCY LLOYD.

"Not as a soldier, to be killed nor to kill."
Traced back to New Brunswick. Has gathered knowledge in several climes; B.A. (Buck), M.A. (Tor.). Wounded Vimy '17. A born fighter, his aggressiveness, keenness of perception and executive ability have repeatedly placed him in academic positions of honour. Is impetuous but reasonable; brusque but kind; commands respect; gives it where merited. Is withal very human.

FREDERICK ALEXANDER LOGAN.

*"Oh, there you could
That has such people in it."*
—"Hippocrate."
John first heard the rumble of the Falls at Niagara, 1894. Graduated P. and B. class 1To. Member Alpha Omega Alpha Honour Fraternity. John's Scottish stability wasn't sufficient for the rolling of a destroyer, but his cordiality and genial disposition assure his success. Partnership planned, but not with a doctor.

HOWARD A. LOWRIE.

"He was 'intended' quite a while."
Public School at Hamilton and Millbank. Roamed, aspired to everything but Medicine. Entered College of Physical Education '11. Hospital C.I. '12, Medicine '14. St. Michael's Hospital as intern '17. Now hopes to fool them this year.

DUNCAN MORRISON MASSON.

"No use prating of love and real big friends."
Born Owen Sound, February 28th, 1892. Honour matriculation Harbord C.I. 1910. Successfully put a year at Arts and school before joining P. and B. '16. Overseas 23th Battery, March, 1915, to August, 1917. Graduated Arts '18. Member Alpha Omega Alpha Honour Fraternity. Keen thinker, reliable, a good friend to all.

JOSEPH JOHN MCCLINTOCK.

"It's not as much fun as it looks."
Born at Lisle, Ont., in the early nineties. Matriculated from Riverdale Collegiate. Spent some time in prospecting and mining. Finally decided to wield Hippocrates' magic wand and entered Medicine with class 2To. and hopes to graduate with it.

MEDICINE

JANET RODGER McCLURE.

*"My day's coming, you'll find that;
I'll be in the '30's, '35, '40, '45."*

Having spent many years in China and the States, Canadian instinct led her to choose Toronto University as Alma Mater. Cheerful fellowship and unwavering loyalty in all things made Janet a general favorite. May her future endeavours in the Orient meet with the success she merits!

FLORENCE SPAULDING McCONNEY.

"My play has remained your companion and I've taken the aim of pleasure fairly often."

Florence S. McConney (nee Hardy), born Lindsay, educated Moulton and Jarvis, devoted love and medicine were two great things in life, so married and graduated in Arts, 1917. Her hobbies are church parties and brisles' receptions; a true friend, delightfully sarcastic and feminine, fond of fun; occasionally serious.

WILLIAM GORDON McCORMACK.

"It's a tedious task that has no taxing."

Born, yes—some years ago in the village of Toronto. Decided on Medicine because I thought it was the easiest—oh! how I've been enlightened. Went overseas in the army, but the navy heard about it, and I had to enter the senior service.

GEORGE O. McDONALD.

"I'm not too steady, and sure it will be."

Born in Lakeside, Ont., in 1893. Honour graduate of Ingersoll Collegiate in 1910. Graduated from London Normal School in 1911. Taught school in Essex County for four years before entering Medicine. Treasurer of Medical Society, 1916-1917. Financial Manager of "Daffydil," 1917-1918.

JAMES EDWARD MCGILLIVRAY.

"Oh! yes, I hate to get up in the morning."
Born August 12th, 1894, at Plaisance, Quebec; still going strong. Matriculating Weyburn Collegiate, old Mac breezed in from the West with class '17. 26th Battalion two and one-half years. M.M. St. Ebd. Vice-President Medical Society, 1918-19. President Athletic Association, 1921. Member A.K.K. Hobbes' Hockey and medical dances.

"Friend to many and friend of more."

PETER DOUGLAS McINTOSH.

"Is I have no career, I love myself."
Local pretensions antedating authentic Scottish history "Doug" survived St. Andrew's well, finishing 100 per cent. Simon pure for his Alma Mater; 1915 saw him a son of Mars; later he pursued the elusive Boche into many a fatal "spin." For "Doug," always gracefully urbane and professionally proper, we anticipate a respectable longevity in fame.

ALEXANDER LYNN MCKAY.

"Good, undoubtedly, by stress and strain; Inclined to work, and not to waste."

For details of early life see Torontonensis, 1916. After graduating, Alex. went to the assistance of Sir David in handling the Grand Fleet. He joined H.M.S. "Undine," and soon the wardroom resounded with his infectious laugh. After demobilization he attended Guy's Hospital, but returned to Varsity to complete his course.

WINFIELD HALMES MILLER.

"Then, alas! He was not coming from living in the States."

Born in Bartlett, N. Dakota, 1897. Matriculated in Barrie in 1914. Entered Medicine same year. Served as Surgeon Sub-Lieut. K.N.V.R. Member A.K.K. He is not as fat as he used to be.

MEDICINE

ELFORD J. NELSON.

*"There are strange things done
'Neath the midnight sun."*

Made his first visit to Guelph, April 12th, 1897. Absorbed sufficient knowledge there to admit him to Medicine, '15. Finds time to dabble in sports; has an ear for music; is merry of eye and jovial in disposition. "Nels" can be serious when occasion demands, though never austere. Will charm patients.

JONATHAN EDWARD NUNN.

*"It is not good that man should be alone."—
Gen. 3:18.*

Barely born in the late eighties. Arrived in the Wild West at the early age of three and glad of it. Normaled in Winnipeg, developed pedagogical acumen and an appetite for kinoodling. President of Freshman Year, a tenor voice, a sweet smile, a wife in the fifth year. Summum bonum homini!

HAROLD T. PALMER.

*"He's a good fellow, and all will be well!"
—Omar Khayam*

"Hip" first heard the telephone March 30th, 1897. Junior matriculation Brantford, 1913. Medicine, 179. Overseas as Surgeon Probationer. Member Alpha Omega Alpha Honour Fraternity. "Hip" has taken an active interest in all phases of college life—social, athletic and academic. A good worker, with lots of ambition.

RUSSELL ETHELBERT PALMER.

"Hasten slowly"

Born London, 1892. Received early education at Aberdeen P.S. and L.C.I. Later came to Toronto and matriculated at H.C.I. Learned the art of the pharmacist, and finally allured by the philosophy of Hippocrates, entered Medicine '14.

PAUL EVAN PICKETT.

"I find nonsense singularly refreshing."

Born in Illinois, 1893. Attended school in Colorado, Oklahoma and Idaho. Took honour matric, at Vic. Treasurer of the fourth year. As President 1919-20, infused new life into the Medical Y.M.C.A. Enlisted in American navy, but was returned to complete education. Paul is an American of broad sympathies, and a prince of fellows.

ARTHUR PODNOS.

"Let the end try the man."

In eighteen ninety-five this youth
Was born on Russian soil;
He is a wondrous lad, forsooth,
He feareth not to toil.

When twelve years old he crossed the seas,
Then went through Harbord here,
And now he'll graduate with ease,
We've not the slightest fear.

WILLIAM GAYNER POWELL.

*"—And every story tell,
He capped it with a better one"*

Gayner's early career is chronicled in Torontonensis, '16. Since then he has upheld the traditions of the British Navy as a sailor and a gentleman. A genial personality and a ready wit have won for him a host of friends at Varsity and elsewhere.

DeWILLETT STANLEY PUFFER.

*"They are all fire and every one doth shine,
But there's but one in all doth hold his place."*

Originally '16 P. and B., served nearly three years overseas, B.A. '18. He has held innumerable executive offices, capping them all as editor-in-chief of the Varsity. A writer of great promise, he's at once a clear thinker, a strong personality and a trusty friend.

MEDICINE

HARRY JOHN QUINN.

Birthplace unknown, discovered in Collingwood about 1891. Matric. 1908. Took small children along the flower path of knowledge for three years. Entered Medicine 1914. Served as 2nd Lieutenant R.N.V.R. Returned 1918. Member A.K.K. Fraternity. Secretary of 261 1920. Vice-President 5th year. He smokes the given number of cigarettes.

JOHN SPENCE REID.

Born December 26th 1896, Tilsonburg, Ont. Entered Arts, Medicine, U. of T., 1909, B.A. 1914. Enlisted private C.A.M.C. Overseas April, 1915. Commission 2nd Lieut. South Staffordshire, July, 1915. Sent Pen outbreak April, 1916. Captain, May, 1917. Wounded Baupenne front, June, 1917. M.C. Cambrai, December, 1917. Returned to Canada, June, 1918. University tennis champion, 1912, U. of T. teams team, 1919. Member A.K.K. and A.O.A. President 5th Medicine.

FRED RITTINGER.

He began to drink at Kitchener, May 14th, 1897. Attended Public School and High School at Kitchener. Entered Medicine at University of Toronto, 1915, casting his lot with class 2T0.

FREDERICK C. ROBBINS.

Re-association first applied at St. Mary's, Ont. about a quarter of a century ago. Matriculated from St. Mary's Collegiate. Was in commercial life for several years, gradually accumulating a little filthy lucre. Acted as President of the second year.

J. WINFIELD RUSH.

Orillia, Ont., he claims as his birthplace. Matriculation at Aurora High School, 1908. Claims the long distance running championship of that institution. Graduate Ontario College of Pharmacy (Honours), 1914. Entered Medicine, 1st year, class representative of Pharmacy, 1916. President third year, 1917. Authority on gold mines and race horses. Faculty number is 15.

NORMAN H. RUSSELL.

1894. Slim was born in Indian Mission Field (primary education at Brampton, Ont. 14-15-16. Joiner. Union Mills Kingsley town, waters of Mulock Cup. 1913-16-17 Overseas. Private, cook, 5th Field Ambulance; Platoon Lieut. 18th Battalion. Wounded at Correkette seven times, but never counted out. 18. Recuperating among the ladies, one in particular. President of Medical Society. His future is assured in Medicine.

PETER SAUDER.

L.O.A. at Marlham, October 31st, 1909. Matric. North Toronto, 1911. Started Medicine, 1913. Out following year; back again 1915. Vaccinated November 6th, 1919, and married two days later. Still happy.

E. H. SHANNON.

Only Law in Toronto, and matriculated from Harbord C.I. in 1914. The second intention of his life was passed with his entrance into Medicine in 1915. By some wit, some industry, and some good luck, he evaded destruction and dissected his way through, in the accompaniment of an occasional symphony orchestra and many a rustle of silk.

MEDICINE

ROY CLIFFORD SHAVER.

"A diamond in the rough is a diamond pure enough."

Toronto heard his first cry in 1885. Matriculated at Humberstone, 1902. Entered Queen's in '13. Overseas Egypt and France Medical Corps. Entered Varsity '17. Hard luck, girls, he is sentenced.

HAROLD GLENN STEVENSON.

"Let others halt the rising sun"

The stork let "Stevie" down one frosty a.m. at Chatham, May, 1895. Exposed to education in C.C.I. and Oshawa High School. Survived to graduate P. and B. '16. Never allows studies to interfere with co-education. Surgeon Sub-Lieut. R.N.V.R. Member A.K.K. Future specialty "babies."

ALVIE EARL STEWART.

"A man of cheerful yesterday and confident tomorrow"

Originated in Hamilton, but in spite of this fact bids fair to be a man. One year teaching; one year at Victoria; saw the light and entered Medicine. Fond of argument, good rats and ladies, with special attention to nurses. Known to have worked hard at long intervals when in South Residence.

BERNARD CHARLES SULLIVAN.

"And on I go, my glass now raised"

Bernard Charles started life in Toronto, July 17, 1893. Senior matric at St. Michael's College, and started in Meds. Landed overseas in the navy. Played hockey with St. Michael's College, and has a strong desire to finish this year.

WILLIAM DOUGLAS SWAN.

"I feel the great immensity of life"

Born in Brucefield, Ont., 1890. Matriculated 1907. Pedagogue four years. Entered P. and B. 1911. Served on Class Executive in third year Arts. Won his "T" Varsity First Soccer team. Graduated in Arts, 1915. Served as Surgeon Sub-Lieut. R.N.V.R. Member of A.K.K.

GEORGE THEODORE URQUHART.

"The man worth while is the man with a smile, if he is everything goes well along."

Discovered in Owen Sound in 1891. Polished off as a teacher at Stratford, Ont. After three years' teaching had an inspiration for high ideals, and entered Medicine. Always fancied pappies, so he visited Flanders Fields, and after two years he returned to finish Medicine.

LYNDD EGERTON VERITY.

"I believe in a life"

"Pete," as the boys were wont to call him, is a product of the "Verity Plot," of Brantford, Ont. He early deserted the "plov" and turned his mind to the "knife," having first steadied his heart as to "An Anchor." A conscientious and enthusiastic student of his chosen study, in the midst of his university course he went overseas and served as a Surgeon Sub-Lieutenant in the British Navy.

WILFRED P. WARNER.

"Large things are done by small means."

The stork delivered Bill at Alma College, July 24th, 1898. Matriculated St. Thomas Collegiate, 1913. Entered class 1919. Von Tirpitz's submarines enabled Bill to win Distinguished Service Cross. Member Alpha Omega Alpha Honour Fraternity, and a typical minister's son. Gentility and good judgment spell success.

MEDICINE

EWART GEORGE WHEELER.

"My feet were but a mighty tall thinker."

The stork brought "Jiggs" to Toronto in 1893, and left him here. Matric. Harbord Collegiate in '99. Helped win Mulock Cup in '14. Tried surveying, but hankered after the "healing art," so entered Medicine with the class of '19, but a fractured leg in fall of '15 gave him to 2T0. His success is certain.

HOWARD H. WILLIS.

"In painting hearts he pours the balm of sympathy and lofty cheer."

This ambitious youth left home at fifteen to carve out his own career. His Yankee enthusiasm dates back to "V." work in Chicago. After three years in Arts at Northwestern and two years in Medicine at University of Illinois, he joined Meds. 2T0 in 1918.

DAVID BRUCE WILSON.

*"Where'er he met a stranger
There he left a friend."*

Welcomed in Merrickville 25 years ago. Gold Medalist in Natural Science Victoria '16. Served overseas with artillery, infantry and R.N.V.R. Member of A.K.K. and A.O.A. Fraternities. Good luck. "D.B."

DAVID GORDON WILSON.

"Always cheery, always bright, Never weary, never tight."

Gananoque heard his first chirp in 1893. Early education and matriculation completed in same surroundings. Entered Medicine fall of 1912. Being a hunter of renown, joined the chase in '14, and pursued the hated Hun. Returned in fall of 1917. A good friend and true. May success be his bosom friend.

WILLIAM EDWARD WOODS.

*"Let's leave
A few good words behind."*

Edison next named on Fergus, where he received his preparatory education. Cast in his lot with the class of '20. Overseas with R.N.V.R., and rejoined his class in '19. His ready smile should work wonders—nurses a specialty.

GEORGE TODD ZUMSTEIN.

*"Let me be one my want's customer
As for my own, I leave them by the wayside."
—Kluyvan.*

Zump was born July 21st, 1897. He spent his early years in St. Catharines, where he obtained honour matriculation at the Collegiate Institute in '14. Entered Medicine with the class of '19. Overseas with the Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve.

Medical Building

History of Class 2T0

Early in October, 1915, there assembled at the Medical building in Toronto 130 men and 6 women, all and each anxious to be instructed in the art and science of the most ancient and honourable of all the learned professions.

After the customary registering in classes and becoming in a slight degree acquainted with one's future classmates the work began in earnest. The early high hopes were somewhat dashed to earth in the Biological and Chemical labs., and about 10 hopefuls decided that other callings might offer more pleasant pursuit.

About this time a scrap with the second year somewhat enlivened the situation and incidentally damaged the lecture-room in the Biology Building to the extent of twenty dollars.

Mr. Nunn was elected to be our leader in class politics, and a very capable executive chosen to assist him.

The first social event was now staged in which a dinner was given to the Second Year. Also at this time several of the class heard their country's call and left for military duties.

In the Spring of 1916 several more enlisted, including our President-elect.

October, 1916, found our number dwindled to about 75 men and 4 women, due mostly to enlistments. Mr. F. C. Robbins was chosen as our president and one of the best years commenced. A very sad incident occurred in the death of our former treasurer, K. L. Niddrie, from epidemic cerebro-spinal meningitis early in the term.

A few men also left for overseas and an epidemic of mumps was an added attraction.

At the commencement of the third year we added to our number several returned men who had been sent back to finish their course. Mr. J. W. Rush was chosen to be president of the class and the usual capable executive elected.

The enactment of the Military Service Act early in the term caused some confusion and speculation, but otherwise things ran smoothly.

In the spring a very large number of the men left for overseas duty, most of them joining the navy.

The fourth year was opened with about twenty of the original class left, but reinforced by about fifty returned men, and under the able leadership of Mr. P. L. Irving a very enjoyable and profitable year was spent. The year took a very extensive part in the staging of the most successful Daffydil night in the history of the event.

We gathered together for the last registration on September 29, 1919, without any particular change in members. Mr. J. S. Reid was chosen to direct the final proceedings.

In our numbers we have members of the classes of 17-8-9, who gave up the pursuit of their studies to serve their country, and many of whom are the possessors of marks of honour obtained in service. Former members, by virtue of time lost from studies in military pursuits, are scattered in the Second, Third, and Fourth years. Among them are also many who have been awarded military honours. Four of our original class have made the supreme sacrifice for their country, and for these reasons we are justly proud of members of the year 1920.

Dean Mitchell

To the Graduating Class of Applied Science and Engineering

BY DEAN MITCHELL

As the graduating class of this year you are distinguished in several ways. You are the first to graduate after the declaration of peace, the first to enter on the country's work in the new post-war period of reconstruction and last of the graduating classes of small numbers occasioned by the war.

You are different from other classes in that your ranks have been more torn and depleted by the ravages of the war than possibly any other, and you number amongst you more representatives of other preceding years than will appear in any of those succeeding you. Those of other years who have reinforced you, returning from the war to finish their interrupted studies, have accumulated in such numbers that your class this year aggregates many more than entered as freshman with you four years ago—there were under seventy then; there are over ninety now. But there is a more unique story than that, more pathetic and more heroic; there are only sixteen of your present class who were freshmen with you in 1916. These numbers tell of the sacrifice made by the Applied Class of 1920 in the great war.

Your studies and your University education have been interrupted but time has gone on. With your average age now over twenty-five years, most of you have attained an age when, before the war, many young engineers were well along in their experience out in the world. But you have gained an experience worth much more to you in your wealth of knowledge and memory of the war struggle, for many of you have been engaged in work that has lifted you from the commonplace in engineering or applied science and has placed you in a position where you will have a marked advantage over those who were not so fortunate.

So you go out to the world's work equipped in a different way, seeing the problems of life from a different angle and with the kind of technical knowledge and experience which will better fit you for the struggle of the next few years through the uncertain period of post war development in Canada. I hope you will all remain in Canada, that you will help build up our splendid country; we need every one of you, especially now, and I am sure you will all be rewarded in the years to come by the knowledge—if by nothing else—that it was your Class at this particular time that helped to make Canada great, greater than ever, in all that national development in which engineers are so much a factor.

I wish you the best of good fortune and health and all success as Engineers and Citizens.

History of Class 2T0

There has possibly never been any group of men taking any one of the various courses at S.P.S., which has seen more variety of University Life or undergone more difficulty in attaining the desired end, than we, the sixty-eight verdant youths that found ourselves assembled on the 25th day of September, 1916, to give our name to the year henceforth to be known as 2T0.

Coming as we did when the world was plunged in the depths of war, we, medically unfit ones and youngsters too young to bear our country's arms, looked forward to a rather rough passage at the old school. We were certainly not disappointed. Amidst all the gloom and despondency, however, which loomed before us there was one glad ray of light—we had in our number the first girl to enter school as a freschette, and we were certainly proud of "Our Mary" (apologies to Mary Pickford).

After learning from the President's address how easy the work at the University really was, if one only wished to work some twenty-four hours per day, we felt more comforted and took the rest of the week off to look around. It was well we did—for in doing so we obtained our status at our new home, and discovered that compared to us a work was highly elevated.

Not a bit daunted, however, at the withering glances of the sophs we decided to run our own show and elected one Cunningham to lead us, for, verily, we were led to believe that a captain was sorely needed. And then how proud we were, that day when the photographer took our pictures and we so narrowly escaped the open air hydraulics Lab, performed from an upper window by the sophs.

Then came that dread day when after a few preliminary bouts in which ties, socks, etc., managed to disappear, we were issued invitations to the social functions held in our honour in a little old red gym. But we must hurry over this—for even now three and one-half years later the mere recollection brings on nervous tremors and old wounds begin to ache.

With the approach of Christmas, however, all our troubles and misfortunes were forgotten, but hardly had the last morsel of turkey disappeared when again we were awakened by remembrance of the term exams, and thus again all joy was removed from life, but later this frail spark was kindled once more when a shortage of coal made necessary the closing of all university buildings and we again gathered around the parental hearth for two short weeks.

Along near the end of this term when the spring slush was beginning to be commonplace we lost several members of our tribe to the various fighting units, and, what appeared worse at the time to us, we were forcibly ejected from our drafting room and placed in one corner to allow room for the R.F.C., who came to inhale the rudiments of flying in our erstwhile happy home. Spring exams and elections, however, prevented this from annoying us and by the 15th of April our freshmen days were a thing to be considered only in reminiscences.

Due to faculty mandates, economic ventures, and the call of the King only a meagre thirty-four of the original tribe returned to the second year. What we lacked in numbers, however, we made up in spirit, for were we now not the rulers of the roost. A difficulty presented itself, however, at this juncture, for we found no roost over which to rule. During the summer while we had been turning out shells and cleaning boiler flues, the R.A.F. had commandeered the whole building and were now all over the place. Our old smoker, the pride of our heart, and the general retreat from lectures, was a carpenter shop, the drafting rooms were demonstration floors, and we were placed off by ourselves in a few rooms, the existence of which had heretofore been known only to the architect, who drew up the original plan, if any, of the building.

Chief Hill was the boss for this session, and under his leadership the frosh, ignorant of what was in store for them, were dutifully handled each in a fitting manner and made to feel at home. This duty performed we took on another, which was that of selling Victory Bonds during a three-day session. The competent staff of actuaries and chartered accountants employed by the Government has, however, to date been unable to arrive at the percentage of success which attended this venture in finance.

With C.O.T.C. work, efficient tapping, and an odd session on the mat, the year rapidly wore away until that spring day when we so valiantly overcame our medical friends and cemented their friendship for another year.

Shortly after this those terrible papers appeared again, and hurriedly we dived into "Calculus" and "Strength of Materials" in an attempt to insure our return in the fall.

After the decks had been cleaned the following fall in hopes of washing out the numerous stars accumulated during the past session, and the roll call had been made it was found that Captain Keelyside had under his command only 19 of the original crew of '16. Nine more deckhands and one passenger were gleaned from B.C. and Manitoba, along with some old-timers. Miss Kentner, who had been with us for the previous two years, was forced to cancel her passage through ill-health, and the stateroom was given to Miss Hill, who is finishing the voyage. The short two weeks after leaving port that dreadful "fin espanola" seized many of the crew and passenger list, and the ship was forced to lay to from the 18th of October to November the 5th.

Then on the second day there was heard on the windward side much noise as of whistles blowing and bells ringing, and on setting our course for the origin of these sounds we were told that peace had been declared. This, however, after a lock-step parade around the deck, we found to be incorrect.

The following Monday we put into port, and hardly had we dropped anchor than the same noises broke forth again in greater volume, and this time we learned that truly an armistice had been signed. That afternoon, together with the crews of ships Meds, Arts and Dents, we formed a parade and made much noise under the leadership of First Mate Mitchell, known as the "Wild Spirit." As a fitting emblem of the use to which our deck had been placed in other years we mounted an aeroplane on a gun carriage and used that as our funeral coach in which to bury the thoughts of the past four years.

With the signing of the armistice much of the old-time spirit came back to the good ship University. The men who had been sleeping anywhere at all in the rigging and in the boats returned to their bunks and the meals were served again at Ye Beauxery Board. The compulsory military drill—described as a body-building exercise—ceased, and the routine was more as formerly.

On January 27th, 1919, we received an addition to our crew of men who had been serving on Men of War and who came back now to learn again the duties of the engine-room. These stayed on even after the regular crew had deserted to seek the pleasures of the land for the summer months, but as the sun traveled toward the north they also packed their kits and left the ship in the hands of the watchman, Frank.

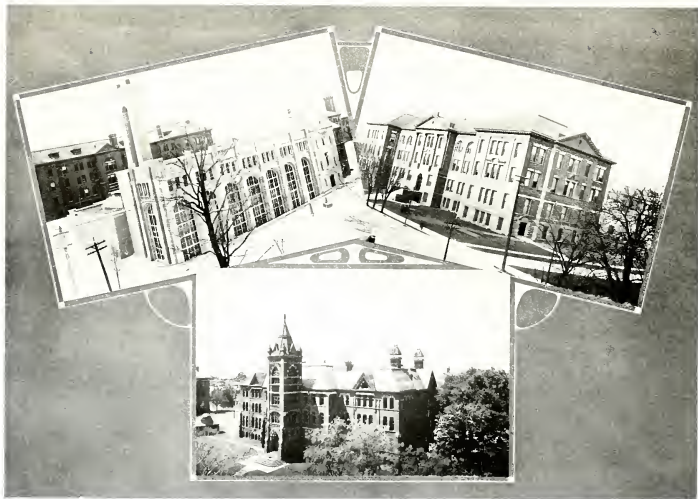

And now we have put out from the last port and are nearing the end of our journey. Only 17 of the original crew are on our pay list of 93. These others represent old-timers of '15, '16, '17, '18 and '19, and with such a crew the old '20 is keeping her bow straight before her and with good luck will arrive at the harbor with all aboard.

And thus we leave the old ship. There are spring breakers ahead, but once safely past them the harbour is in sight and we go on our separate ways to—who knows what. On our journey, however, we will remember the good old times at the old school, only leaving the unsavoury bits in the recesses, and when success has at last crowned our efforts in the world we will look back to the place where we received our engineering start with only joy in our hearts and recall the days spent with the men of 2T0 as being the happiest of our experience.

APPLIED SCIENCE

ROBERT A. BARBOUR.

*"Bobbie" effect others in 20.
Never enters never high.*

"Bobbie" came into existence in London, Ont., September 4th, 1894. He wandered into the old school in class '17. From the first has been a typical example of "school spirit," especially in athletics and with the ladies. President S.P.S. Athletics Association, '19.

FRANK WHITEHEAD BOOTH.

Booth is a great fellow.

The "General" matriculated from old Toronto Tech in '12, and commenced to delve into the mysteries of electricity at the old school with year '16. Left in '15 to go on munition work. Enlisted in '16. Had fifteen months in France as gunner with 14th C.F.A. Came back in '19 to finish up after saying good-bye to twenty-six summers.

CARMAN EDGAR BURTON.

"Burr" is just taking steel.

"Burr" made his debut in Whitehead, Ont., January 19th, 1895. Matriculated in Watford Honour mathematics in St. Mary's C.L. Came "straight from heaven" to S.P.S. with the IT7 Electrics. Made University track team 1915. Overseas C.F.A. gunner 1916. But, true to his motto, he took to the air as pilot with R.A.F., 1918-19.

STUART KIETH CHENEY.

*I am in that taking steel.
I live more than I am spend.*

Steu it was who first put Vankleek Hill on the map, and has kept it there since 1892. After one short year in Arts he retrieved himself by coming over to the Red School and joining '16 Electrics. Here he distinguished himself in school athletics until the spring of '15 saw him in H.M. Forces, so we now find him graduating in '20. Has always been one of the best.

WILFRID ALAN DANCEY.

"I never felt the loss of life Nor motion hand in mine."

Born at Goderich, Ont., saturated his higher altitudes with Xn and Ym at G.C.L., and shaking the local real estate from his prime movers, tied in with IT9 Electrics. By royal warrant, lightning slinger to George Cuelph, Esq. Returned to special session with 270.

THOMAS ARCHIE DANIEL.

And now, huh, that's all.

Oxford County is responsible for "Dan." After assimilating all Ingersoll C.L. could give him, he joined the far-famed class of '16. Approach of exams, however, drove him to arms in spring of 1915, finally joining Scientific Research Staff of British Admiralty. He took honours in first two years, and was elected chairman of the E. and M. Club in 1915. An all-round good fellow.

CYRIL FORSTER.

"The more you speak of yourself the more you are made to be."

Sprang into existence at Kingsville, Ont., in the "lunatic belt." Scholastic prep, training at Kingsville. Public and Leamington High Schools. After active service in Navy returned to complete course with Elec. '20. No particular accomplishments to relate, as this biography was written by himself.

RODERICK CAMPBELL HARDIE.

"I'm there, and so."

A cosmopolitan Britisher, born in England, 1897, claimed by Scotland, and a true Canadian. British Columbia introduced him into the halls of study, and Toronto bids him prove her teaching in the world.

APPLIED SCIENCE

CLARKE ROBERTSON HILL.

"Alphide ductus."

In '98 C. R. took up his residence in the "rhubarbs"—to be precise, Weston—and was educated there sufficiently to start with the 270 Electricals. On his return from the Navy he took his third year during the special session, and thus rejoined the year. His work as President of his second year, and of the E. and M. Club, is a sample of what may be expected of "Hillie."

RICHARD DOUGLAS HUESTIS.

"Quo fas et gloria ducunt."

Doug. was born in Toronto, 1895, and after matriculating from Tech. came to School in 1915 to learn Electrical Engineering. After two years, in which he graced the Varsity gym team and swimming team and captained a junior school Rugby team, he decided to take a crack at the Hun, and proceeded to France as a lieutenant in the C.F.A. Being gassed and invalided back to Canada, he was home when the armistice was signed, renewing studies with the third year.

NELSON HAROLD ILLMAN.

"Tell me the old old story."

As a U.F.O. candidate from Chatham, "Back" reached "School" for the session of 1919, where he became one of the "Senate of Five," and the wandering genius of the House. After a term's retirement he was returned to the administration of 270, serving on the Engineering Society and Year Executive. Of the three evils—wine, women and work—he has successfully eliminated the latter.

CHARLES FREDERICK JENKINS.

"—the elements"

So must I find that Nature would stand up and say to all the world: This was a man!"

Born at Thame-sford and attended Woodstock Collegiate. Has done a little banking and spent some time in the army, serving in Siberia. In fact Fred does a bit of most things—runs, skates, dances, studies, reads, loves, thinks, sins, repents—is really very human.

JAMES KELLEHER.

"Behold the bobbing brook."

In '95 the sweet smell of Guinness' brewery and the Liffy entered "Pats" nostrils for the first time. After wandering numerous years he cast his lot with '16 and acquired an "S" and several "stars." Wandering again, and his tongue and brain always wander, he returned to '20 and possible completion of his ambitions.

HAROLD BOYD LITTLE.

"Towering genius disdains a beaten path."

Ever since '93 Lit. has steered a course of his own. Piloted a zig-zag one through London Collegiate, finally to emerge on Varsity's restless stream with '16. Avoided the more serious rocks at "School" for two and one-half years when he went off on another tack. Back again on the home stretch. "Bon voyage," Lit.

TREVOR REGINALD MANNING.

"Eight yards of uneven ground are three score and ten miles afoot with me."

In size, in his capacity for sac, in his wit and the cause of wit in others, he is Falstaffian. And like that worthy of old, he is lost when afoot. But hope lies in the fact that he always makes certain of riding. As he goes forth, the many who have played prince to him may well say, "We could have better spared a better man."

CEDRIC JOHN McNAMARA.

"It ought of prophecy be mine, Then shall not live in vain."

"Mac" was first seen on September 26th, 1932, in Ripley, Ont. His quest for knowledge began at Drayton, where he matriculated, obtaining honour mathematics at Guelph. He arrived at the "Old Red Schoolhouse" in time for the last big scrap in 1914. "Mac" was also a pedagogue for some time.

JOHN G. O'FLAHERTY.

"I am a man of strength and of ability and I am a man of the future."
 Born in the City of New York, N. Y., on March 10, 1896. Matriculated from U. T. S. 1915—member of the original "Twenty-seven Science Gang," but postponed the course to go to war. An enthusiastic member of the Varsity Fencing Club.
 First saw the light amid hills of Durham, twenty-eight years ago. Matriculated from Bowmanville High School. Won Senior Championship first year. Entered Class '16, Science. Enlisted in C. O. T. C. Served overseas with Canadian Engineers. Added to hard work and the ladies.

ORVAL D. VAUGHAN.

"I am a man of strength and of ability and I am a man of the future."
 Born in the Queen City, March 10, 1896. Matriculated from U. T. S. 1915—member of the original "Twenty-seven Science Gang," but postponed the course to go to war. An enthusiastic member of the Varsity Fencing Club.

HAROLD A. WASHINGTON.

"I am a man of strength and of ability and I am a man of the future."
 First saw the light amid hills of Durham, twenty-eight years ago. Matriculated from Bowmanville High School. Won Senior Championship first year. Entered Class '16, Science. Enlisted in C. O. T. C. Served overseas with Canadian Engineers. Added to hard work and the ladies.

JAMES M. WATSON.

"I am a man of strength and of ability and I am a man of the future."
 In 1895 Woodstock first heard of him. W. C. L. gave the necessary boost, starting him as a would-be engineer in 1912. A lucky touring of France and Russia during 1916-18 brought him back to the graduating class of '20.

JULIUS J. WEICKER.

"There was a man at U. T. S. who had a name which meant nothing. His life was a tragedy."
 Born March 13, 1897, at Tavistock, Ont. Then—Tavistock Public School, Stratford Collegiate, "School" with T. V. Mechanical, Secretary, Engineering Society, 1917. Course interrupted by a visit to France. Engineer, musician, politician and jester. "Honest Jaw" will succeed anywhere at anything. Watch his smoke.

MILTON L. WEIR.

"I am a man of strength and of ability and I am a man of the future."
 Born on the day of his birth, on a farm, away back in 1896. The lure of the city got him about a year later. Attended London and Toronto Public Schools, and was "educated" at Harbord Collegiate. Entered S. P. S., Class 113. Was with R. N. C. V. R., and then entered the third year special class, taking the scholarship. Aspires to graduate with 210.

JOHN S. WILSON.

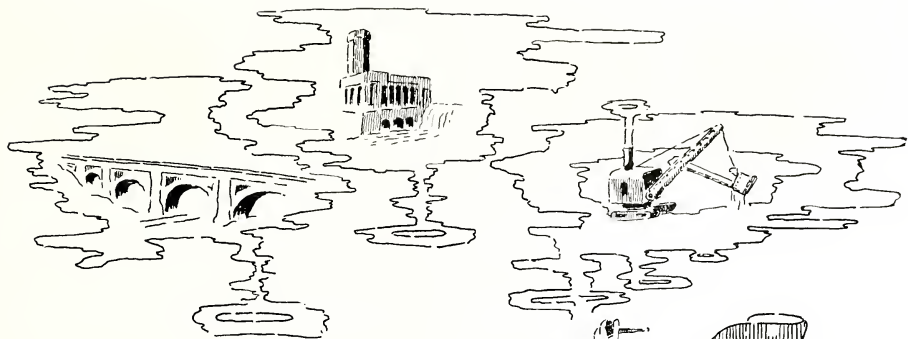

"I am a man of strength and of ability and I am a man of the future."
 Healthy, free, the world before him.

Jack's history begins March 6th, 1892. The place—Green River, Ont. He learned to skate, however, at Kenora. S. P. S. lured him in 1912. Played Varsity senior hockey '12, '13, '14. Holder of "T." Overseas with artillery '15 to '19. Lieut. M. C.

LEONARD L. YOEUELL.

"I am a man of strength and of ability and I am a man of the future."
 Born Aylmer, Ontario, 1894. Aylmer High School. Entered with Class of '16 in Mechanical Engineering. Boiler Inspection Coy.'s Scholarship 1915. Served overseas with Canadian Field Artillery. Military Cross and Bar. Returned to graduate with Class of '20.

APPLIED SCIENCE

CHRISTOPHER G. R. ARMSTRONG.

Oct. 8, 1896, "Army" received the first glimpse of his allotted "three score years and ten" on a "front fifty" near Merlin in Kent County. Received his early education at Clarence Public School and his matric at Marlborough and Lexington. Entered Civil Engineering with Class '21. Treasurer of Engineering Society 1918-19, and crowned his popularity as President of graduating year.

O. V. BALL.

Born in 1897, Toronto. Jarvis Street Collegiate and Technical School. School Class 117. Enlisted 1916 in 6th Battery. In France with Engineers.

GEORGE C. BENNETT.

Born in Waulbanstene, Ont., March 23, 1895, receiving the usual early education, supplemented by two years at Coldwater C. S. and one at Midland H. S. Always prominent in T.U. activities and Vice-President of Engineering Society 1918-19; President of the Society in 1919-20.

ELMER BIRDSALL.

Graduated from P. C. I. with honours—in rugby. Switched into School with 178, and has had a "ripping" time ever since. Absent for two years "on business for Haig," and is back with Class '21. "And on he rolls, a tide that leads melodious days."

G. A. HAROLD BURN.

March 13, 1895, "Woody" received his early education at Lindsay Collegiate Institute. Entered School in Class '17. Evaded examinations by enlisting April '16. After a casual study of town planning in London, Pate, Chicago, etc., returned for his degree, and aims to graduate an efficient "Sewer Man."

ERNEST L. CAVANA.

"Ernie" was born at Orillia, Dec. 17, 1894. Honour matric. at Orillia Collegiate, entered "School" with Civils 179. Overseas a year with the Canadian Engineers; and here we are again.

HAROLD F. COON.

Family record gives birthplace Hamilton, April 27, 1896. Matric at Hamilton Collegiate. Entered School Class '17. Overseas 1916 with University Battery. Took an interest in all sports, but spent his "spare" time at studies.

EGERTON CROSBY.

December 11, 1893, was a lucky day for Toronto and a regrettable one for his family. The masters at Harbord C. I. are still heard to exclaim (1923) "That one small head could carry all he knew." He slipped into School unnoticed and with luck might get out "the same way. Has been known to fall for "a rag, a bone and a hank of hair."

APPLIED SCIENCE

ROY A. CRYSLAR.

"A merry heart goes all the day."

Technical High School, Toronto. School Class of 117. Enlisted in 1916 in 47th Battery. In France with the Engineers. Transferred to R.A.F.

EARL R. DAFOE.

"No, four times no."

As "scrappy," betimes, as he looks. "Eddicated" Napanee Collegiate, Queen's (Q for hockey), "promoted" to 117 S. P. S. senior hockey T. '14-'15. Enlisted March '15, France with 23rd Battery, hiked a DMK through Salient and Somme. Rose to dizzy height of Bombardier. Invalided to Canada '17. Grimly determined to graduate with 2T0. There's a reason—blonde.

WILLIAM P. DALE.

"Carry on, Sergeant."

Born in Brampton, 1894. "Bill" outwitted the examiners of the local schools and joined Class 117. Despite a keen interest in athletics and a tour with the 1915 lacrosse team he took honours yearly. "Joined up" in March, 1916, serving in France with the Corps Signals, so well he soon had three stripes and an M.M. Returned in 1919 to graduate with 2T0, and incidentally indulge his fondness for nurses. Here's to you, "Bill"!

ERNEST B. DUSTAN.

"Easy, bards, there!"

—SHAKESPEARE

"Dusty" breezed into Picton, N.S. in 1894, and finally escaped in 1913 to "School" 117. His underslung streamline jaw interrupted his engineering education for four years of O-Pipping around France. M.M. at Hill 25. Deep thinker—"Girderless floors" for a thesis—imagine! Life ambitions—chiefly terpsichorean.

WILFRED HARMAN.

"Why should life all labour be?"

Bill was born near the breezy town of Zephyr. Deciding that a higher education would deliver him from the ranks of manual toilers, Bill migrated to Cxbridge High School and thence to S. P. S. Here he has demonstrated to the satisfaction of his many friends that he has the ability to succeed by means of his powerful intellect rather than a strong back.

RONALD HARRISON.

"Our Ronald's a salad, for in him we see, Oil, vinegar, sugar and saltiness agree."

Toronto, January, fifteen-ninety-seven. Our little Ronald came from heaven. Matric. at Parkdale Collegiate. He entered School with one-T-eight. Spent two years overseas, you know. Returned and entered two-T-Oh. His friends don't think he's such a dub. He's President of the Civil Club.

CHESTER A. HUGHES.

"The future opens its gates."

Born Toronto, Sept. 20th, 1895. Attended Parkdale Collegiate. In spite of appetite for sport and the gentle art of Rugby, acquired knowledge to evade examiners and join 117 gang for honours in first two years. Romped with '14 Rugby champions for a "T." Enlisted with artillery February, '16, Sergeant, M.M. Got Blighly at Passchendaele November, '17. Volunteered for Northern Russian Expeditionary Force and made direct hits on Bolsheviks.

WILLIAM H. HUNTER.

"Gazing light on him that was invented sleep."

His troubles commenced in Toronto, May 31, 1896. After demonstrating his ability at C. T. S., he triumphantly invaded School with Class '17. Postponed theory to do a little practical work under difficulties in France. His ambition is to throw out smoke barrages from his tobacco battery in the musty halls of learning.

APPLIED SCIENCE

W. FRANKLIN IRVIN.

Willie, nicknamed "Big", troubled some at Brampton, Nov. 17th, 1896, but the town was too small for his big ideas. Matric. at Hume Collegiate. He entered School with Class '10. Absent one year with C.P.F. V.C. Pres. Civil Club '15, fourth year Rep. C.P.F. Club '16. "Many are called, but few are chosen."

E. WILMOT JOHNSTON.

"John" was born in Clifford, Ont., July 3, 1894. Graduated from Harrison H. S. 1913, where he was prominent in baseball and hockey. Entered "School" with 117 Civils. Enlisted in C.F.A. 1916. SOS 4th Battery, France, and there you are.

FENNELL T. JULIAN.

Registered at Castlemore, Ont., August, '96. Graduated Brampton H. S. Hon. matric. 1913. Became "School" man with Class '18. "Joined up" second year. France with 5th Arty. Bde. Signals—found that SOS and SRD always started something. "Blighly" 1918. Back for third year, summer '19.

KEITH J. MCEACHERN.

Born in Alvinston, Ontario. High School at Alvinston and Watford. Mac early in life acquired a thirst for knowledge and a desire for work which admits his college life has only served to accentuate. Of a sober and industrious disposition, he nevertheless has been known to spend a night with the boys.

EDMUND L. MOOREHOUSE.

Born at Richmond, Ontario, January 23, 1895. Educated at Medicine Hat; matriculation 1911-12. Originally in 117, delayed by the war, and is graduating with 210.

EDWIN L. PATERSON

Born near Meaford, Ontario. Seeing no great joy in farm work, Pat travelled to S. P. S. after graduating from Neaford High School. Work could not consume all Pat's energies, hence his popularity with ladies. His success is undoubted by his friends.

WILLIAM H. RIEHL.

Bill happened about April 30th, 1897, minutely near the "city" of Stratford. Received his early education (?) at Stratford Collegiate. Entered School with Class '19. Absent for one year with the Canadian Engineers. Returned to School with Class '20. We know not what he is nor what he may be.

WILLIAM W. RITCHIE.

Born in Quebec in 1894. A brilliant record both as a scholar and a soldier. A gold medalist at the Model School, he carried the honours for four years at Jarvis Collegiate. Entered S. P. S. in 1912. In 1914 joined 35th Battalion, was promoted to sergeant, received his commission in Engineers, subsequently promoted to Captain.

APPLIED SCIENCE

CONN SMYTHE.

"The ponies are fast, but Smythe is faster"

Born in Toronto, 1895. After retiring from U. C. C., became a leading light at Jarvis Collegiate. Started in School 116, but after touring Germany during the war is graduating in 210. A prominent member of numerous Rugby and Hockey teams during a brilliant University career.

GEORGE E. STEPHENSON.

"What's the use of worrying? Smile, boys—That's Steve's style."

Saw the first light of day June the 3rd, 1894, at Varna, Ont. Matriculated at Seaford Collegiate Institute. Enlisted April, 1916, with the Canadian Engineers, proceeded overseas September, 1916, going to France May, 1917. Returned to England for commission, July, 1918. Arrived back to the land of the maple, March, 1919.

DOUGLAS H. STORMS.

*"Mark you this man,
We shall hear of him again."*

Born Feb. 3rd, 1893. Highfield School, Hamilton, Royal Military College, Kingston, 1910-13. Graduated, entered third year Civil War, August, 1914, till wounded 1917. Artillery, Canadian Expeditionary Force, Siberia. Back to School November, 1919.

DOUGLAS G. URE.

"I am resolved to grow fat, look young at forty."

Born in '97 at Woodstock, Ont., and after learning all the schools could teach him there, came to S. P. S. in 1915, and after serving in the defense at Halifax, returned to graduate in 1920.

GEORGE E. WAIT.

"He worked so hard he never got fat"

May 26, 1895, was a red-letter day in Canada's Capital when "Spike" first saw the light. S. P. S. 18 years later. Great record in France with Air Force and Infantry. Gentleman, soldier, scholar, and a coming Canadian statesman.

HERBERT BASIL CODY.

"He may be small, but he's got big ideas."

The origin of "H.B." dates from 1893 in Windsor. Fifteen years ago he ambled to Hamilton, graduating there from the Tech. and Collegiate. After spending four years in taming the weather at the Observatory, he joined the Chemists of 270, holding several offices in the Chemical Club. Future—see above.

ARTHUR HERVEY DINGMAN.

*"A little sweat, a little play,
To keep us going—and so good-bay."
—Du MAURIER.*

"Dug" was born in Stratford in 1888. After receiving his education at Stratford Collegiate he entered Chemistry with 270. He has held offices in the Engineering Society, and on class executives. His vacations have been spent in the acetone and "smokeless" industries. Watch him.

JOHN FAIL.

*"Companion, for with a companion
The lanes first, the lads, the lads."*

Stratford was blessed with "Jack" in 1888. After extracting all possible knowledge from the Collegiate he joined Chemistry of 270. In his second year he went to the "S.S." as a steel analyst, and then his presence at Trenton improved the powder industry. Future—as above.

HENRY COLBY KERMAN.

*"He takes a lot of chemistry,
But makes it with a little
He takes a lot of time to do it,
But it's his strength and life."*

Sr. matric U.T.S. Entered school as an embryo chemist, '16. Secretary-Treasurer Ind. Chem. Club, '17. Made smokeless powder in Trenton, '18. President Ind. Chem. Club, '19. Here's hoping for the future.

HOWARD CLAYTON SOEHNER.

"Life is a jest, for all things show it, Once I thought so, but now I know it."

Stratford, 1888, saw his advent. He passed through the Collegiate with honours and anxiety to his pedagogues. He then came to Dept. 6, and after two years saw Trenton's smokeless powder and the army. Since then he has prepared for a happy future.

LANCELEY THOMAS WATSON.

*"He loves music, mirth and laughter,
A singsong first and lalies after."*

Arrived on the scene at Ridgeway, Ont., June 18th, 1893. Matriculated at Kitchener Collegiate Institute. Enlisted January, 1916, with the 48th Highlanders, going overseas in August of the same year. Transferred to the 15th Battalion in France in February, 1918. Wounded in April, 1918. Returned to the one and only country, January, 1919.

HARRY EVAN CORMAN.

"I am sure, sure's an enemy to life"

The happy event occurred in 1898 at Stoney Creek. Matriculated at Caledonia High School, and further education received at Hamilton Collegiate. With Chemistry his goal he started with 170. Secretary-Treasurer Chemical Club. He was with the Imperial Munitions Staff two years, so now he is back with us in 270. A well-assured future.

ARTHUR HAMBLETON.

"Nature's a book, wherein I read."

Liverpool, England, was his birthplace, on April 22nd, 1897. It was at the Manchester Grammar School that he matriculated. Canada saw him in 1913. With the studies of chemistry and humanity as life's hobbies he joined class '21. Vice-President Chemical Club and "Varsity" reporter, '18-19.

E. ROLAND GILLEY.

"I know I didn't, he came out at the West"
 "Rolls" was introduced to this world in New Westminster, B.C., on April 3rd, 1894. Commenced his studies at the "Better Ole" with 117. (Not born in 1891, but still going strong!) A prime mover in school athletics at all times, and a winner of his University colours with the Varsity basketball team of 1914-15.

CLARENCE W. GRAHAM.

*"But there is one about the rest
Has not an' sense and a' that"*
 "CW" was born at Anzora, Ont., and matriculated from Anzora High School. He spent some time in railway engineering and surveying in "Sunny Alberta," and started his course at the U. of A. When coming to "School" to finish right he wisely joined the Miners. Vice-President of their club, '20.

CHARLES ALBERT RICHARDSON.

*"I harmed by his music, twice starting from the ground
I've followed with delight the wonderful sound"*
 "Duck" entered the game in year A.D. 1905. Enrolled in the "School" with the illustrious "Miners" of "17," but his course was delayed by a "Cook's tour" with the Royal Engineers. Varsity track team 1913; Class President third year; Secretary-Treasurer Athletic Association, etc.

JACK C. E. SKINNER.

"He may be young, but he has old friends"
 Bradford has him first registered in this world in 1896. Matriculated in the same place in 1915. After numerous expeditions to the north, entered S.P.S. with 210. His "School" hobby is the Mining and Metallurgical Club, of which he was Secretary, and finally President.

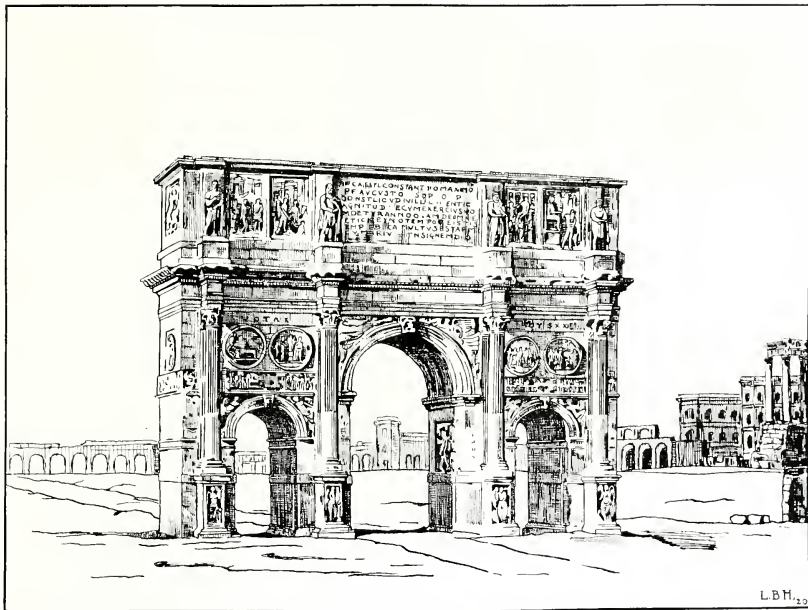

WILLIAM S. WILLCOCK.

"It is impossible to overdo anything thoroughly unless one has plenty of work to do"
 Landed on "terra firma" in 1890 at Flesherton. Matriculated Oakwood, Toronto, and found his way into the "Old Red School" with class 15. Interested in athletics. Member of S.P.S. Soccer team. Considers the world a football, and intends to get in a few timely kicks at the mining game.

OSWALD HEBRON HUGILL.

*"His talents were not a waste of time,
His playing made the boys to grin"*
 Introduced to the world at London, England, 1894. Came to Canada one year later. Matriculated Sault Ste. Marie High School, 1911. Began with class '16. Enlisted February, 1916. A pioneer member of the "Toke Orchestra."

To the Graduating Class in Dentistry

BY

DEAN WEBSTER

DEAN WEBSTER

Another year of opportunity has come to the graduate in dentistry. The field is broadening, the day is brightening, and the way is clearing. The young men who leave the University to-day have open to them the greatest opportunity ever presented in Canada to assist in steadying, directing and leading the people in lines of virtue, contentment and happiness. The country is calling for leaders. The young, the vigorous, the strong, the courageous, the educated must direct the way.

Many of the graduates of the Class of '20 have seen military service and know the realities of life and are thus more able to meet the demand of leadership.

In the words of Mr. Butter, "it is not smartness or sharp men that are wanted to-day but it is broad men sharpened to a point."

The Faculty have aimed to prepare you to meet the affairs of life in their broadest sense, having at the same time an eye to the details of a calling which is expected will give the password to serve mankind.

To practise dentistry as a trade or as an occupation is narrowing and limiting in outlook, but to practise dentistry as a profession presents opportunities for the sweetest things in life as developed in the personal confidence between the dentist and his clientele, because of honest, faithful services rendered. Place, wealth and power sink into insignificance in comparison with this.

The British method of having "patience to do well what clever people do but poorly" might well be the motto of the dental graduate.

DENTISTRY

CLARENCE H. AVERY.

*"Does he view the world as a vale of tears?
Ah, reverend sir, not he."*

September 17th, 1895, saw "Ave's" arrival at Strathroy, Ont. Received his Honour Matriculation from the "S.C.E." and entered Dentistry with class '20. Returned from Overseas in '18 to complete course. Representative for Torontonsensis 1920. His good nature and cheery smile have won for him many friends. Member of Xi Psi Phi Fraternity.

DENTAL NURSES

PEARL B. BARTINDALE.

*"Keeps her comely dress for duty,
Clings to friends, no death duty."*

After successfully graduating from Calabona High School, Pearl spent some years as a dental assistant in Hamilton. It is the honor of being the first President of the Nurses' Training Class. Her general disposition and good nature have won her many friends. We predict success.

RITA BOND.

*"Keeps her comely dress for duty,
Clings to friends, no death duty."*

Born and educated in Toronto. After completing her preliminary education, spent some time at home until September, '19, when she decided to enter the first Dental Nurses' training course. Her future spells success.

TRESSA MAY BURLEY.

"Keeps her comely dress for duty."

Tressa made her first appearance near Edgerton, Ont. Graduating from the Edgerton Collegiate, she spent a short time assisting in a dental office, which led to the desire to join the first Dental Nurses' Class. We feel sure that her true worth and good nature will ever tend to widen her circle of friendships.

ETHEL VICTORIA COTTON.

"Loves her life, her work, her friends."

Chicago claims the distinction of being her native city. Educated at Waterman Hall, Dyanmore, Illinois, matriculating in 1916; then seeking pastures new, came to Toronto and took a finishing course at Margaret Eaton, Jones assistants' class, 219, and has shown her prowess, both in infirmary and dance hall.

MARGARET ISOBEL JORDAN.

"She attracts a kind of love."

Margaret was born in Prescott, but matriculated from North Toronto Collegiate Institute in the summer of 1919. She is quiet in voice and in manner, but her personality speaks loudly, and the Dental Nurses vote her a great acquisition to their number.

JEAN M. LAING.

"Love and the world smile with you."

Jean originated in Stratford. The climate of the "Forest City" appealed to her, so the family moved there. Ever since the eruption of her temporary central she has been interested in teeth. Consequently the R.C.D.S. claimed her as one of the "originals" in its first course for Dental Nurses. Believes dancing is exercise, and is fond of exercise.

GERALDINE FRANCES LEWIS.

*"Her merry cheerful, modest face,
Is won for friends in every place."*

"Gerry" was born in New York, but matriculated from Jarvis Collegiate Institute in the summer of 1919, and in October joined the Dental Nurses of the R.C.D.S. She is our first secretary-treasurer, and judging by her efficiency in that capacity will make an excellent nurse.

HELEN PHILIPPA MACCONNELL.

*"It is to Helen a regular girl,
Who's just life, has got a wonderful pearl,
Her dancing comes near, her style is pretty,
Well always made friends where she went."*

Born in Toronto on January 4th, 1901. Educated at Moulton Ladies' College. Entered class for Dental Nurses at R.C.D.S. Outside of music and dancing, Helen is a hard worker, and promising assistant to some practitioner.

DENTAL NURSES

LULU C. MACKLE.

*"Always a care a smile
That would almost heal a broken heart"*

Born in Toronto. At the age of seven moved to Brampton. Completing her High School education there, entered the R.C.D.S. in the fall of 1919 as a Dental Nurse. Judging from her capabilities as a Dental Nurse in the infirmary, we envy the man whom she will assist upon graduation.

FREDA M. MAITLAND.

*"She has the smile and voice
That gives one a new lease of life"*

Born in Brighton, Ont. Attended Trenton Collegiate Institute. Her ambition to become a nurse brought her to the R.C.D.S. in October, 1919. Her winning ways predict a bright future.

MARJORIE H. MEADOWS.

*"Her sweet smile, her gentle way
Make the job a good one for the day"*

Marjorie was born and educated in Toronto. Matriculated from Oakwood Collegiate Institute in 1915. Spent three years as physical instructor; joined the Dental Nurses, 1919. As a Dental Nurse we feel she will make a success. Her cheerful manner and ready wit make her welcome everywhere.

FREDA EVELYN MYLES.

"For a friend like her You find no other more"

Her winsomeness dates from April, 1919, at Walkerton. After a preliminary scurry of education in the schools of her home town she attended Whitby Ladies' College for two years. Her bright and even disposition makes her very popular wherever she goes. Assuredly a future of success is open to her.

REBECCA OSHER.

"Her manners all who see admire, Courteous though busy and gentle though retired."

She was born in Russia in 1901. Came to Canada in 1909. Graduated from Ryerson Public School, also Commercial School. Went to Business College, and also had some High School education. Then turned to dental nursing for her career.

GLADYS IRENE RYMAL.

"With her bright smile and pleasant manner she is always welcome"

Gladys has spent her young life in Toronto, completing her education in the Riverdale section of the city. From the above verse we feel very confident that her dental nursing will be one grand success.

EVELYN M. WHITE.

"The nurse is a candle to the world"

Born and educated in Toronto, and now a graduate of "Toronto." An original of Dental Nurses' Class of the R.C.D.S. Her laugh and sociable nature has won her friends within and without college.

History of Class 2T0

Clothed in that verdant garb of ignorant bliss of the various trials and tribulations in the mysteries of dentistry, Class 2T0 entered the portals of the Royal College of Dental Surgeons to pursue their chosen vocation; mixing plaster to a creamy consistency, carving vegetable ivory into tooth forms which later was to be known as a "puck." Familiarity with terms such as mesial, distal, occlusal, aided materially to inflate our craniums, while osteology and histology, along with the other "ologies" supersaturated our actively expanding heads, so that when our freshman year ended we were of the unanimous opinion that we had carved a niche in the hall of fame.

Shortly preceding the Christmas holidays a call came for volunteers in the Canadian Army Dental Corps, resulting in approximately half the class heeding the call, three of whom made the supreme sacrifice, W. J. Cooper, R. J. Marion and C. G. Pickard. With this depletion and the further need of dental sergeants a call was sent forth for further recruits, purposing proficiency in laboratory work, at which time they would receive appointments in the C.A.D.C. About twenty-five took advantage of this course, and owing to the fact that appointments were not forthcoming as was at first anticipated the class went through their freshman and sophomore years as a separate class. On reaching the junior year the '20 call "sergeants' class" was amalgamated with the original class 2T0, and this along with the return of many members of other classes from overseas, caused our years to become the largest and most cosmopolitan in the history of the Royal College of Dental Surgeons.

Class 2T0 has a history unique in every respect, and when one looks back in retrospect we have a history to be proud of.

In all the activities pertaining to college life the class has manifested unbounded interest, establishing a standard for others to follow. Athletics received its share of attention, and in the junior year every cup in the interfaculty series emblematic of championships with the exception of one rested in the college, and a goodly number of Class 2T0 had its quota of representation on every team. Particularly is this true of the Rugby team, which won the Mulock Cup for the first time in the history of the Dental College.

Academic work was by no means neglected—in fact, one of the professors of the college paid us the complimentary remark of being one of the most, if not the most, proficient class in the history of the college.

We have now reached the goal of our ambitions after four years spent in the halls of the R.C.D.S. pleasantly and otherwise. Now comes the parting of the ways. Reminiscences of the days spent in the study of dentistry, fitting ourselves for public practice was, indeed, interesting and as we gaze into the future we cannot but spell unbounded success for Class 2T0 in their chosen profession and hope individually and collectively they will be a credit to themselves, to their Alma Mater and the profession.

CANADIAN FOREST SCENERY

The Foresters' Club

Although during the war the Faculty of Forestry almost disappeared, at least in so far as students attending lectures, it has again sprung to life and now numbers 46. Our war record is one of which we are justly proud. Out of 55 students enrolled in 1914, 52 served at the front. Eighteen foresters, four graduates and fourteen undergraduates made the supreme sacrifice. Five undergraduate foresters were awarded the Military Cross.

The Foresters' Club recommenced activities in October. The fortnightly meetings, at which outside speakers are secured to address the club on current Forestry subjects, have been well attended. These meetings also provide the opportunity for students and professors to become so well acquainted and they are responsible for the "esprit de corps" and good-fellowship that exists to such a high degree amongst Foresters. The executive of the Club this year are:—

President.....	A. W. Bentley
Vice-President.....	J. F. Sharpe
Secretary-Treasurer.....	T. A. Clarke
Second Year Representative.....	H. L. Commis
First Year Representative.....	T. F. Jenkins

The events of the year peculiar to the Faculty of Forestry are the Annual "Stunt Night" and Bonfire, the Annual Dinner and Foresters' Club Dance

To the Graduating Class of Pharmacy

BY DEAN HEEBNER

DEAN HEEBNER

The vocation of Pharmacy calls for a dual training in the mastery of its professional side and adaptation to its commercial aspect. During four years of training under the instruction of a pharmaceutical chemist you acquired a certain amount of knowledge in the theory and technic of your chosen calling and in merchandizing; you then availed yourself of the course of instruction furnished by the Ontario College of Pharmacy and thereby extended your education in the theory and practice of pharmacy, which eventually enabled you to become legally qualified pharmaceutical chemists and possessors of the degree Phm.B.

Your future success will now be of your own making. Do not imagine that you have finished your study because you have secured the coveted diplomas, for you have only been taught what you must do, and the end of your College curriculum is the beginning only of your work.

Among the many elements that go to secure what may be called professional success, true character is most important, and in a very true sense such character is the only true success of life, rather as the factor in the production of a result than itself a result. Carefully guard your character, and reputation will take care of itself. You will be judged by what you are, not what you appear to be. Conscience is the backbone of manhood, put your conscience into every prescription you dispense. A pharmacist should be a pharmacist because his spirit will not allow him to be anything else; there must be professional enthusiasm. If you can be first in anything else, and only a third-rate pharmacist, then leave pharmacy for that something else.

Do not be mere professional men and women, for specialism tends to narrow the mind. Remember that you are citizens as well as pharmacists, and take an interest in public affairs and in all movements that tend to right wrongs and correct abuses. Have a true public spirit. God speed you.

COLLEGE OF PHARMACY

WILFRID J. ABELL.

"A man's a man for all that"

Born in '96 in Owen Sound. His early education was completed there and he then began his apprenticeship in the pharmaceutical profession. Saw service in the army and is now with Class '20 O. C. P.; in fact, as you will notice, is the first student of the class.

WM. D. AIKENHEAD.

"Advice is a price"

Born at Almonte, Ont. Served overseas three and a half years in C.A.M.C. Now a leading light in Pharmacy, '19-'20.

MABLE AMY.

*"Truth is a woman whose lips
Are full of smiles and life"*

Dear Mable hails from Drayton, where I have no doubt her first appearance on this planet was greeted with much joy. It must be natural to Mabel to be happy, because she always is. And yet there is a quality in Mable, too, that speaks of endurance, insight, strength and skill.

W. WALLACE ARMSTRONG.

"I would be true, as when I speak, I speak the truth"

Born Peterborough. Education—Peterborough Collegiate—1915-16.

Service—Went overseas with 9th Batta. Served in France with and Batta. Wounded at Amiens.

At present—Living in hopes.

ERNEST G. AXFORD.

"I would that my tongue could utter the thoughts that arise in me"

Ernest comes from St. Thomas, where he attended High School and served his apprenticeship. He served three and a half years in France and was wounded at Arras. Ernest has only one weakness—his fondness for clever girls.

GEO. J. BENNINGHAUS.

"Henry"—That's close enough.

A Valentine on Feb. 13, 1918, at Soo, Ont. Matric. at Soo High. Apprenticed in the Soo. Worked in London, etc. "Parade show" on Nov. 30, 1917. Qualified as a birdman, had a crash, a little pension, discharge, and well away.

LILIAN BOUNSELL.

"I never hear the birds sing"

From Bowmanville. Fond of skating, dancing and pull-pounding. Her innumerable friends are sufficient evidence of her universal popularity.

HUGH H. BOYD.

"I have a plan"

He matriculated at USTRIDGE in 1912 and as his ambitions lay in the direction of pharmacy, took up the study of that science. The war, however, made a great break in his career, and notwithstanding the fact that he saw four years in the trenches, he feels as strong as ever and out to attain his pre-war ambitions as a member of the "Victory Class." 1919.

COLLEGE OF PHARMACY

GEORGE W. CLARKE.

"Take no thought for to-morrow."

Born at Campbellford, Ont., in 1895, where he matriculated. Served apprenticeship in home town and Toronto. Served in France with 4th Battalion for two years. Wounded at Amiens.

HERBERT G. CLEMENS.

"All the world's a stage—why be a dummy."

Blenheim, Ontario, the favoured place, Sept. 28, 1894. After matriculating there, his courage took the form of absorbing pharmaceutical knowledge from John D. Christmas, F.R.S.C. Chemically speaking, he won the war, but modestly prefers to give the credit to NH4NO3. His hair was the original "flame test."

LYDD ERWIN CLOSS.

"I'll be good."

Born in 1899 in Lanark County, attended High School in Almonte. Served apprenticeship in Saulk St. Marie. Enlisted in 1916; served with the C.M.G.C. in France. Received the M.M. while with the 4th M.G. Batt. Now engaged in the attack on Pharmacy. Final objective—diploma. Time—May, 1929.

I. LEWIS COHEN.

"I'll be good."

First saw light May 14th, 1896, in a small village in Russia. At age of 4 was brought to London, Eng., and lived there six years. Came to Ottawa in 1906. At 12 started O. C. I. Matriculated at 17. Served apprenticeship with Henry Watters and J. A. Craig in Ottawa. Married in 1917. Organized Ottawa Drug Clerks' Association in 1918. Pharmacy 21.

WILLIAM T. COMBE.

"A man of action, not words."

Born Niagara Falls, 1895, October 31st. Attended school and matriculated from N. F. C. I. Served overseas with R.C.H.A. Apprenticeship with A. C. Thorburn of the same city. O. C. P. 19-20.

BERT J. CONNOLLY.

"I am a part of all that I have met."

Born at North Bay, Ont., January, 1890. Bert has the true Northerner's love for a square deal in all things for all people. An ex-member of the R.A.F., he occasionally "goes up in the air." In spite of this, he looks on the bright side of life. His friends all join in wishing him success.

A. ERNEST COUTTS.

"Just no more."

October 22, 1894, at Perth, was the day of the big event. Matriculation at Collegiate Institute, Perth. Joined army August, 14. Saw active service until cessation of hostilities. Won Military Medal and bar. Pharmacy.

HERBERT E. COX.

LEROY M. DEVITT.

1938, and at 16, in Watlington, where he received his schooling. Served apprenticeship in his home town. Joined the RAF, 1941, putting himself in the O.C.P., where he aims to keep on it on the ground.

J. H. DYER.

Born Aug. 17, 1897. Died Sept. 16, 1916.
Not living in a metaphysical world, repeatedly mourning the loss of mankind's worst enemy, "John." Yet the Good Book says "Love your enemies." However, in this world I have had "one grand misfortune" of trying to master the art of a Pharmaceutical Chemist. Respectfully, PHARMACY.

JOHN WILLISON REID.

"Good things are done up in small parcels."

Commonly known as Runt. Began this journey on November 25th, 1896, at Guelph, Ont. Partially educated in Guelph Public and High Schools. Matriculated in 1913. Served apprenticeship with F. Bigardus, Guelph. Attended O.C.P., 1919-20.

COLLEGE OF PHARMACY

HARRY ALWIN RENTON.

HORACE L. RILEY.

NORMAN EUGENE RIPPON.

CHRISTINE ROBERTSON.

"His ready smile was worth a promise."
Born at Point Edward, July 15th, 1899.
Attended Public School at London, 1905-1912.
London Collegiate Institute, 1912-15. O.C.P., 1916.

"He is a scholar, a capable boy, a leader."
Born in Owen Sound in 1888. Matriculated at O.C.I. Served apprenticeship in home town. Wore the King's uniform and then started back to school.

"Long, many, worth and lengthy."
"Ladies first, dear fellow, after."
Great was the rejoicing when "Rip" arrived in Woodstock on July 7th, 1896. Left school in 1912. In a moment of great mental weakness started to work in a drug store. Spent four years in the army, and often wishes he was still in khaki, but never when out of the lecture room. Claims he likes work, but has never proven it.

"The heart of a lion, a lion's heart, is the heart of a lion."

Chris came from Cumberland, Ont. to shed the rays of her big heart on the 1913 O.C.P. class. She has been eminently successful in that task, and we feel sure that she will win out wherever she goes.

H. V. ROGERS.

"His ready smile was worth a promise."
In his early years H. V. showed signs of future greatness in the pharmaceutical profession. Our acquaintance with him has convinced us that success must necessarily shine upon this devotee at the shrine of O.C.P.

T. V. ROGERS.

"O where hath our intelligence been dross?"
First appearance October 25th, 1893, at New Boyer, Ont. Graduated from Smith's Falls schools. Entered on pharmaceutical career with L. A. Wilson of the same town. Then joined the crusade into the interior of O.C.P.

E. CLAYTON ROOT.

"The world belongs to the energetic."
Spent early days in Warrton. Matriculated from Norwich. Saw active service in 1916.
Entered Pharmacy, 1919-20.

CLELAND RUSSELL.

"I'll be under 'bark' again some day—perhaps to live."
Born August 18th, 1893, at Cumberland, B.C. Educated in Vancouver, B.C. Very ordinary existence; nothing of importance to relate for curious souls. Enlisted with the 60th Field Depot Battery in February, 1917, and served with the 1st Brigade, C.G.A., in France. Discharged May, 1919.

DEAN R. RUSSELL.

"Who loves not knowledge."

Started on life's long highway at London, Ont., on April 16th, 1898. Matriculated at Lucan in 1914, and has since wandered the wide world over. Apprenticeship served in London, always with the motto in mind, "Cura atque industria." Strong supporter of temperance (W.C.T.U.).

MERVYN T. SAUNDERS.

*"Laugh and sing and play all day
For little this life's cares away."*

April 15th, 1895, was the day of his birth at Oshawa, where he matriculated in 1914. He wanted to become a druggist, so Jury & Lovell showed him the way. This year finds him under the care and guidance of Dean Heebner.

DANIEL J. SAYA.

"Smile and the world smiles with you."

In September, 1892, there arrived in Moose Creek, Ont., a smiling cherub, who was dubbed Daniel. This smile carried him through all the years till August, 1914, when with a serious countenance he donned the khaki. After four years he returned to pills and powders, and now we see him at Pharmacy. Everyone says, Good luck, D. J.

SINCLAIR SCHRAM.

*"End never, I hope to see you again
To sustain the olden Philosophy."*

Born February 28th, 1898, at Parkhill, Ont. Educated in London-in-the-Bush. Matriculated 1916. Served apprenticeship in London and in C.E.F. Highest ambition: See Paris again and she.

P. M. SHUFELT.

"Watch your step."

Received early education in Smith's Falls, Ont. Spent three years in Ottawa and remainder of time in Toronto before joining Victory Class of 1919-20. Pharmacy.

I. LLOYD SMITHERAM.

"He loves them all a little."

Born Fenelon Falls, Ont., August 12th, 1893. Matriculated 1911. Apprenticed W. C. Avery, Toronto. Enlisted June, 1916, and served in France with 21st Battalion. Invalided home March, 1919. Came to Pharmacy fall 1919. Secretary Pharmacy Athletic Committee.

ROBERT GORDON SMYTH.

*"With them the seed of wisdom did I sow,
And with my own hand laboured it to grow."*

Came to Oshawa with Laurier Regime in 1896. Exact date September 2nd. Matriculated at Oshawa High School. Travelled on Continent for thirteen months with "A" Battery, R.G.H.A. Spent more hours at sport than some deemed wise. President Pharmacy year 1919-20.

WILLIAM NORMAN STANLEY.

"Being good is an awfully dangerous job."

"Barney" was raised in the lonely little town of Lucan. He learned a lot about pill-pounding in London and Toronto, but he's learning a lot more at O.C.P. Served his King for over two years as a lieutenant in the R.A.F. He loves them all a little, but one a very great deal.

COLLEGE OF PHARMACY

HARVEY O. STEWART.

"Be sure that you succeed."

Born in Middlesex County, he attended High School and matriculated in St. Mary's. His apprenticeship period was spent in Stratford. He enlisted from the latter place, but is now with class '25, O.C.P.

JOHN ROSCOE STEWART.

"Smile even when it hurts."

Born on a farm near Lindsay. Educated and graduated from L.C.I., where he was president of L.C.I. "Lit." and active president and worker St. Paul's A.T.F.A. Served apprenticeship with W. G. Dunbar, 1915-1919, and entered O.C.P. 1919 to await even with a smile his doomed reward.

WILLIAM GEORGE STRACHAN.

"Smile the while."

Born 1894, Scotland. Claimed B.C. as land of adoption at early age. After meteoric career and five years touring France, etc., settled at Pharmacy, 1919-20. Lover of music.

HARRY L. TABOR.

"I shall not rest until all this labour."

Born June 20th, 1897, at Curries, Ont. Matriculated Woodstock Collegiate Institute, 1914. Served three years' apprenticeship with Mr. Frank Hyde, Woodstock, Ont. Enlisted April, 1918 and served six months in Siberia with the 29th Battalion. Discharged June, 1919.

JOHN EDGAR TEETZEL.

"And the work will be done."

Highgate, Ontario, claims this young man as a native son. There he received his education. He heard the old slogan, "Go West," but somehow landed on the Western Front, where he and Fritz had it out. Jack's good nature has won him hosts of friends, who wish him all success.

D'ARCY N. THOMPSON.

"Life and pills are and pills. There is the danger to your life."

Matriculated from Uxbridge High School. A druggist he would be, hence he apprenticed himself in a Toronto drug store. This monotonous life was interrupted by the war. He enlisted was in France three years. Returned in 1919 and entered Pharmacy "Victory Class."

VICTOR GEORGE TOVELL.

"I don't get the night. Forget about the night."

Brought happiness into the home of his parents in Guelph in 1895. Lived, matriculated and served part of his apprenticeship in St. Mary's. Broke the monotony of life for three and a half years in the army. Entered O.C.P. in 1919 with a big prayer.

WILBUR NELSON TOVELL.

"Come what may. I shall not rest."

First saw the light of day in St. Mary's, where he matriculated. First rash act was when he took a position in a drug store, and second and greater was when he kept at it. Spent part of his short career in the care of the army, and now in care of O.C.P.s.

COLLEGE OF PHARMACY

FORREST WRIGHT WALKER.

"A rolling stone gathers no moss—in a rolling bee gathers the honey."

Comes from Vancouver, B.C. Born in Minneapolis, Minn., on June 21st, 1888. Matriculated from King Edward High School in 1915. Early in life determined to become a pill-pounder. Served apprenticeship with several Vancouver firms. Enlisted into R.F.C. in October, 1917, and served with 42nd wing until January, 1919.

GLADYS R. WALTERS.

"The glad girl."

From Niagara Falls. Shes musical, a true friend and a good companion. Chief characteristic—saying the unexpected.

KENNETH EDWARD WARREN.

"A friend in need is a friend indeed."

Hespeler, Ont., claims him as a native. Born April 8th, 1896. Matric at Galt Collegiate Institute. Served overseas during the war in Medical Corps and Air Force. Pharmacy, 1919-1920.

WILLIAM ARTHUR WEBB.

"He who has not his finger in none."

Toronto boy, born 1st. Graduate at Oakwood Collegiate Institute. Served three years and six months in C.E.F. Overseas. Now grappling with intricacies of modern pharmacy.

CHARLES FRED WEEGAR.

"I nose mean to be serious—it is time."

Born Calumet, Que., February, 1893, and soon moved to North Bay, where he attended collegiate and served apprenticeship with A. C. Rornbeck. April, 1916, joined Northern Fusiliers, and after a sojourn in France was again claimed by mortar and pestle, and now hopes to become a real pharmacist.

BRINA WEINROBE.

*"A violet by the massy rose,
Half hidden from the eye,
Fair as a star when only one
Is shining in the sky."*

Brina brings a breath of spring time. How else shall we describe that elusive something in her personality that holds us all enthralled. She came all the way from Vancouver. Like Bonnie Leslie, it has surely been to spread her conquests further.

HAROLD DAVID WEST.

"My human desire—health and happiness."

Saw first dawn March 27th, 1895. Toronto. Matric. Riverdale Collegiate Institute. "Serving time" W. J. Mitchell. Enlisted March, 1917, R.F.C. Flying Officer Independent Air Force. O.C.P., 1919-20.

WILBERT CLARK WHEATON.

"Come let us wash our eyes."

He was born in October of 1895, near the town of St. Mary's, where he received his early education under the policy, "Spare the rod, and spoil the child." He left St. Mary's Collegiate in the spring of 1915, and after spending a summer at home, packed his worldly possessions and travelled to the most southern part of Ontario to spend four years behind the counter of W. H. Wellson's drug store of Leamington.

C. D. McGILVRAY

In selecting a topic around which to express a few thoughts one is prompted at this time to consider the agencies which may influence the development of the profession of which you are about to become members.

To receive due recognition the component parts of a professional education must necessarily serve some useful purpose to the community through those acquiring educational values at instructional institutions. The educational values are in turn noticeably enhanced and improved in proportion to the encouragement and support which they receive.

In Canada the establishment of veterinary colleges is comparatively recent, and the veterinary profession is relatively new. As a result the economic importance and significance of our profession may not as yet be fully understood. It is universally conceded that agriculture is a basic industry, and that live stock is an absolute necessity to successful agricultural development, through tending to maintain soil fertility, and by converting the cheaper materials grown on the farm into higher priced finished food products. In the completion of this process our profession can materially assist by safeguarding live stock interests against depletion through diseases which are preventable, or of such a nature as may be communicable and endanger large numbers.

Not only may veterinary science benefit owners of live stock and those engaged in professional practice, but it should reciprocally benefit the community at large by preserving the economic production and maintenance of live stock interests so as to afford a sufficiently abundant wholesome supply of meats and other animal food products for the use of mankind. The conserving of live stock interests is an important factor in the economic development of a country, which cannot be lightly sacrificed, and therefore becomes of national concern.

The need is also increasing for veterinarians in different phases of public health work, particularly the hygienic production of milk and of meat food products to prevent the transmission of animal diseases communicable to man through unwholesome food supplies. Some measure of professional service, therefore, becomes warranted to maintain a state of health among animals conducive to their well-being, and profitable utilization by mankind.

During the period of reconstruction, of which we are on the threshold, every available factor will be required to establish national prosperity. In your professional relationship to the community you may exert some influence on the transition taking place. May a spirit of renewed service and devotion to duty guide you. Irresponsible living and selfish acquisition must be replaced by a closer application and consciousness of higher ideals and nobler purposes in life. Every young man entering into the profession acts as a force to attract or repel others. If high standards are maintained the better elements are attracted and the undesirable repelled. The measure of a professional man is no longer taken merely on the subjects he has mastered while at college, but rather on his capacity to apply for the benefit of humanity his technical knowledge and skill, and his willingness to render efficient diligent service.

The need of the times calls for leadership. Let the members of the graduating class of 1920 accept their responsibilities with undaunted courage and hopefulness, and may God speed you.

THOMAS E. HUMPHREY.

"His secret, his, and many thoughts."

Born York County. Early life spent in that county, and in attending Port Elgin High School. Entered O. V. C., 1914. Sacrificed 3 years at what he considered more good to his Country than studying. Returned to O. V. C. 1919, to complete course.

ONTARIO VETERINARY COLLEGE

RONALD GRAHAM LAW.

"Palma non sine pulvere."

Born in Kilmarnock, Scotland, 1895. Entered O. V. C. 1914. Enlisted shortly afterwards in the 16th Bn. After rendering a good account of himself "over there" returned to O. V. C. 1917. Vice-President, 1st Year. Member, Students' Administrative Council, Secretary, Y.M.C.A., and President of 3rd Year. Highly respected by all who know him. A clever student and a firm friend.

H. G. McDONALD.

"It is generally safe to judge a man's brains by the action of his tongue."

Born in Antigonish, N.S., on Jan. 29th, 1896. Received his primary education in Public School and later entered St. Francis Xavier's College. Being interested in the Equine species he began his career in the O. V. C. in Oct. 1916.

J. E. NESBITT.

*"A horse! a horse! my kingdom for a horse!"
"Frodo! he belongs to a scoundrel crew!"*

—SHAKES. AND NESBITT.

Nesbitt is out for capital, and Capital Ottawa is his home. Entered O. V. C. '15. Enlisted '16, and returned O. V. C., '18. His hobbies are asking questions, elevating the profession, and patronizing the movies.

GEORGE E. STANLEY.

"Oh, Stanley, oh!"

Birth, early life, and education in London, Eng. Landed under Maple Leaf, 1909. Appeared O. V. C. '14. Enlisted '15, and served 3 years in France, helping keep communication between front line and brigade headquarters. Returned O. V. C., '18. Representative Students' Council and Torontonensis Board. Member, Class Social Committee.

LESLIE E. TURNER.

"Reddy and willu!"

First saw light of day in 1894 in Glasgow, Scotland. Came to Canada and followed farming as an occupation. Decided upon a better profession and entered O. V. C., 1916, and hopes to be known as "Doc." in the near future.

O.V.C. ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION COMMITTEE

R. G. Cowie, Vice-President; A. W. Munson, 2nd Year Representative; D. J. Lawson, 1st Year Representative;
 F. S. Glover, Secretary; Dr. C. D. McGilvray, Honorary President; L. McL. Heath, President

Ontario Veterinary College Athletic Association

The O.V.C.A.A. was reorganized on October 17th, 1919, and the Officers for the year 1919-20 were elected. Every student is a member of the Association. This fact alone exemplifies the spirit of true sport among the veterinary students, which is one of the outstanding features of university life.

Despite the fact that the football season was well advanced when the O.V.C. team, under the captaincy of L. McL. Heath, was organized, a few matches were played this year; and these games proved that, with practice, the "Vets" will be able to render a good account of themselves in this line of sport.

Hockey is another game that the O.V.C. men know how to play; and, with R. G. Cowie as captain, the team did some good work.

The Field Day held at the Varsity Stadium on November 10th, was a great success. Among other features of the afternoon's exhibition of speed, endurance, skill and prowess, was the discus-throwing by R. S. Foster. Earlier in the season he had beaten the U. of T. record at the inter-faculty track meet, and had also won out at Montreal when he represented the Toronto team down there in the discus event. At the O.V.C. Field Day, however, he surpassed himself by throwing the discus 119 feet. He also won the individual championship; while T. J. Coulter and G. G. McDonald gained second and third places respectively.

Boxing is not neglected in this Association. With T. J. Coulter as manager, the boys are getting into good shape; and there is every reason to believe that in the inter-faculty boxing contests of the future veterinary students will be prominent.

With the whole faculty and student body behind the Athletic Association, the O.V.C. should figure largely in the world of sport at the University of Toronto.

This Association under the present constitution was inaugurated in 1910 and its records show that its existence has been attended with great success. Graduates and the students of the senior year constitute its membership. It has for its object the promotion of fraternal feeling, and by scientific intercourse to further the advancement of knowledge, especially that pertaining to veterinary science.

Personal observations during our attendance at college lead us to believe that these traditions have been zealously preserved.

We have been greatly enlightened on many subjects through the medium of the many excellent and varied essays that have been read and so ably defended by its members.

During the fall term a new departure from the usual routine was characterized by some very interesting illustrated lectures and practical demonstrations on Coal Tar products, X-rays, Astronomy, etc., so clearly rendered by Mr. L. B. Jackes, of the senior year.

His cue will be taken up by others and much material of an intellectual and interesting nature may be expected.

All meetings have been well attended by students of the junior years and lively interest has been taken in the discussions that have arisen.

This has also been a means of furthering the fraternal spirit between the different years, as it affords a closer intimacy than that of meeting between periods during the day.

Broad fields lie open for the Association and therefore a very successful future awaits it, which fact is emphasized when one considers the advancement the Veterinary profession has made in recent years, and also with the raising of the standard of the veterinarian, the lengthening of the college course and the numerous new fields coming under the jurisdiction of veterinary science, the future of the Science Association must be assured.

ARTHUR PAGE.

Rejoicing in youth a full man.

Preface—Lothian, Yorks, Eng.
Chapter I—"Infancy to youth in the Old Land."
Chapter II—"Western Hail 1913."
Chapter III—"Studies from Belleville and Ingersoll."
Chapter IV—"On probation in London Conference."
Chapter V—"Applying the polish at Vic."

Extract from the conclusion. "He goes out into this day of opportunity with personality and ability which we prophesy is equal to the occasion."

MAXWELL C. PARR.

*"The world, friendly, loaves many
It is to put its great powers to use."*

Max first saw light on day at Brighton 1893. Received early education at Brighton and in Aylmer Collegiate, entering Victoria in 1918. His cheerful disposition and thoughtful actions made him a friend of all. A good student, but O! how he loved a good show and an exciting ball game.

FRANK SULLIVAN.

And this, gentlemen, is the great Sullivan.

Frank first saw the twinkling of the stars on Ye Olde Countree, and has seen many moons since then.

He sailed the seas, and finally settled "on the Old Ontario Strand," and in 1912 entered the ministry.

He is skilled in the noble art, and has cultivated the fighting strength into his public life.

WILLIAM HENRY SUMMERELL.

"So sweet the blush of brightness."

In Bristol, England, this star was first discovered.

Came again visible in Canada, 1906. Shed its radiance over the Warren Circuit, 1912.

Twinkled in Theology, 1916.
In 1920 it is expected that this star will shine with "splendour untold" over a paragonage somewhere within the confines of the Toronto Conference.

THOMAS GEORGE WILLIAMS.

Wherever he appears—"But a work's a man for a that."

Born in Dorsetshire, Eng. Itinerant in Sask., 1913 to 1919, when he entered Summer Course in Theology at Vic. Absorbed much heady homiletic matter. Unobtrusively, thoughtfully, plays well the game of life with a wholesome sense of humor, and finds his satisfaction in duty, race and show. A preacher of no mean ability.

President, Students' Administrative Council, 1919-20.

WILLIAM JOHN MORGAN.

"Joe the Long-Killer"

The usual course in Wycliffe and three and a half years in the Canadian Signals gave Morgan (native of Piccadilly) a thorough theological training. Excelling in sport as in study, he has won the Track Championship, the Cross Country, and has played Soccer, Rugby, and the fool. He is marked by a quiet mien, a ready wit, and a HEART

MOSES SHOICHI MURAO.

"Every word he speaks is new, every line he reads his own."

From Japan, where he received his preliminary training, "Sho" came to Wycliffe to indulge in Theology. Interested in College life, a careful observer of affairs and a keen student of human nature, we predict for him a position of leadership in Japan in the years to come.

BY PRINCIPAL GANDIER

PRINCIPAL GANDIER

These are days of Forward Movement in all the churches. The war and its aftermath have brought the general conviction that this world needs supremely just what the Church has professed to have and professed to give—the spirit and teachings of Jesus. The bankruptcy of modern civilization, the hopelessness of human history, apart from the Christian propaganda were never so apparent.

In a document addressed to "Our Fellow-citizens of the British Empire," and signed by the Premiers of Britain, Canada, Australia, South Africa, Newfoundland and New Zealand, referring to the period of reconstruction which confronts us, they say: "Even the hope that lies before the world of a life of peace, protected and developed by a League of Nations, is itself dependent on something deeper and more fundamental still. The co-operation which the League of Nations explicitly exists to foster will become operative in so far as the consenting peoples have the spirit of goodwill. And the spirit of goodwill among men rests on spiritual forces, the hope of a "brotherhood of humanity" reposes on the deeper spiritual fact of the "Fatherhood of God." In the recognition of the fact of that Fatherhood and of the Divine purpose for the world, which are central to the message of Christianity, we shall discover the ultimate foundation for the reconstruction of an ordered and harmonious life for all men."

The challenge to the Church to be true to her commission and proclaim His message to the world is loud and clear to-day. We live in a Great Day of the Lord, when the very elements are melting with fervent heat, but when men of faith are looking for new heavens and a new earth wherein dwelleth righteousness.

I congratulate all men who have heard the call of the Church as you have done and are now entering upon their ministry in Canada or in the world field. You will prove yourselves worthy of the Church which has placed her imprimatus upon you, and worthy of Him who has brought you to the kingdom for such a time as this.

The Blue and White

Old Toronto, Mother ever dear,
All thy sons thy very name revere,
Yes, we hail thee, ne'er will fail thee,
But will seek thy glory with our might,
(Yes, we are) ever loyal, faithful, frank and strong.
We will sound thy praises in our song,
Aye, and cheer both loud and long,
The Royal Blue and White.

Soon our college days will all be past,
Duty bids us part from friends at last,
But we'll sever, trusting ever,
Love for Varsity may us unite,
Then we'll serve the Mother of us all,
And the merry days of youth recall,
While, whatever may befall,
We'll flaunt the Blue and White.

Toronto is our University,
Shout, oh shout, men of every faculty,
 Velut arbor aevø,
 May she ever thrive. Oh!
God, forever, bless our Alma Mater.

Women Students' Administrative Council

The Women Students' Administrative Council is the only official organ of all University women. This body consists of an executive made up of the head of each college and the women's president of the Faculty of Medicine, a Council representative of each college and faculty, and an Advisory Board composed of the Dean of Queen's Hall, the heads of the University College and Victoria Unions, the Dean of St. Hilda's, and an Alumnae representative from St. Michael's.

Until this year the field of work has been very limited owing to the fact that the organization has no means of raising finances like the corresponding men's organization. At the close of last year the Senate granted a petition from the women of the University that they should pay the same compulsory Council fee as the men. This allowed the women to share joint financial responsibility with the men in the publication of the Varsity, Torontonensis and the Students' Directory.

An agreement between the men and women provides for a Joint Executive, through whose hands must pass all matters affecting both Councils. All revenue derived from the Council fees, Varsity, Torontonensis, and the Students' Directory is administered by the Joint Executive. At the end of each year all surplus money is divided proportionately between the two Councils.

This year, for the first time, a salary is paid to the Women's Editor-in-Chief and the Women's Managing Editor of the Varsity.

Last fall the Women's Council appointed a General Secretary-Treasurer, whose salary is paid out of the joint funds. Her duties are—to co-operate with the Women's Editor of the Varsity, to co-ordinate intercollegiate activities, and to organize a bureau through which matters of import to all University women may be administered. She registers undergraduates for summer work and makes investigations as to openings in various fields.

The University War Memorial Campaign was carried on during the fall term, and under the direction of the Council $974 was collected from the women students.

Through the courtesy of the Athletic Directorate the Council was given tickets for centre sections at the intercollegiate Rugby and Hockey games, which were sold among the women. That this consideration was unmistakably appreciated was evidenced by the solid block of women which appeared to cheer on the Varsity teams. Undoubtedly this innovation has given a great "boost" to Varsity spirit among the women.

The Vocational Conference inaugurated last year by the United Alumnae was this year undertaken by the Women's Council. A Graduate Committee, with the Council Secretary as convener, conducted the Conference. The sessions were well attended and expert speakers gave valuable information regarding the fields open for women.

The representative nature of the Women's Council is a great unifying force among all the women of the University, and the co-operation with the men in the affairs of the Joint Executive has broadened and deepened that catholic spirit which is so vital a part of the life of any true university.

The Women's Press Association of the University

President.....Miss E. R. Cringan
Vice-President.....Miss M. E. Thornton
Secretary-Treasurer.....Miss Agatha Leonard
Undergraduate Councillor.....Miss H. J. Dewey

The distinction of being the most recently organized club among the student body of the University can be claimed by the Women's Press Association. Unlike the goddess, Minerva, who might very fitly become the patron deity of such an organization, the club has not sprung into being, full-armed, but for some time past the need of such an organization to help the women on the staffs of the various papers, has been recognized. In the year 1918-1919 the idea first gained root among some of the Varsity staff, and from there it was propagated among the other women interested in journalism. After some discussion the idea was shown to be feasible, with the result that on December 6, 1919, a meeting was called of the women on the staffs of the Varsity, the Rebel, Aeta Victoriana, St. Hilda's Chronicle, St. Joseph's Lilies and Loretto Rainbows, and at that meeting a constitution was adopted and the executive appointed of the Women's Press Association of the University of Toronto. Those eligible for membership are undergraduates on the staffs of all the University publications and graduates within four years of leaving college.

The aim of the organization is to encourage attempts at literary production by a spirit of friendly criticism. This is effected by bi-monthly meetings which generally consist of original writings by some members or an address by a fellow-journalist of some renown, working in a more enlarged sphere. As to the ultimate success of the club it would be premature to speak, but the enthusiasm displayed in this its inaugural year predicts a final realization of its aims. The future lies yet in the clouds, but to those on the threshold it looms big with possibilities.

The University of Toronto Y.M.C.A.

BY

W. R. SALTER, B.A.

The present year is a memorable one in the history of the Association. It is noteworthy, among other reasons, because of the opening of Hart House, and the transfer of the Association's offices to the quarters provided in the South Wing. The old building, erected in 1885-6 with funds raised through the efforts of Ralph Connor, Professor Young, of Trinity, and a group of their fellow-students, was the first building of its kind to be devoted to the work of a Collegiate Association, and for thirty-three years served as the physical centre of the many activities carried on by the various College Associations.

It is, indeed, fortunate that the transition of the Association to Hart House has been contemporaneous with the influx of students for the first "after-the-war" session. The Y.M.C.A. is enabled to be of larger usefulness at a time when unique opportunities are presented. From among the returned men have come many of mature thought, of sincere conviction, of quiet enthusiasm, who have identified themselves with the Student Christian Movement. With the support of these men, the Association is immensely strengthened for the new era in University life that has come with the return of peace.

In the form of organization, the University Y.M.C.A. is, like the University itself, a federation. In it are comprised seven distinct associations, operating locally among the men of the faculties of Medicine, Science and Education and of University, Victoria, Dental and Veterinary Colleges. These local associations, each with its own executive, co-operate through the Federal Cabinet in matters touching the common interest.

The primary object of the association is to unite students in the sincere and fearless search for the Will of God as revealed in the life and teachings of the Man who most perfectly realized it. This inquiry is not included in the curriculum of a State University, and it is the aim of the association to offer this opportunity through small congenial, informal study groups, seeking to bring to bear upon the larger problems of life that spirit "which so loves truth, that it neither dares rest in doubting, nor extinguish itself by unjustified belief."

The activities of the association seek to give practical expression to the spirit of friendship and service which such study inevitably stimulates. Thus, the student, when he comes to the University in the autumn, is given a handbook prepared with a view to its usefulness among the men of his Faculty; he is aided in the selection of a suitable rooming-house; through the Book Exchange he is enabled to dispose of text-books which he does not require and to purchase used books at moderate prices; if he is a freshman, he is invited to a reception where he may meet his classmates. The association seeks also to carry this friendly spirit of campus service out beyond the University into community service. By working through the established social agencies in the city the University Association introduces students into such activities as the teaching of English to foreigners; the leadership of boys' clubs; assisting at noon-hour "sing-songs" among factory workers; entertaining at the Settlements, at the Military Hospitals, and so forth. Such activities as these, while not great contributions in themselves, serve to bring university men into something more than academic contact with the human side of social and industrial life.

Through the Student Volunteer Movement the Association seeks to carry the spirit of service still further afield, by presenting the claims of the foreign field as a life work. This being the year of the quadrennial Student Volunteer Convention, over a hundred student and faculty delegates represented the University of Toronto at Des Moines, where over six thousand Canadian and American students assembled to hear presented the needs and problems of the non-Christian countries, as they exist at the close of the world war, and to face the call which that situation makes upon student service and leadership. The Canadian delegates assembled in Des Moines a day ahead of the convention, and for the first time in their history students from every university and college in Canada met in a national conference. The discussions of this conference indicated that student sentiment is strongly in favor of transition from the present status of a department of the Y.M.C.A. to a distinctive Canadian Student Christian Movement.

Under the capable leadership of its president, Miss Lorena Richardson, the Anglican Club of U. of T. entered upon a "Forward Movement" of its own.

At the beginning of the year energetic efforts were made to increase the membership of the club with very gratifying results. An endeavour was made to have all the faculties of the university represented, with the result that members are enrolled from U.C., Vic., St. Mike's, St. Hilda's, F.O.E.

A new experiment has been tried this year in making the meetings monthly instead of bi-monthly. Besides meetings at the Deaconess' House, club gatherings have been held at the Union, at the home of Mrs. Hallam, and at St. Hilda's. Meetings have been addressed by Dr. Taylor, Miss Cartwright, Miss Thomas and other leaders in Anglican work.

The aims of the Anglican Club were early emphasized: Fellowship among the Anglican women of the various faculties of the university with a view to mutual helpfulness; knowledge of the work and workers of the Anglican Church in Toronto, with a view to helping on that work. In the working out of the first of these aims a Bible class was formed which met Sunday afternoon in St. Paul's Parish Hall under the competent leadership of Miss J. Thomas, M.A. In connection with the second aim the club has lent a helping hand with the work of the Forward Movement, has made medical supplies for the Deaconess House, has contributed small donations to that institution, and every week some members have faithfully helped in the regular work there.

Nor has the social end of the club been neglected. In the fall a hike out to the Humber was greatly enjoyed by the members of the club and their theolog guests. The plans of the club at the close of 1919 included a visit to the Nathaniel Institute, skating parties, and a reception for Anglican men and women.

The University Veterans' Association of Toronto

As early as 1916 soldier-students who had been wounded or otherwise rendered unfit for further service overseas, began to dribble back to the University and continue their interrupted studies. At first they came in small numbers, but as the war dragged on, these became larger, until in January, 1918, when the spring term commenced, about 300 veterans had returned to the University.

As was natural these men who had faced together danger and death, desired to form some kind of an association which would serve to cement the ties of friendship that had sprung up between them, and which would also tend to keep forever green the memories of those hundreds of their comrades who had given up their lives for the sacred cause. Consequently it was that in February, 1919 the University Veterans' Association was formed. The membership of the Association was limited to those who had seen voluntary service in an actual theatre of war. Its objects were set as being first of all to provide a social meeting place for former comrades-in-arms, and second to take care of the interests of returned soldier-students.

Since organization of the association the Executive has been very active in bringing pressure to bear on the Government to provide assistance for soldier-students similar to that which has been extended to students in Great Britain and Australia. Lobbying in the House of Commons was carried on during the greater part of the summer and also during the month of October. A publicity campaign was conducted and extensive correspondence was being carried on with the Members of the Government. The results of this work were not being as great as was hoped for, but the offer of the Government to loan $500 without interest to needy soldier-students was undoubtedly largely due to the efforts of the association. As a result of the association's action in pointing out to the Alumni Memorial Committee the financial need which existed among soldier-students in the University loans were made available from the Memorial Fund as well.

During the 1919-20 year three dances were given by the association, two of which were informal and one formal. The formal At-Home, held at the King Edward Hotel, had an attendance of over 800, and was probably the largest Varsity dance ever given. The informal dances were also largely attended and thoroughly enjoyed.

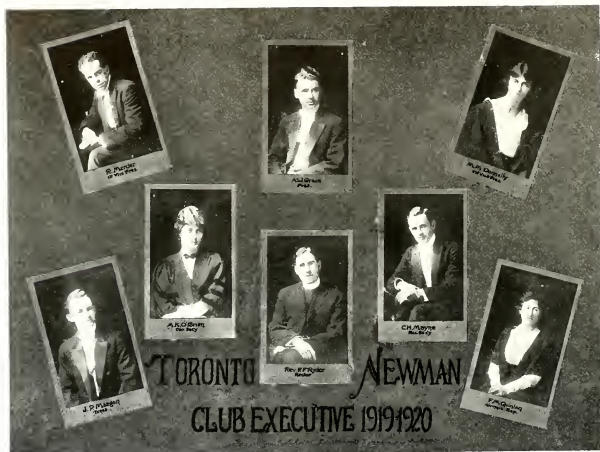

The war play was a delight to all who saw it. It was originally intended for the private view of the members of the association only, but so successful was the private presentation that public performances were given, and capacity audiences enjoyed them for several evenings.

Many members of the association have expressed the hope that the organization may outlive the years during which returned soldiers will be present in numbers at the University. A double bond of union exists between those who have both studied and fought together. It may be that in the coming years the University Veterans' Association of Toronto will blossom forth in new garb—a club of veteran graduates rather than an association of veteran students.

Athletics

The Academic Year 1919-20 will be memorable for the revival of Intercollegiate Athletics after an interregnum of four years of war. It was inevitable that the year should be one of reorganization and, to a certain extent, experiment. The loss of so many of our finest athletes during the war, the majority of whom would have been the senior men to carry on Varsity traditions from year to year, meant that new conditions would have to be faced. It meant that a whole generation of university life had come and gone since athletics were suspended at the close of the session of 1914-15. Taking all these facts into consideration, the results of this year can be looked upon with satisfaction and great encouragement for the years to come.

One feature that may be considered to have made our work additionally difficult this year is the fact that nearly all the intercollegiate contests were away from home and our contestants did not have the advantage of familiarity with the grounds, nor of home conditions.

The fact that so many of the members of our teams are freshmen augurs well for the future, for the experience that they have gained this year will stand them in good stead during the rest of their course.

Rugby

The Rugby Club commenced its activities on the 15th September and a large amount of material turned out to endeavour to make one of the University teams. We were fortunate in securing the services of W. C. Foulds, B.A.Sc., as honorary coach, a Varsity man and Rugby player of prominence, and one who had been a member of the Intercollegiate and Dominion Championship teams of 1909-10, 1910-11. With a mass of raw material Mr. Foulds did wonderful work in moulding a team, which, while defeated for the final honours, did credit to itself and the University. For the first part of the season Mr. W. T. Holmes, President of the Rugby Club, acted as captain, and then, before the Queen's game, Mr. J. M. Breen was elected captain of the senior team for the rest of the year. The Intercollegiate Championship for the Yates Cup was won by McGill, who defeated Varsity both in Montreal and Toronto. On the other hand, Varsity Seconds won the Intermediate Championship under the captaincy of Mr. L. M. Murray and beat McGill decisively, both in Montreal and Toronto, thus turning the tables on their adversary. The Junior Intercollegiate Championship was won by O. A. C., who defeated Varsity in home and home games. The same team that won the Junior Championship represented O. A. C. in the Mulock Cup, where they were in turn defeated by Junior Meds, by the score of 11 to 6 in a strenuous game at the Stadium. In the Mulock Cup series there were sixteen teams entered, the group winners being O. A. C., Junior Meds., Junior Dents and Trinity.

Soccer

A large number of men turned out for the Intercollegiate and Interfaculty teams. In the Intercollegiate Varsity won the championship by defeating Queen's in both games. In the Interfaculty series six teams were entered, the Dental team winning the championship.

Tennis

The Varsity team was one of the strongest that has represented the University in intercollegiate tournaments. This annual event was to have been at Queen's, but stormy weather rendered the courts impossible, and as it was necessary to get the events played without delay, a transfer was made to the covered courts at Montreal. Varsity won the championship.

Athletics—Continued

Track Athletics

There was a large turnout of material at the beginning of the term and the Interfaculty Meet on October 17th drew the largest attendance that has been seen in years. The competitors were well distributed through the faculties, and several long-standing records were broken. S. P. S. took the first place with 31 points, Meds. following with 27 and University College with 18. K. L. Carruthers, S.P.S.; R. S. Foster, of Vets.; Joe Breen, of S.P.S., and Rod Smylie, of Meds., were the outstanding athletes and carried off most of the points. Carruthers lowered the record for the 120-yard hurdle (established in 1909 by L. A. Wright) by three-fifths seconds, getting a new record of 16-3 5 seconds. Foster beat the record for throwing the discus established in 1907 by A. D. MacKay, the previous record being 109 ft. 3 in., while Foster's record was 112 ft. 9in. In the Intercollegiate McGill won the championship, making a clean sweep of the track events, although in the field events Varsity and Queen's were easily the best. No records were broken, but Foster came within one inch of the Intercollegiate discus record.

Harrier

As usual a large number of students turned out to train for the Harrier Meet, and 43 undergraduates lined up for the Interfaculty contest. The Brotherton Cup was won by Trinity College, whose team of four men were the first to finish. They were closely followed by St. Michael's, Trinity H., S.P.S., Wycliffe, G. F. Leigh, of Wycliffe gaining first place in 36 min. 17 sec. The following week the Intercollegiate Meet was held in Montreal with 16 men representing Queen's, R.M.C., Varsity and McGill. The course was five and a half miles and departed from the rules and custom by being largely over city streets. McGill won by two points, winning 1st, 3rd and 7th places; while Leigh and Bell, of Toronto, won 2nd and 4th places respectively.

Hockey

In the Senior Series McGill and Varsity won their home-and-home games, and a play-off was ordered in Ottawa. This took place on March 5th, when Varsity won by a score of 5 to 4, the Senior Intercollegiate Championship. They are thus qualified to enter the Allan Cup series.

In the Intermediate series Varsity won the western group and met R.M.C., the winners of the eastern group in the finals. R.M.C. won the championship by defeating Varsity in both games.

In the Junior series Varsity III's met Queen's III's, the winners of the eastern division, in home-and-home games. The score was tied at the end of the third period and the championship won by Varsity in ten minutes overtime. Score 10 to 9 on the round. Queen's protested the game, which was ordered to be replayed on the 14th March, at Trenton. Varsity won the game by a score of 4 to 2 and the Intercollegiate Championship.

Basketball

In the Senior series Varsity and McGill tied and a play-off in Ottawa was ordered on the same day as the hockey decision. Varsity won the game and the Intercollegiate championship by a score of 30 to 23.

Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing

Varsity won the Intercollegiate Championship in Kingston on March 6th and 7th, winning seven events in the finals, namely the 115, 125 and the heavyweight boxing; the 115, 125 and 135 wrestling and the fencing.

Swimming

The Varsity team won the Swimming Championship by defeating McGill 36 points to 32. McGill in turn won the Water Polo by defeating Varsity in both games in Montreal and Toronto.

“ Toronto ” or the Pride of the North

Where smiles the lake 'neath a sky ever blue,
Where blooms the maple tree,
There stands Toronto, the Pride of the North,
And her children all are we,
Yes, we are from Toronto,
Our Alma Mater, our mother dear;
And proudly now we sing her praises,
That all may know that her sons are near.

Up with the Blue and the White! let them wave
High o'er the old gray Tower; Forth from its portals have stepped in their might
This Dominion's men of power.
Yes,—they come from Toronto,
Our noble statesmen, our soldiers true;
And fondly each one hails the mem'ry
Of that dear spot 'neath the White and Blue.

All hail to thee, Toronto!
Proud Mistress of the North!
With heart and voice we praise thee,
As we go marching forth.

The Value of Education in Business

THE day of the apprentice has virtually passed away. The day of specialists has dawned.

The average youth, aspiring to enter the business world to-day, asks himself not "To what master craftsman shall I bind myself?" but rather, "To which school shall I go to fit myself by study?"

The value of education in business and the promotion of a proper realization of its worth rests in large measure with the individuals who undertake to demonstrate its benefits. It is that education which enhances natural gifts and inspires to achievement by the confidence of the possession of accurate information that is most highly prized in commercial life. Mere accumulation of facts and knowledge on a wide range of subjects is of little value in the business world. It is the trained intellect coupled with the ability to act that commends itself to the employer. A wide-awake schoolboy with a modicum of learning but an abundance of energy is a more likely employee, from the point of view of the big business man, than the slow-moving pedant. Education, to be considered valuable in business, must prove itself as an aid to efficiency and as a means of getting big tasks accomplished with accuracy and despatch.

The value of education in business is being demonstrated daily in innumerable ways but never in any place dis-associated from personality. That fact cannot be too strongly emphasized. When the youth chooses a course in preparation for business life, he should do so only after careful consideration of the possibilities it offers him of personal development. A trained automaton is of little value; an educated personality is an asset to a business. The ability to undertake responsibility, the initiative to tackle big problems and make important decisions, the power to do successfully and quickly the task that presents itself these are expected as a matter of course from the educated man in business. In so far as he can demonstrate that education enables him, because of his superior personal development, to fulfil these requirements more ably than the man who has grown with the business, thus far does he show the value of education as a force in business.

The man of education who contemplates entering commercial life has, therefore, no mean responsibility. Education is of great value in business. Yet the fact must not be overlooked that scores of men who have not had the advantage of University education have risen to a high position in the commercial world. The burden which falls upon the college man is that of demonstrating his worth and the value of a trained mind and a developed personality.

"GUARANTEED OF COURSE"

That's our slogan --- the policy of our house --- to sell no watch that is unworthy of our guarantee.

We have watches as low as $10.00, and as high as $3,000.00 each, but no watch leaves our house that we cannot confidently guarantee.

Diamonds and Watches are two of the things that we do know through and through. : : :

AGAIN WE SAY
"Guaranteed, Of Course"
